

Journal of the House

NINETY-FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the
STATE OF MISSOURI
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 3, 2001

The House was called to order at twelve o'clock noon by the Honorable Rebecca McDowell Cook, Secretary of State.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God, You are law and love, justice and mercy, thought and action. Assemble this august House. A new legislative session begins today. In Your plan, these men and women have been called to represent the diverse citizens of our noble state. Many thoughts, desires, and emotions fill this Chamber today - anticipation and apprehension, delight and reservation, joy and fear, plans and ideas. As they pray for even more compelling leadership skills to carry out their mission, fill them with inventive wisdom and enterprising effectiveness to carry them through the inevitable disagreements. Let their deliberations craft material and spiritual increase for all. With You they begin. In You may they gain their true objectives. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

ADDRESS BY SECRETARY OF STATE BEKKI COOK

It is my honor to welcome you today as we open a new session of the House of Representatives and begin the 91st Missouri General Assembly.

I would like to extend a special welcome to the families of the members being sworn in today. I know all of you are very proud – as well you should be.

You should also be honored. Each member here today has been elected to represent 32,000 Missourians. That is not only a great honor but also a tremendous responsibility – and a wonderful opportunity. I hope each of you makes the most of this opportunity to serve.

This body is made up of 163 different men and women -- of all ages, from all professions, religious denominations, family and economic backgrounds. You come from all parts of the state with the responsibility to represent all the people in your districts.

This diversity can lead to disagreements and conflict over issues. But those differences and conflicts are eventually overshadowed by the realization that each of you has shared the honor of being elected by the people.

Ultimately, diversity makes this House a stronger body and makes your decisions more reflective of Missouri values.

The oath you are about to take from Chief Justice Price will place you in a select group. With the new members being sworn in today for the first time, there will have been six thousand five hundred and two men and women who have served in the House of Representatives since Missouri became a state in 1821.

That's pretty impressive.

But before you start thinking about how important you are because of your membership in the Missouri House club, keep in mind that any importance you have comes from the office you hold.

You hold a very important office. When you represent your district well and respect the views of your colleagues, you honor the importance of your office. And you honor the traditions of this great institution.

Congratulations and good luck. May God be with each of you as you work together to improve the lives of Missouri families.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the 91st General Assembly, First Regular Session, of the State of Missouri:

In compliance with Section 115.525, Revised Statutes of Missouri 1994, I have the honor to lay before you herewith a list of the names of the members of the House of Representatives for the 91st General Assembly (First Regular Session) of the State of Missouri, elected at the General Election held on the 7th day of November, 2000.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and affix the official seal of my office this 2nd day of January, 2001.

/s/ Rebecca McDowell Cook

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER JIM KREIDER

Thank you...honored guests, fellow colleagues, ladies and gentleman...

Like all good representatives, I would like to start off on the right foot by first recognizing the importance of home...

Please give a warm welcome to my family: My lovely bride of 24 years, Debbie, and my daughters, Lacey and Neeley...who couldn't be with us today.

And let's give all our families and constituents across this state a sincere round of applause for making this job worth doing!

For those of you who don't know -- I'm Jim Kreider...from Christian County, still the fastest growing county in the state of Missouri.

I am truly humbled by the honor of serving as Speaker of the House of Representatives...The House of the people of the great state of Missouri.

As I see it, the job of Speaker, contrary to the title, is the job of a listener. It is a job of one who hears the voices of the people through you -- the members of this body.

In my opinion, the Speaker is someone who helps you lift up the collective hopes, dreams, and aspirations of our citizens... and provides their families and children with an opportunity to make those dreams a reality.

As public servants, we are each charged with a tremendous responsibility -- the responsibility of representing the best interests of nearly thirty-five thousand Missourians...each

With all those diverse viewpoints, it's easy for the average Missourian to feel as if their voice is falling on deaf ears...It is our responsibility to see to it that this doesn't happen.

It is not necessarily those with the loudest voice that have the greatest need.
...Often, the softest voice is the one that should guide our actions.

It's the voice of our children...It's the voice of our seniors... It's the voice of our working families...
And to all of these people, I am here today to say, "we hear you"...

To the teachers who have been asked to do more with less pay -- we hear you...

To the students in overcrowded classrooms, receiving less than a quality education.

To the thousands of senior citizens who face a decision between putting food on the table and getting the prescription medications that could help them live longer, healthier lives -- we hear you.

To the business owners, farmers, workers and families whose livelihood and safety are threatened by an aging and outdated transportation system -- we hear you.

And most importantly, to the people of Missouri, who are tired of partisan bickering, gridlock and tear-down politics -- we hear you...loud and clear.

You, the citizens of Missouri, have done your part...you have elected us to represent you -- now it is our turn to make sure your voices are heard...

It is a new session...a new beginning...with new expectations...but old responsibilities...

Over the next 2 years, we must remember to preserve the integrity of the legislative process.

We must remember to treat each other with respect, whether you're a newly elected member or serving your last term.

And we must remember to honor the traditions set forth by this body over the past 180 years.

To do otherwise would mean betraying the trust of those who bestowed upon us the privilege to serve.

If we can work together and find common ground while listening to the voices of those we were elected to serve, then the next two years will be successful regardless of how many new laws are passed.

As your Speaker, I extend my hand to every duly elected representative on both sides of the aisle...

Each of you deserves the opportunity to have the voices of your constituents heard...

And as long as we can focus our efforts on carrying out the will of the people of our state, the Missouri House of Representatives will continue to be "The House of the People".

And their will, will remain the supreme law.

Thank You...Now let's get to work.

The Chair ruled that Representative Abel was elected Speaker Pro Tem of the House.

The following committee was appointed to escort Representative Abel to the dais: Representatives Selby, McKenna, Wagner, Hollingsworth, Ward, Johnson (90), Ross, Black, Surface and Richardson.

Representative Abel subscribed to the oath of office which was administered by Judge Dennis Kehm, Circuit Judge of the 23rd Judicial Circuit in Hillsboro, Missouri.

Speaker Pro Tem Abel assumed the Chair.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER PRO TEM MARK ABEL

Thank you very much for the honor you have bestowed upon me today to serve as an officer of your House of Representatives.

I also want to thank Judge Dennis Kehm for swearing me in. Judge Kehm is a leader in our state in the area of juvenile justice. He is committed to turning around the lives of those young people who come before him. I thank him as a judge and friend.

Missouri government looks much like our national government. Those who formed our republic created the three branches of government. Within the legislative branch is a body that is closest to those who give their consent to be governed. That is the House of Representatives...the people's house. We are closest to those we represent...and we ask for their votes more often.

We are the legislators most accountable to the people...and this year they put their trust and confidence in us to represent them in this...the greatest body.

Today, I have taken two oaths. In order to take the first, I had to stand for and win election. To accomplish that, you know it takes a lot of people helping along the way. I am lucky to have some of those people here with me today. I have my very good friends and members of my family who have worked for me without hesitation. I would like to recognize them for all they have done.

I particularly want to recognize the person who has stood by me, defended me, and has agreed to share me with you and my constituents, my wife and best friend Cheryl.

The second oath I have just taken is as an officer of this house. For that...you must stand for election among your colleagues. I want to thank my democratic caucus for its nomination and all of the members for your support. I will work hard to be worthy of this honor.

I would also like to recognize those who will be working with you during this session, my good friend and boss, Dona Towne and my new administrative assistant, Sarah Madden. All of us will help you whenever and however we can.

My first obligation is to those who have sent me here from that beautiful place along the Mississippi River...Jefferson County. I'm sure my constituents are like yours. They want an education system that will give their children the skills and knowledge that they need to be good and productive citizens; universities and colleges that will provide the opportunity to reach whatever heights they wish to attain.

They want to feel safe in their homes and on their streets. They want safe roads to drive on...so when they go to bed...their young drivers are as safe as possible.

They want to see a doctor when they are sick...and have access to our great medical facilities without depleting their bank accounts.

Our seniors and disabled want the medicine they need...and not at the expense of meals or heat or rent. They also want a life of dignity...that means being able to live independently as long as possible.

My constituents want jobs for themselves and for others to foster a growing economy for generations to follow. And...they want to be left to make their own decisions about their lives.

I could go on about the wants and needs of our neighbors, our friends and our families. They are concerned, and they share their hard earned money with us so that we can do those things that we need to do. But they expect us to spend their money like it is our own...wisely and efficiently.

My second obligation is to all of you. That means I have to look at the state as a whole. The diversity in this chamber makes us look like a snapshot of all Missouri...and therein lies our strength. Your constituents' needs are also important to me.

We must revitalize our urban centers, provide more opportunities for those left behind, maintain our rural heritage and way of life, keep alive the agricultural communities, and help the new growth areas of our state.

I was born in a small town where I still live. I have been neighbors with farmers, seen my family go to the factory to work each day, watched the growing pains of my county and realized the importance of the city to the north on which many depended for their livelihood.

I will work with each one of you here to make this state all it can be. I will try to be fair...but when I am in this chair I want us to work. We should provide for full and open debate on every issue, but we should keep in mind that we have much to do and so little time to do it. Time not well used is time that is depriving our constituents of those things that they expect us to accomplish.

We are political people...that will not change. But most of those we represent are not...never forget that they come first.

My father suffered a massive stroke nearly six years ago. I wish he were here today. He'd be proud. But he has lost his ability to speak...and his ability to think normally is gone. There came a point where things needed to be done on his behalf that he could not do himself, so I received the power of attorney for my father.

He has placed his trust in me to speak for him and to make decisions on his behalf for his well-being. All of those decisions may not have been right, or what he would have done himself. But I have done everything the way I feel he would have wanted it done and in the way that will make life better for him. I do that for him because I love him and respect him.

We have much of that same authority granted to us by our constituents. I try and take that same responsibility in this job...to do for the people what I think they will want me to do and what will make their lives better. I try and never forget who sent me here and what they expect from me.

And I will not forget who put me in this position and what you expect from me.

Thank you.

Speaker Kreider resumed the Chair.

Bills Returned from the Senate.

Rule 59. No bill may be further amended without placing the bill in conference, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order in the house of origin when the bill is taken up for final passage as amended by the other house. The perfecting amendment may be directed to the bill or to amendments to the bill. If a perfecting amendment is adopted, the bill as finally passed with the perfecting amendment shall be returned to the other house for its concurrence in the perfecting amendment.

Rule 60. (a) Signatures on a Conference Report. All conference committees shall be composed of five (5) conferees from each house and no conference report shall be submitted to either house unless approved by a majority vote of the full committee with not less than two (2) conferees from each house signing the report.

(b) Review for Correctness. Before a conference report is taken up by the House, it shall be reviewed for the technical correctness of the report and of any amendments, bill or substitute the report recommends for passage by the House.

(c) Notice Requirements. No conference committee report shall be taken up and considered unless the same has been distributed to the members at least one legislative day prior to its consideration; except after the first Wednesday following the second Monday in May, no conference committee report shall be taken up and considered unless same has been distributed to the members at least two hours before consideration in the House.

(d) Exceeding the Differences. Unless authority is granted by the House to exceed the differences, the conferees must confine themselves to matters that are within the scope of the difference between the House position and the Senate position. When a report is offered for adoption, the point of order that the conferees have exceeded the difference shall be in order. The Speaker may rule on the point of order or may place the question of whether the conferees have exceeded the differences before the House for a vote. A majority of members voting prevails on the question.

(b) Senate Consent Bills. A Senate Bill passed by the Senate pursuant to its procedure for consent bills shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee to which it was referred without further request but such bills may be amended in the House committee. However, any bill that is of a controversial nature or increases expenditures of the state or reduces revenue of the state shall not be considered by the committee for consent. The committee, after a favorable vote on the bill, may by a second and affirmative vote of every member present, request said bill be placed on the "Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage—Consent Calendar."

(c) Senate Consent Bills—Objections. Senate bills passed out of the House committee with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage—Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of Rule 48.

Rule 66. If a Senate Bill be reported from the committee to which referred with the recommendation that it "do not pass" it shall not go upon the calendar of the House for third reading and final passage, unless so ordered by a constitutional majority of the House. In such case, the motion to place the bill on the calendar shall be made within three legislative days of the report, and by a member who has been requested by the Senate sponsor of the bill.

It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. If the motion is sustained, the proponent of the matter under consideration shall be allowed one minute in which to make a closing statement before the House votes on the question. The proponent shall not be allowed to make a closing statement after the first Monday in May. A failure to sustain the motion shall not take the matter under consideration from further consideration of the House; but the House shall proceed as if the motion had not been made.

Rule 82. A constitutional majority is required to sustain any motion to reconsider. If the motion to reconsider is sustained the House shall proceed to the original question or motion immediately before proceeding to other business. Rule 94. In all cases where a rule of the House of Representatives refers to the "calling of the names of the members" or "calling of the ayes and noes" or "calling of the roll", such reference shall be understood to refer also to the "taking" of the vote by electric roll call system. SECOND DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 2001

Gracious God, we stand to join our hearts in prayer as we acknowledge our great need of Your guidance.

You know the clamor of voices in the ears of these men and women of the House. They face daily those seeking to exert influence upon them. Some seek to influence them for the good, others for narrow self-serving causes.

Grant to these called by our people, Your guidance and the gift of patience as they serve the interests of the people of Missouri, and to You be glory and honor. Amen.

VACANCIES: 001

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Roger Wilson. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he addressed the members of the Joint Session.

I am going to have fun this morning. Whether you do or not is your business. I want to thank you. I want to thank everybody for the 24 wonderful years of public trust. It has been unbelievable. Let me assure you that nothing ever changes--I got 4 requests for appointments just on my way up the aisle.

To Governor-elect and our statewide office holders, it is a pleasure to be here with you. For all of us, our families -- yours and mine and our supporters, our friends and constituents -- this is an amazing thing that we get to do. It is just wonderful. My apologies for my family -- each of them had an assigned duty today and are not able to be here, but we have already talked about it and I received some adequate coaching on this presentation, so I hope it goes well. I also want to thank the people of the State of Missouri who are an amazing group. I have never seen strength exhibited like I did during the Flood of '93 or in the recent tragedy. There are a lot of people who make our job easier. I am going to list some and I am going to miss some and I really apologize. This is a neat environment and for all you new legislators, welcome. It will be a great experience and I think you will find my words are true -- you are going to enjoy your personal staff. They will keep more hidden from you than you ever realized. I appreciate everybody in this Capitol -- the maintenance people that make sure you and I have a beautiful place to come to work everyday. Those that work hard and pay their taxes, educate our kids and take care of our mentally ill; the Capitol Police, the Print Shop, the people in the cafeteria, House and Senate and Legislative Research that we rely on so much; the Senior Staff of both Houses and in the Governor's Office; Enrolling and Engraving; and our Doorkeepers, Chief Clerk, Secretary of the Senate, Senate Administration -- they really keep us glued together and make us look better than we deserve together. You know it and I know it.

Everybody is special, but we have a group that is assembled for a special reason -- the Governor's Youth Leadership Conference. They are seated right up here. I would ask that you recognize them. I would ask that they stand. Take a good look because when we are sitting on a nursing home porch in our rockers, they will be running this state. They are going to take great care of us.

I want to thank the press and I know you think I am just sucking up to you for a future run but that is not the case. I do want to thank them because information is golden, it really is and you know that we can talk about disinformation or bad information, but everybody can share a little guilt, but I especially want to thank them for the decorum that they exhibited during the funeral of Governor Carnahan. We dealt with them and they were perfect. They did a wonderful job and I wish you would thank them for that. They are mad at me this morning because they asked for a copy of the speech and John Robinson had to finally tell them, "well Roger hasn't finished writing it yet, so you don't get it". That is the only reason you don't have one.

I love the House and the Senate. I somewhat regret the fact that I didn't get to serve in the House because I certainly enjoyed enough of its raucous humor. A lot of it was at my expense, but I certainly enjoyed it and there is this energy over here that is amazing to watch and it is different from the Senate. I have had some wonderful friends in the House and I thank you so much for your friendship. I also appreciate the tough decisions that you have had to fight your way through and yes you will get some more this year. I regret that. I wish some of these things I or all of us collectively could have taken care of. Governor-Elect Holden has my best wishes and he will have my support. I will say it right now -- Bob Holden deserves everybody's support regardless of party lines. President George Bush deserves everybody's support regardless of party lines. We have got too much at stake whether it is opportunity or a threat to risk letting something important fall through the cracks because of a lack of civility or a mistaken importance of either pride or power. I hope that this General Assembly and this Governor will be able to work very well together.

For you young legislators, I have some warnings -- the minute you see a senior legislator stand up and start to tell about a conference committee that they were on about 20 years ago and get ready to quote, and every member of the conference committee is deceased -- just put your seatbelt on. You might want to revamp your approach if you get a consent bill killed. One of my favorite lines uttered in the Missouri Senate was "Senator, I will never lie to you on the floor". And another of my favorite lines was uttered by Senator Henry Melton. Senator Melton had worked and worked on a Social Services Bill to get it amended. He still didn't like it and probably wasn't going to vote for it. The sponsor who had suffered all of the amendments, finally said, "Senator isn't that good enough?" and he shrugged and said "bad breath is better than no breath at all".

You are going to suffer some embarrassments. That is why you are here, so just get used to it. This is a fishbowl. You are in the public eye and none of us are perfect. Let me share a couple of my embarrassing moments. One happened not too many years ago. I was down at the Capitol Plaza Hotel and I noticed several House members in the audience. So I started naming a few and I thought 'oh this is going to be kind of bad'. I got about 8 or 10 named and I said now have I missed anybody. About 18 hands went up. You can weather that stuff, as long as you have a sense of humor, you can stand your own frailties and I encourage you to think about that.

On government, I've always looked at it in a couple of ways, but one that's never changed is that we have some producers and we have users -- users by necessity, but nonetheless, users. The producers are our manufacturers -- our retailers, the people that we can reach through economic development, helping with tax credits or anything else.

Agriculture, you guys did some great things last year and I look forward to the funding of some innovative agricultural themes this year. That's going to help. If you really want to do something to help agriculture that's what you're going to do is make sure that funding gets in there. Because some of these new co-ops out here that are trying to help the family farms make it need our support. And, maybe it's not enough right now but, boy, it's a good start. So, you keep it up and you keep going there.

Tourism -- Senator Danny Staples will be introducing a Senate bill to enhance the tourism formula and I am making a personal request that you pass that legislation and that you enhance the formula. Because I have never seen a better marriage. What I've seen between the industry, the legislature, the public and the division of tourism -- it's just fantastic. You put them on a production basis a few years ago with House Bill 188, and they've done a marvelous job. And that board is one of the best boards in the state. So, if you would (not that Danny needs any help) give Danny all the help you can on that. I would hope that a House member on the Tourism Committee would introduce that too. It makes sense. It makes sense because when ag. produces, when tourism produces, when manufacturing and retailing produce -- then you can take care of mental health, school children, seniors, corrections. But, we've got to have them strong and I think you can do a few things this year that will really tweak that in a wonderful form.

I sent all of you a letter on Aging. I don't know if you've gotten it yet -- I don't know if you've read it yet. But, obviously I believe very strongly that aging has had some problems in the past and I think we ought to address them. And I had some choices; I could have just done some housekeeping and gone on. But, I'm not going to look back on my career and think -- Rog, you were there for two and one-half months -- why didn't you do something about it? So, I'm asking you to help me move the Division of Aging from Social Services (which is overcrowded) to the Department of Health, which has some very nice horizontal connections in it. And, let's help both departments. Give Social Services some breathing room and give Aging some more attention at the Governor's table. Because, I truly believe in about six to eight years, when baby-boomers become senior-boomers, you and I could have a problem very similar to what we have now with highways, that we're going to wrestle with and bring to the ground somehow. But, I don't want another one coming right behind it just as soon as you get that done. Let's give ourselves a chance for some elevation of senior issues, and get those things debated, get them heard at the budget level and the Governor's table level, so that they don't sneak up on us in a few years. If you need a little more proof of the pudding, for those of you that are new, we've had 14 directors in 20 years. That's an abysmal record. That's no concentration. That's no consistency and we need to change it. It wasn't written there. I just thought that all up on my own.

I would like to see a few efficiencies in the budget too. I've heard that the hiring freeze is me trying to make sure that Bob's got some slots to fill. (See, I listen to the radio, Merrill -- and I love you.) But, I'm telling you; you have a little bit different budget to deal with this year. And, after you've wrestled with it for a couple of months you're going to realize that. And, it's not going to be as much fun as some of the other years have. But, it's something I noticed when I was appropriations chairman and I think we ought to re-institute it every now and then. My proposal today would be to reduce the FTE number, starting today, by 500 people. That's not big -- out of 60,000 -- but it's significant. And, I'll tell you right now, I'm probably taking the easiest 500 and Governor Holden is going to be left with some tougher decisions. So, don't think it's all done even if we get this done. It will free up some money, and, yes, we're having trouble with revenues meeting expectations. Hopefully, that's going to improve and we'll keep a closer eye on it. But, I think this kind of flexibility is important for budgetary reasons. But, I also think that the people that ought to control how many places sit vacant, or how many people you actually allow to a department, are the people that receive the votes. Whether it's in the executive branch or the legislative branch, and I don't think the padding (and I'm not demeaning any department heads) needs to be there. I think you are the ones that need to assign those resources. And, so, when these 500 are cut (and by the way, those are vacancies) I told you they were the easiest ones. I would like you to take some of that money and plow it back into a few of those departments because the reason for some of those vacancies is because the pay is so low, and the work is so hard with direct services (whether mentally ill or others) that we just can't keep people hired. So, if we really want to serve the people that we're actually talking about serving, then let's get serious about it and let's try to get people on hand to help take care of them. And, if we have to raise a few salaries then I think we ought to do it.

While I'm on state workers -- I have a real strong feeling that they/we all have an obligation -- if we actually think we can run a democracy -- if we're not good, we better get good. And that goes for everybody (myself included) to the newest employee of the state. And I think we've had a pretty good attitude for the last eight years in trying to bring people out and do that. I hope that can continue because it's going to be very important for this next administration. I also want to say that a lot of state employees have jobs that you and I would not take. We wouldn't have them -- we wouldn't even apply for them. I don't think it's fair to use them as punching bags when they are out there working in the Biggs Unit, when they're out there on a highway (and the highest mortality rate in state government is highway workers out there). I know it's easy to kick around, let's just don't do it -- let's just don't do it. If you really want to build a team spirit, you have to lift people up. And you have to tell them when they come into those appropriation hearings, or when they come into your senate and house hearings you have to ask them legitimate questions about "how are you going to get it done?". And, we always do that, but I also know we also take some "pot shots", and, yes, I'm guilty. Let's slow it down, let's give them a chance and let's encourage them. Because I've seen some great work out of them, I've seen them do some great things and I think they deserve better than some of what they've gotten in the past and for that I apologize.

Now, this is a little fun thing I want to do. And it only cost about $30 million. Back in 1918 when the Capitol was complete there's a drawing of a riverfront entrance, and it's gorgeous. As a matter of fact, Senators already have a copy of that, along with some supporting documents on their desk that they'll receive when they get back. And, as soon as this speech is over each of you will receive a packet. But, a river museum will do several things that I would like to encourage you to do. It would provide more office space close to the Capitol. Possibly with an entrance that you don't have to go outdoors to use. It would provide more parking. It would provide a place for school children to come in and be weather-covered on Amtrak. It would provide a place for us to memorialize Lewis and Clark, which is coming up in 2003. And, if you would grant me this, I would request that a portion of that space be taken up for a memorial to Governor Carnahan. It is beautiful, and it is expensive, and I really feel guilty about coming to you and talking about money when I don't have the source in hand. All I can tell you is I will try to help. It's something that's worthy. It's something that our constituents would enjoy. It's a way you can help tourism. But, more importantly, it's something that will make us more efficient and make Missouri prouder of their seat of government. I hope you enjoy looking at that package. It enthused me the first time I saw it and I hope it enthuses you.

All right, now is the time on the program for a couple of rants. I've noticed that in my speech pattern. And, there are certain things that I really don't have a solution for exactly, but they really burn me up so I want to get everybody thinking about them. Gripping has become a national past time. That's the kind of thing we can fall into. Why has it become a national past time? Because we've got it so good. How many people in here have lived in a house without electricity? How many people in here have lived in a house without indoor plumbing? Do we have it good? Yeah, we have it good -- we have it great. So, what have we done with our spare time? We fill it with a little gripping. Let's change it and let Missouri be the point of impact. Let's really let that happen. Okay, I'm feeling better -- that's good.

Educational peeves -- I don't want teachers blamed for educational problems that have nothing to do with them. A fifty-percent divorce rate and a drug problem are not caused by teachers. They are absolutely our front line on trying to fight a lot of that. Let's try to give them some real help. We've passed laws to punish people that misbehave around the school but I think we're going to have to figure out (even with the safe schools act) how is it that you and I show our support of those teachers? And, you know what, that's not where the real responsibility lies. Pat and I tell the teachers of our children that they're right. And, even if they're wrong, our children have the obligation to be smart enough to figure out how to get along in that classroom so 28 other people's education isn't interrupted. And, until we start giving them that kind of support then let's don't look at teaching or the administration or the legislature. This is something that is the job of 5.4 million people. And if we can handle the Carnahan tragedy and if we can handle the flood of '93, then shame on us for not being able to handle this. Okay, this guy's writing is terrible.

On higher education -- taxpayers, legislators, governors, are working their heads off to try to fully fund higher education. Look what you've done with the A+ program, look what you've done with bright flight. Look what you've done in community colleges. You talk about neat, I didn't think that was possible when I came here in '79. You have done some remarkable things and we can do some more. And, I want you to keep trying. But, I do want to correct the thought process too. I've spoken on several university campuses and I've always dropped this bomb there but I want to drop it here today publicly, too. I've asked a lot of people -- how many people are getting public assistance with your education? Well, unless they have a student loan or are getting a scholarship or something they don't raise their hand. There is a misunderstanding -- there is a misunderstanding. I've had to tell college group after college group after college group that you go out there and thank the person that's running the convenience store that may only have an eighth-grade education because they go to work every day and help pay for your education. And, we've lost the message someplace and it's got to get back. A lot of people think tuition is going through the roof. Not that we have an ungrateful group of students -- this group is capable of running the world. But, you know what, there's too few thank you's in this word especially to unrecognized taxpayers and voters. And that's one way to do it. I think a college student ought to walk out and tell that person thank you -- just ad hoc -- it would be fun. Now, you've been nice oh, don't forget, Schneider for judge.

Let me thank you for all of the hospitality and kindness that you've extended to me and my family over all these years. And, if you really want to thank me you just take good care of your family. That would be a great thank you. And, take care of this big family that we've got that have selected and sent you here. I've said it before, the flood of '93 just showed me something that totally amazed me. It was unbelievable to see the amount of strength that this state had. And, the respect and strength that I saw during Governor Carnahan's funeral. And, even now, Bob can feel it and I can feel it -- we can all feel it. There is a respect and reverence here that I hope that we can maintain because it's really going to be good for us. It's going to help us maintain the civility that we need. But, I also observed something that just amazed, because I'm ashamed to say it, even to my 52nd year I took it for granted. What we were thrown into was an unbelievable circumstance. And, the thing that caught all of us, and part of the strength of our state, was our Constitution. I'd always had an admiration and respect for it, but I'd never had an understanding of how it could perform. You and I are of a generation that has now seen it perform. So, protect it, improve it if we can, but I think you can rest easy at night -- this 200 years of democracy that we've lived through has us so well protected. And, all we have to do it protect it. Thank you and goodbye.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Lieutenant Governor Maxwell.

Grant to the men and women of this House a willingness to think hard, clearly, and honestly, guided by Your voice within each of us.

May we stand for nothing in our personal lives which, if multiplied, would weaken our state, which is not better than its citizens and no stronger than those in whom it places its trust.

Division of Aging and the Department of Health

TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI:

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the state of Missouri, including the Omnibus State Reorganization Act of 1974 and sections 26.500 through 26.540, RSMo, I hereby transmit the Division of Aging and Department of Health Reorganization Plan of 2001 (attachment A), which provides for the transfer of the Division of Aging from the Missouri Department of Social Services to the Missouri Department of Health.

Pursuant to Section 26.510 RSMo, said plan shall become effective by Executive Order 01-02, (attachment B) not sooner than August 28, 2001, unless it is disapproved.

/s/ Roger B. Wilson
GOVERNOR

REORGANIZATION PLAN
GENERAL BACKGROUND

This plan would rename the current Missouri Department of Health to the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services and incorporate the Division of Aging currently located within the Department of Social Services into the renamed department.

The Missouri Department of Health is responsible for protecting and promoting the health of the population of Missouri. This is carried out through the assessment of the population's health, identification of health threats and needs, development of policies and priorities, and the assurance of appropriate responses. We implement these core public health functions through collaborative relationships with public and private entities, communities and citizens.

The Division of Aging currently located in the Missouri Department of Social Services is charged with promoting, maintaining, improving, and protecting the quality of life and quality of care for Missouri's older adults and persons with disabilities so they may live as independently as possible with dignity and respect.

SPECIFIC DEPARTMENT STRUCTURE

The reorganized Department of Health and Senior Services will be directed by a Department Director who will have a Chief Operating Officer and two Deputy Directors that report directly to the Director. The Director through the Chief Operating Officer and these two deputies will be responsible for the management of the Department and administration of its programs and services. This includes daily operations and Departmental functions such as those listed below.

The Chief Operating Officer will support and provide oversight for the activities of:

- Operational Offices: Personnel, Legal, Governmental Policy, Public Information, Training and Professional Development, Women's Health, Minority Health, Epidemiology, Emergency Response/Terrorism
- Division of Administration: Fiscal, Administrative and General Services support to all department units
- Center for Community Development and Health Care Access: Community development and enhancement of health care access
- Center for Health Information Management and Evaluation: Statistical support and health care assurance activities, information technology, technology research and development

A Deputy Director will support and provide oversight for the activities of the Division of Senior Services and the Division of Health Standards and Licensure.

- Division of Senior Services: Home and community services program and program of immediate assistance which provides support for older persons and persons with disabilities between the ages of 18 and 59, all of whom live at home. In addition, assistance for persons who encounter abuse, neglect or exploitation.
- Division of Health Standards and Licensure: Long term care facilities, health facility regulation, child care licensure, emergency medical services, controlled substance registration, and other institutional programs

A Deputy Director will support and provide oversight for the activities of the health and public health functions of the Department of Health and Senior Services.

- Center for Local Public Health Services: Local public health system support
- Division of Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion: Combats the major causes of premature death, illness, disability and medical costs
- Division of Environmental Health and Communicable Disease Prevention: Investigation of cause, origin, and method of transmission of communicable diseases and diseases caused by environmental hazards
- Division of Maternal Child and Family Health: Promotes optimal health by programs designed to meet the health care needs of families
- Division of Nutritional Health and Services: Nutritional services and support, population-based surveillance to determine the nutritional status of all Missourians

OTHER RELATED ISSUES

In addition, the following change will occur by legislation and transfer.

- Using the same statutory model as the Board of Health, a Board of Senior Services will be created. Both Boards will advise the Director of the Department of Health and Senior Services on issues relating to their respective areas of expertise.

A Memorandum of Understanding will be developed between the current Department of Health and the Department of Social Services and carried forward to the renamed Department of Health and Senior Services and the Department of Social Services that will provide guidance for the smooth transition and maintenance of specific issues that impact staff and services of both departments.

These Memorandums will include, but not be limited to, issues relating to accounting, chain of command for interim reporting, contracts, data processing, FY02 budget to be transferred, if passed, grants, hiring, legal services, office space (including leasing, utilities, telecommunications, etc.), payroll, personnel and office resources, purchasing, SAM II, state cars, any collective bargaining agreements, vacancy management and warehousing issues.

3. To implement all aspects of the Division of Aging and Department of Health Reorganization Plan of 2001 (attachment A).

This Order shall become effective no sooner than August 28, 2001 unless disapproved within sixty days of its submission to the First Regular Session of the 91st General Assembly, and shall remain in effect until rescinded by the Governor.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of

INAUGURAL ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR BOB HOLDEN

One Bright Future, One Missouri

Today we observe the beginning of a new century. But more importantly, we bear witness to the beginning of a new vision: one bright future, one Missouri.

Only three short months ago, Missourians stood together with the Carnahan and Sifford families in their hour of need. The power of our shared grief made us all stronger.

Thank you, Jean, for the grace you have shown during these difficult days. You have made all of us proud.

Through these challenging times, we have supported our new Governor as he carried out his duties with honor and dignity. His compassion and good humor have lifted our spirits. Thank you, Governor Wilson, for your leadership.

As we reflect on these events, we realize that sometimes it's in the worst of times that we discover the best in ourselves. We came together and moved Missouri forward.

That same power that brought us forward in sorrow can now bring us forward in success. The power of shared common goals can break down any walls that separate us, whether those walls are constructed from personal ideology, special interests, or regional concerns.

The dawn of this new day brings new hopes and new beginnings. Today our dawn has come...the awakening of a new century and a better Missouri.

Our past sunsets have brought us a multitude of gifts. We have unlimited resources—a central location, two international cities, two magnificent rivers, rich farmland, an evolving life sciences corridor, and one of the most talented and productive workforces in the world. These resources and the excellent leadership of the past eight years have carried us far.

Missourians are safer, healthier, and better educated than at any time in our history.

But we cannot...we must not...rest on these accomplishments. Our prosperous past only holds meaning for Missouri if we fulfill our potential for a glorious future.

As we begin this first administration of a new century, I call on all Missourians to reach new heights. Do we have the will? Will we have the courage? Can we summon the imagination to lead?

Missourians of the past have provided the example for us to follow. We live in a state that has produced pioneers such as Harry Truman, George Washington Carver, and Phoebe Apperson Hearst. A state that built the first mile of interstate highway and established the nation's first kindergarten. A state that educated a young woman named Linda Godwin in rural Missouri and sent her into space.

Our history has prepared us...Almighty God has blessed us...with the opportunity to make a difference.

In the words of the famous poet Robert Frost, it is time Missouri took "the road less traveled by" and that will make "all the difference" for our future generations.

With this shining new century, let us think anew. Let us dream anew. Let us build anew.

The ideas, principles, and progress of our past architects have provided a solid foundation. Now we must build a Missouri that we will be proud to pass on to the generations to come. One Missouri that supports the most vulnerable citizens—our young, our poor, our sick, and our elderly. One Missouri that offers the opportunities for our Missouri families and businesses to grow. One Missouri that gives all our citizens the chance to succeed.

Our one Missouri will find its character in our resolve to foster healthy bodies, strong minds, and respect for each other...

its strength in our commitment to giving every child the best possible education...

its prosperity in fostering a well-trained and highly skilled work force.

Our one Missouri will find new prominence in the world marketplace by developing a broader transportation system that is second to none.

Our one Missouri will preserve its future for our families by protecting the environment.

However, the greatest barrier we have to building one Missouri is ourselves. We can no longer think in terms of urban vs. rural, black vs. white, Democrat vs. Republican, St. Louis vs. Kansas City, or the countless other interests that seek to divide us. We must come together to find common ground.

It is time Kansas City and St. Louis realize they live in the same state. These two urban titans must work together to make Missouri competitive in the global marketplace of a new century.

It is time our rural communities and urban centers work together for the good of all our citizens. It is time we judge people by the "content of their character", not by "the color of their skin".

It is time we respect all people—paying respect to the integrity of their views, even if we disagree with the substance of their policies. For we are one Missouri—one bright future.

One of my personal heroes in public service, Robert Kennedy, was fond of quoting English writer George Bernard Shaw, who said: “Some men see things as they are and ask why. I dream things that never were and ask why not”.

Over the next four years, this administration will continue to dream of those possibilities and dare to ask “why not”. We will set our sights on what can be, not what has been.

This administration will lead by example, guided by the principles instilled in me by my parents, my teachers, my heroes, and my family.

Those principles taught me that this administration should never be about any one person—it is about all of us. As a young boy growing up on a farm in southern Missouri, I had parents I love and respect more than they will ever realize.

They believed each generation bears a responsibility to both the generation past and the generation to come. So to our seniors and our children, let me say: my administration will work for you.

As a student who started in a one-room schoolhouse and became the first in my family to graduate from a state university, I was fortunate to learn at the hands of excellent teachers who unlocked doors to opportunity with the knowledge they gave me. Our second son is named for one of those teachers. My administration values those teachers and the future minds they will mold. My administration is for them.

As a college student inspired by heroes such as Robert Kennedy, who sacrificed his life on behalf of a better life for others, I dedicated my life to public service. My administration is for all public servants who believe they can make a difference.

As a partner to my wife Lori and father to our sons, Robert and John D., I have found that nothing is more important than shaping a world where families can share bonds of love and success. To our Missouri families, let me say: we are families who share common backgrounds and uncommon opportunities.

And I will use that knowledge and understanding we have been given to improve Missouri for all families. My administration is for you.

The goal of my administration is to unite all Missourians in forging a bright future that holds maximum opportunities for each of us. I understand your concerns, and I share your aspirations.

I was born in Kansas City, raised on a farm in south central Missouri near a town called Birch Tree, represented Springfield in the Missouri General Assembly, worked in St. Louis, and am glad to be able to say that for the next four years we can continue to call Jefferson City our home.

Yet no matter where I have lived or worked, no matter what the regional interests or issues, I have seen one common conviction that all Missourians share: a faith in our capacity to do better.

This optimism and determination have brought us far in the past, and I believe they can propel us to greatness in the future. The world witnessed such optimism and determination from Great Britain during World War II. At that time, when this island nation was fighting alone to keep freedom alive, the British people were inspired by the new leadership of Sir Winston Churchill. As he stepped forward to assume the role of Prime Minister, Sir Winston said: “I felt as if I were walking with destiny and that all my past life had been but a preparation for this hour.”.

History holds many lessons, and this chapter certainly sends a powerful message to us today. If unity of the human spirit can lift a people to triumph in a time of such turmoil, just think...just think what we can accomplish if our hands, our hearts, and our minds are joined in this time of unparalleled opportunity.

Our past has prepared us for this hour, and from this day forward, we will direct its destiny. We have the vision and the passion to make this our “finest hour”, as we embark on a journey of opportunities. Let us take that journey together. With your help and with God as our compass...let us meet the responsibilities that lie ahead.

Let us walk confidently into the 21st century and make it Missouri’s century. Let our legacy be one bright future—one Missouri.

Thank you.

Presentation in Song by the Statewide Inaugural Choir.

The doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable William Ray Price, Jr., Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court. Chief Justice Price was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais where he delivered the following message to the assembly in Joint Session:

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

By
January 10, 2001

Mr. Speaker. Mr. President. Members of the General Assembly.

On behalf of the judges of the state of Missouri, it is a pleasure and an honor to deliver this 28th State of the Judiciary address.

At the outset, let me commend you, both members of the House and members of the Senate, for resolving your issues of leadership. I am certain that each side had hoped for more and that each side had clever strategies in place in the event compromise was not reached. But, you were right to take the high road and to avoid the partisan chicanery that so tires our people. Centuries ago, Sir Francis Bacon noted that:

Nothing doth more hurt in a state than that cunning men pass for wise.

You acted with wisdom and dignity befitting the high honor of the House and of the Senate. I commend you.

Now, just the second day after our inauguration ceremonies, the sense of a new beginning is overwhelming. New faces and new dreams; all in hopes of a brighter future for the people of Missouri. You have the important task of charting the path for our government and people to follow.

Our role in the courts, though equally important, is much more limited. We resolve disputes. We have no power until litigants come to us with a real controversy. When they do, we are not free to choose any resolution. We are first bound to honor our national and our state constitutions. We then follow the laws that you enact. We attempt to do this as fairly and as faithfully as we can, reading the words you chose as simply and accurately as possible. We are not free to do what we might think is best otherwise, nor are we free to do what we might think you meant otherwise. We may only follow the words of the statutes as you have actually written them.

I know some of you are wondering why I am taking time to say this. But, sometimes it is best to say, out loud, the important rules we live by, so there is no confusion between you and us. It is our desire as judges simply to follow and interpret the laws of Missouri, not to chart new paths on our own. That is what the people elect you to do. Your duty in this regard deserves the highest care both in your thoughts and your words.

I am pleased to report to you that the wisdom of the Missouri Plan for merit selection of appellate judges, again, leads the nation. While contested elections in Michigan, Ohio, and Mississippi involved the expenditures of millions and millions of dollars of special interest money, one Missouri Supreme Court judge and three judges of our Court of Appeals were retained without a penny of fund raising or expenditure and without a single negative advertisement.

The Missouri Plan has also shown its value in the diversification of our appellate courts. Our past four appointments-- Sherrie Sullivan, Thomas Newton, George Draper, and Ron Holliger--include two African American men and a woman.

Let me be clear. The Missouri Plan is the example to the nation of the best method for selecting appellate judges. It deserves our continued respect and protection.

We at the Supreme Court are sad that Ann Covington is resigning at the end of this month. As the first woman to serve on our Court of Appeals and Supreme Court, she has played a pivotal role in the history of this state. She played that role with dignity and grace. We will miss her.

We have confidence that the Missouri Plan will serve us well in selecting her successor, but you should note that this is the second judge of the Supreme Court in the past three years to leave the court prematurely to return to the private sector. Last year, Judge Albert Riederer left the Court of Appeals to do the same. These actions speak louder than any words I can say.

As I said before, our core function is to decide lawsuits. For better or for worse, the people of Missouri are still turning to the courts for the resolution of their controversies in great numbers. Last year, approximately 962,000 new cases were filed. Our courts resolved approximately 917,000 cases. We continue to focus on timely resolution of the lawsuits brought before us, and we continue to transfer judges around the state to equalize caseloads.

I am pleased to report that again:

- We disposed of 80% of civil cases within 18 months;
- We disposed of 91% of domestic cases within 12 months;
- We disposed of 85% of associate civil cases in 6 months and 94% within 12 months; and
- We disposed of 85% of circuit court felony cases within 8 months.

Unlike many other states, there are no massive backlogs in our courts and Missouri litigants are able to obtain trial dates as they are needed. We are grateful to the hardworking judges across the state who make this possible. We are also grateful to you for providing the necessary resources for us to do our work.

Last year, I spoke to you about two areas of priority that we would focus on in our administrative capacity, court automation and drug courts. I am pleased to report to you that significant progress was made in both of these areas.

This past calendar year, the Missouri Court Automation Project more than doubled the number of circuit courts in the state benefiting from its case management system. As of today, 15 judicial circuits, consisting of 32 counties, the Supreme Court, and all three districts of the Court of Appeals are now online. During the remainder of this fiscal year we plan to add six additional judicial circuits including 16 counties in the southeastern portion of the state. By July 1, 2001, almost 41% of our caseload and almost 50% of our citizens will have access to the benefits of court automation.

We have kept our promise to use new monies to roll out court automation across the state as quickly as possible. It is crucial that this project be completed.

In the next fiscal year, we plan to add another ten judicial circuits consisting of 27 additional counties: Scotland, Schuyler, Clark, Carroll, Ray, Randolph, Howard, Lafayette, Saline, Benton, Dallas, Hickory, Polk, Webster, Atchison, Gentry, Holt, Nodaway, Worth, Linn, Chariton, Sullivan, St. Louis County probate division, Jefferson, Henry, St. Clair, and Bates. This will increase the benefits of automation to 55% of Missouri's caseload and 76% of Missouri's population. To stop this project halfway, having favored many of our counties, but leaving the others out, would be unthinkable and most likely irreversible.

The usefulness of court automation extends beyond mere judicial record keeping and affects the lives of our citizens in very real ways. In Fulton, Missouri, we developed a pilot site linking an elementary school, a middle school, and a high school to the courts and to the local juvenile officer. The system allows the immediate online exchange of juvenile court and protective custody information, as well as the names of students who have received detention, tardiness, truancy notices, and incident reports.

The need for such a system was quickly apparent. A student moved from Boone County to Fulton without telling her juvenile officer. A school guidance counselor made an inquiry and within 10 minutes learned that the student had a scheduled court appearance for the next day. Without the pilot project, the student would have missed the court appearance and would have gotten into even worse trouble.

Another example of the need for a statewide system of court automation also comes from Callaway County. A mother there was hospitalized with no one to care for her 14-year-old son. The boy was placed in a foster care home so that he could be provided for safely. The home included several other young children. What was not known was that the 14-year-old boy was accused in another county of allegedly sexually molesting children. The failure to have a statewide computer system linking court to court and court to juvenile officer allowed for well-meaning state employees to create a very dangerous situation for the children already in that home. We all need the Missouri Court Automation program to go forward.

Another area of important progress in the past year has been drug courts. As you recall, drug courts provide treatment to non-violent offenders under intense judicial supervision, most often as an alternative to incarceration. We now have 22 adult felony drug courts, 7 juvenile drug courts, and 2 family drug courts. Another 21 adult drug courts, 7 juvenile drug courts, and 6 family drug courts are in the planning stage. Twenty-eight additional counties are considering drug court programs.

The benefits of drug court programs relative to their cost is clear and compelling. As of July 1, 2000, 1147 individuals graduated from Missouri drug courts at an average cost to the state of $5,042 a person. The recidivism rate for these individuals was about 5%. The cost of incarceration for these individuals would have been at least $12,700 a year. The recidivism rate for drug offenders who have not graduated from drug court is about 45%.

Listen to those numbers again: $5,042 a year for drug court compared to $12,700 a year for incarceration; 5% recidivism rate for drug court graduates compared with a 45% recidivism rate otherwise. If you have to think twice, consider this. Twenty-five drug free babies were born to drug court participants. Estimated hospital savings for those new babies begin at $4,300 per child. But, how can you even begin to value the hope that now can exist for these new lives?

Just two weeks ago associate circuit Judge Patricia Joyce from here in Jefferson City sent me a copy of a letter she received from one of her drug court graduates. The letter was titled "Gratitude". Let me read parts of that letter to you.

As this year is coming to an end, I have looked back to where I started....I was once again full blown into my addiction...with the same results jail or D.O.C....But by the grace of God my cry for help was answered....I was given the opportunity to receive help for my addiction instead of being locked away as I have [been] so many times before....I could go on forever...to express my gratitude for the people in my life to this day [who] have helped me change from criminal activity to a responsible citizen....I know I have a long way to go and...the road...will be hard....I am very thankful for having this opportunity to start living again...

The author of this letter is now gainfully employed and plans to enroll in college this coming semester.

Drug courts are one of the rare opportunities in government where the least expensive alternative works the best to truly help people in need. We again ask that you support this program.

We again ask that you coordinate the disjointed method of funding this important work so that it can be administered as efficiently and as effectively as possible.

There is one other area of work that I did not speak about last year, that I need to talk about now. It concerns our attempt to speed up the process for the permanent placement of our children who are in foster care.

When it is so dangerous to leave a child with his or her natural parents that the state must intervene and remove the child, then it is the state's obligation to determine what to do with that child as quickly as possible. Although we owe our deepest thanks to those individuals who serve as foster parents, leaving the child in an endless legal morass of foster care is not the answer.

Three years ago, we initiated two pilot projects to see if we could shorten the time to adjudicate permanent placement for these children. One pilot project was in the 2nd judicial circuit under the supervision of Judge Russell Steele. The other was in the 23rd judicial circuit under the supervision of associate circuit Judge Carol Bader. We learned that with aggressive case management and close judicial supervision we could reduce a child's stay in foster care by an average of 105 days, at a savings of $25 a day per child.

We would like to expand these pilot projects into 5 additional circuits. We have shown that any dollars committed to speeding our foster children to new permanent homes will repay themselves many times over. And, of course, it is the right thing to do for our most unfortunate children.

This is the only opportunity I have to address you as a body for the coming session. Although there are many other matters I could talk about, I have limited my remarks to those that I believe are most important for you to hear. Matters that I believe are most important for the people of Missouri.

I would like you to remember that we are performing our core function timely and well. We do not want to slide backwards into massive backlogs that would delay, and in some cases deny, our citizens access to the courts for the resolution of their disputes.

In our administrative capacity, we attempt to focus upon those matters that are of crucial importance and that have the promise of improved usefulness and efficiency.

One of those areas is statewide court automation. Our new system is working. The project is halfway done. We cannot stop rollout now.

Another is drug courts. They make moral and fiscal sense. They need to be expanded both geographically to new counties and to family and juvenile settings. Funding needs to be coordinated and administered to assure the greatest possible efficiency and effectiveness.

Finally, we need to improve the manner in which we care for our children who have been removed from their natural homes. Resources are needed to expand our two pilot sites into 5 additional counties.

I know that this will be a very difficult year for the state's budget. Everyone will be coming to you with worthwhile programs, all seeking the same money. Please remember, justice is not a luxury to be financed only in good times and cut back in bad times. Justice is the dream of our people that allows them to have faith in their government. It is no mistake, that its promise is how we end our pledge of allegiance.

Thank you. I wish you the very best in your service to the people of Missouri in this session of the General Assembly.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Lieutenant Governor Maxwell.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God, help us to understand that our pace of living often shuts You out of our minds and hearts. Living this fast, shutting You out, leaves us to wonder about with good intentions, half truths and unhappy compromises.

Give to all of us a passion for that which is excellent, rather than the politics of the expedient, for that which is morally right rather than socially correct. Guide this House, and to You be all glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Ralph Robinette, Sergeant at Arms.

The Psalmist wrote in Psalm 139:

“Search me O’ God, and know my heart; test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me and lead me in the way everlasting”.

Today we honor a man who had searched his heart and had no offensive way in it. As America honors Martin Luther King, Jr., a loving and caring man who worked for peace and harmony among all people, we ask that the Holy Spirit fill our hearts with those Christian virtues that we may individually and collectively carry on the work of Dr. King.

In Your name we pray, Holy Father. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Autumn Shurley, Jared Shurley, Grant Shurley, Malia Koons and Charles Koons.

The Journal of the seventh day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

- (2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered seriatim as fast as disposed of until the substitute is perfected.
- (3) The substitute is next voted on. Both the amendment and the substitute having been perfected and presented in final form, the House or committee makes its choice of the two.

Motion for Final Passage.

Rule 57. When the Committee on Bills Perfected and Passed reports a bill truly perfected and printed, it shall go upon the calendar to be agreed to and passed. (d) Exceeding the Differences. Unless authority is granted by the House to exceed the differences, the conferees must confine themselves to matters that are within the scope of the difference between the House position and the Senate position. When a report is offered for adoption, the point of order that the conferees have exceeded the difference shall be in order. JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWELFTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 22, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Almighty God, creator of all that is, dignify this House with Your grace today. These legislators assembling here seek a blessing of wisdom, light, and spiritual muscle, as they prepare and discuss future laws to serve their people. Hold their families back home in Your care.

Continue to inspire these chosen men and women to hear Your voice in the rustling of the papers and the voices of committee, in the calls and letters from constituents, in the dictation and even in the bickering. With Your presence even these mundane tasks may begin in You and end in the greater good of us all. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God, Your justice is so often shown in Your compassion and mercy. Lead the hearts of our legislators today even further on the road of compassion and charity. Let them sense the needs of all people in their constituencies, but particularly of the poor and needy, the downtrodden and weak, and all the children, that the work in these halls may be a ministry, their employment here a vocation.

Help them temper their deliberations in deep benevolence, the kind which demands that mature strength of profound humanity. We place these men and women into both Your loving care and Your fatherly challenge, today and all days. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 29, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Almighty God, Your psalmist in the Hebrew Holy Writings says this:

If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, when our enemies attacked us, then the flood would have swept us away. (Psalm 124)

In this Chamber today let there be people who disagree in ways and means, yes, but never enemies. May these discussions and deliberations be tempered by the ambition which all these men and women have in common ----- the common benefit and continued progress of the individuals, families, and groups of our state.

If at times there are feelings of enmity, Lord, in these negotiations and consultations, may You still be, truly in their hearts and on their lips, and rightly at their side in this journey together. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

(1) Censure - A sanction which recognizes the respondent's conduct constituted a legal or moral wrong, and which shall include punishment in the form of denying privileges of office, which recommendation is included as part of the committee's report and requires the presence of the respondent in the chamber during consideration and vote by the entire House on such resolution.

(2) Letter of Reproval - A sanction which expresses disapproval of conduct based on the appropriateness of such conduct by a legislator, regardless of whether the conduct constitutes a legal or moral wrong and is included as part of the committee's report.

(3) Reprimand - A sanction which recognizes the respondent's conduct constituted a legal or moral wrong and which may include punishment in the form of denying privileges of the office, which recommendation is included as part of the committee's report, is issued by the Speaker and the recommendation for reprimand is made a public record.

RULE 3. Quorums

A quorum exists when a majority of the members of the Committee are present.

RULE 4. Form of Complaints

A. All complaints filed with the Speaker against a member of the House shall be made by a member. The complaints shall be confidential and shall be referred to the Committee on Ethics within ten (10) days and shall be in writing and under oath, setting forth in simple, concise and direct statements:

- (1) The name and legal address of the member or members acting as complainant;
- (2) The name of the member of the House alleged to have engaged in the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office or other acts constituting ethical misconduct. "Misconduct", means:
 - (a) Any conduct constituting a legal or moral wrong which materially impairs the member's ability to perform the duties of his office or substantially impairs public confidence in the General Assembly;
 - (b) Any conduct constituting a conflict of interest under chapter 105, RSMo;
 - (c) The intentional filing of a false complaint or the filing of a complaint in reckless disregard of the truth.
- (3) The nature of the alleged crime, misconduct, neglect, corruption or other unethical act, including when applicable, the specific law, rule, regulation or ethical standard violated;
- (4) The facts alleged to have given rise to the violation; and
- (5) Where the facts are alleged upon the information and belief of the complainant, the complaint shall so state and set forth the basis for such information and belief.

B. All documents in the possession of the complainant that are relevant to and in support of the allegations shall be appended to the complaint.

RULE 5. Initial Examination of the Complaint by the Committee

A. Within thirty (30) days of the assignment of the complaint by the Speaker, the Committee shall determine if it is in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules, and whether on the face of the complaint, the allegations contained therein are within the jurisdiction of the Committee, and if so, whether the allegations merit proceeding to a preliminary hearing. The complainant shall not act as a member of the Committee at a hearing in which the complainant is likely to be called as a necessary witness. A respondent shall not act as a member of the Committee for purposes of his complaint.

B. Complaints determined not to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules shall be returned to the complainant with a general statement that it is not in compliance with the Rules of Procedure. The complaint may be resubmitted in the proper form.

C. Once a determination has been made that the complaint complies with Rule 4 of these rules, a majority of the Committee appointed shall vote by roll call to either:

- (1) Defer action pending completion of any other administrative, disciplinary, commission, or judicial proceeding;
- (2) Proceed to a preliminary hearing;
- (3) Dismiss the complaint.

D. In determining whether or not to proceed the Committee shall consider the following:

- (1) The credible evidence contained in the complaint or appended thereto of the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office, or other acts violating applicable ethical standards;
- (2) Other administrative or disciplinary action by other interested bodies;
- (3) Criminal investigation, Missouri Ethics Commission proceeding, or judicial proceedings, either civil or criminal; and
- (4) Other relevant circumstances that would justify expediting, declining or deferring action by the Committee.

E. Complaints determined to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules and accepted for a preliminary hearing shall be transmitted to the respondent with a copy of the Rules of Procedure and notice in writing that the respondent has twenty-one (21) calendar days to respond to the complaint either by way of answer or motion pursuant to Rule 6 of these Rules. The complainant shall also be notified, in writing, of the action of the Committee. Examination of the complaint and the determination of Rule 4.C. shall be conducted in a closed meeting.

RULE 6. Answers and Motions

A. If the Committee determines that the complaint merits proceeding to a preliminary hearing, the respondent shall have twenty-one (21) calendar days in which to respond to the complaint by way of answer or motion, unless this time period is waived by the respondent. Any answer or motion shall be in writing, signed by the respondent and his counsel, if he has one, and shall be limited to the following:

- (1) An admission or denial under oath, of the allegations set forth in the complaint, including negative and affirmative defenses, and any other relevant information, including supporting evidence which the respondent may desire to submit;
- (2) An objection to the jurisdiction of the Committee to investigate the complaint; or
- (3) An objection to the participation of any member of the Committee in an investigation of the complaint on the grounds that the member cannot render an impartial and unbiased decision in the case. The majority of the members present shall rule on the objection to the participation of any member of the Committee. A temporary replacement shall be made to serve on the Committee on Ethics for all actions concerning a particular complaint for any member of the Committee who is prevented from acting on a complaint under these rules.

B. Any motion submitted pursuant to this rule is not in lieu of an answer and shall be accompanied by a memorandum of points and authorities. Answers or motions not submitted within the twenty-one (21) calendar-day-period shall not be considered by the Committee.

C. The Chairman of the Committee shall pass upon such motions as soon as practicable and notice of the decision shall be furnished to the respondent and the complainant. A motion to quash a subpoena shall be decided by the Chairman of the Committee.

D. Time limitations imposed by this Rule may be extended when, in the discretion of the Chairman, such extension would facilitate a fair and complete inquiry and may be shortened when the Chairman determines that there are special circumstances compelling expedition, and upon twenty-four (24) hours notice of said action to the respondent and the claimant.

E. In the event that a special counsel is retained by the Committee, the attorney-client privilege is applicable to the Committee and not to the House.

RULE 7. Preliminary Hearings

A. A preliminary hearing may be held to hear arguments based on the pleadings submitted in the case. The preliminary hearing shall be an open meeting. The committee shall provide the complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent an opportunity to present, orally or in writing, a statement, which shall be under oath or affirmation, regarding the allegations and any other relevant questions arising out of the pleadings. A complainant or respondent who is represented by counsel shall not be questioned in the absence of counsel unless an explicit waiver is obtained.

B. The committee shall require that testimony be given under oath or affirmation. The form of the oath or affirmation shall be: "Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?" The oath or affirmation shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths. Members of the committee shall be give an opportunity to question the complainant and respondent or counsel for the complainant or respondent following the opening statements.

C. At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing, a majority of the Committee shall vote by roll call to either:

- (1) Dismiss the complaint; or
- (2) Proceed by
 - (a) undertaking an investigative hearing; or
 - (b) deciding the case based upon the preliminary hearing.

A decision based upon a preliminary hearing shall require the consent of the respondent.

D. If the committee decides to make a summary decision of the case and the respondent accepts this disposition the committee may, by a majority vote, recommend one of the following sanctions:

- (a) Letter of reproof;
- (b) Reprimand; or
- (c) Censure.

RULE 8. Investigative Hearings

A. An investigative hearing may be held on the record to receive evidence upon which to base findings, conclusions, and recommendations, if any, to the House. The Committee may require, by subpoena or otherwise, or by subpoena duces tecum, the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memorandums, papers and documents as it deems necessary. The Committee may obtain a court-issued subpoena in the event that any person refuses to obey the subpoena issued by the Committee.

B. Prior to setting a hearing date and issuing subpoenas for witnesses, the Committee shall resolve the scope and purpose of the hearings. A copy of this statement of scope and purpose shall be furnished to all witnesses. During the course of the hearings the Committee may expand or contract the scope in light of evidence received.

C. The order of the investigative hearing shall be as follows:

- (1) The Chairman shall open the hearing by stating the Committee's authority to conduct the investigation, the purpose of the investigation and its scope.

(2) The complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent shall be permitted to make opening statements. Such opening statements shall not exceed fifteen minutes.

(3) Testimony from witnesses and other evidence pertinent to the matter under investigation shall be received in the following order:

- (a) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the complainant;
- (b) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the respondent;
- (c) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the Committee staff; and
- (d) Rebuttal witnesses.

(4) The Chairman or his designee shall examine each witness. The Committee members may then question the witness. The respondent or his counsel may then cross-examine the witness. Redirect or recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion. With respect to witnesses offered by the respondent, a witness shall be examined first by the respondent or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the complainant or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the Chairman or his designee. Committee members may then question the witness. Redirect and recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion.

D. Testimony of all witnesses shall be taken under oath. The form of the oath shall be: "Do you solemnly swear or affirm that the testimony you will give before this committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?" The oath shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths.

RULE 9. Admissibility of Evidence

A. The object of the hearings shall be to ascertain the truth. Any evidence that is relevant and probative shall be admissible, unless privileged or unless the Constitution otherwise requires its exclusion. Objections going only to the weight that should be given to evidence will not justify its exclusion.

B. The Chairman or other member presiding shall rule upon any question of admissibility of testimony or evidence presented to the Committee. The Chairman or other member presiding may limit the presentation of repetitious evidence. Rulings shall be final unless reversed or modified by a majority vote of the Committee members present.

C. At an investigative hearing, the burden of proof is on the complainant with respect to each count to establish the facts alleged therein clearly and convincingly by the evidence that he introduces.

RULE 10. Witnesses

A. A subpoena to a witness shall be served sufficiently in advance of his scheduled appearance to allow him a reasonable period of time, as determined by the Committee, to prepare for the hearing and to employ counsel should he so desire.

B. Except as otherwise specifically authorized by the Chairman, no member of the Committee or staff shall make public the name of any witness subpoenaed by the Committee before his scheduled appearance.

C. Witnesses at investigative hearings may be accompanied by their counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights and to raise objections to procedures or to the admissibility of testimony and evidence. Counsel for a witness other than the respondent shall not be permitted to engage in oral argument with the Committee. After a witness has testified, his counsel may submit to the Committee, in writing, any questions he wishes propounded to his client and any request for additional witnesses or other evidence. Such request may be granted in the discretion of the Committee.

D. The respondent may apply to the Committee for the issuance of subpoenas for the appearance of witnesses or the production of documents on his behalf. The application shall be granted upon good cause shown by the respondent that the proposed testimony or evidence is relevant and not otherwise available. The application shall be denied if not made at a reasonable time or if the testimony or evidence would be merely cumulative.

E. The respondent is entitled to present witnesses in his behalf. However, the chairman may limit such testimony when, in his discretion, he finds the testimony is repetitious or cumulative.

F. Each witness subpoenaed by the committee shall be reimbursed for those reasonable expenses approved by the Committee.

G. Each witness shall be furnished a printed copy of the Rules of Procedure and the pertinent provisions of the Rules of the House applicable to the rights of witnesses.

H. Within ten (10) calendar days before the scheduled investigative hearing, the Chairman shall notify the respondent, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear before the Committee. Within five (5) calendar days before the scheduled investigative hearing, the respondent shall notify the Committee, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear in his behalf. Additional witnesses may be brought before the Committee, in the discretion of the Chairman or other member presiding and upon good cause, if their whereabouts or existence were unknown to the respondent at the time for submission of the witness list to Committee.

RULE 11. Findings, Conclusions and Recommendations

A. At the completion of the preliminary hearing or investigative hearings, the Committee, by a majority vote of its members, shall, within forty-five (45) days, adopt a report stating its findings and conclusions on the complaint. The report shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House and shall be printed in the House Journal. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is not well-founded, the report shall so state, and shall include a copy of a Letter of Reprimand if the Committee authorized such sanction. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is well-founded, the report shall state the Committee's recommendation in a resolution appended thereto.

B. The resolution shall state the Committee's findings and conclusions on each allegation in the complaint with the recommendation that the House:

- (1) Expel the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution;
- (2) Punish the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, by reprimand on the adoption of the resolution, or by censure by the Speaker in open session; or
- (3) Take no further action, stating the reasons therefor.

RULE 12. Matters not covered in these Rules of Procedure

The Rules of Procedure of the United States House of Representatives Committee on Standards of Official Conduct of the 103rd Congress shall be taken as guidelines in deciding questions, issues, and other matters not otherwise provided for in these Rules of Procedure, except that the Rules of the Missouri House of Representatives governing the party representation on committees shall apply to this Committee.

SENATE SUBSTITUTE
FOR
SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 2

Rejecting the amount of increase in compensation for public officials as recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

WHEREAS, in November 1994, the people of Missouri established in the Missouri Constitution an independent citizen's commission that was given primary responsibility to establish a schedule of compensation for public officials based upon a review and study of the duties of elected state officials, judges and members of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has faithfully undertaken its responsibility and submitted a compensation schedule that provides for a maximum increase in compensation for the affected public officials up to the amount of 5.5%; and

WHEREAS, the percentage increase recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials was based upon recommendations made by the Personnel Advisory Board and the Ad Hoc Task Force on Total Compensation for all state employees for fiscal years 2001-2002 and 2002-2003; and

WHEREAS, the Citizen's Commission report makes clear that the Commission intended public officials should be treated the same as all other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the increases ultimately adopted for all state employees may well not be those recommended by the Commission when its schedule was approved and filed; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly believes that public officials should not receive any cost-of-living increase in compensation, if at all, in excess of the average salary adjustment provided to other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Constitution clearly provides that the recommendations of the Commission are subject to appropriations, and therefor may be reduced or rejected by the General Assembly and no increase shall take effect unless and until appropriated:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate of the First Regular Session of the Ninety-first General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that no increase in compensation for public officials shall be approved or appropriated for fiscal year 2002, if at all, in excess of the average provided to state employees as authorized by Section 105.005, RSMo; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly hereby rejects the increase in compensation recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials for fiscal year 2002 to the extent that it exceeds the average amount of increase in compensation as may be provided to state employees for fiscal year 2002; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that nothing in this resolution shall be interpreted to require that any cost-of-living increase shall be provided to public officials, the recommendation of the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials notwithstanding.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

SEVENTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 30, 2001

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

You, God, are the Law, the Justice, the Execution of that which is right.

This day will see this House welcome our Senate, our Supreme Court, and our Governor. Help this space to be one of holiness. May this confluence of power bode well for our state's future. May this day bring us all a measure closer to Your dream for us, one sovereign state, one nation, under Your devoted guidance and stirred by Your fortitude, with justice and freedom for poor and weak, rich and strong, and old. Let it be so. Amen.

Lori Hauser Holden, Robert Lee Holden III, John D. Holden, Lee Holden, Wanda Holden, Matt Parker, Andrew Scott, Cherlyn Feldkamp, Cami Logsdon, Lisa Logsdon, Lindsay Gaither, Leslie Hardin, Bill Hendrickson, Julie Hendrickson, Sunita Bajpai, Dr. Michael R. DeBaun, Julie Gibson and Rose Brooks.

The following message was delivered by Governor Holden to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR BOB HOLDEN

January 30, 2001

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Mr. Chief Justice, Members of the State Supreme Court, Members of the 91st General Assembly, and Citizens of the State of Missouri:

One of our greatest blessings is sharing the important moments in our life with those we love most.

I am truly blessed today.

Before I begin, I want to introduce my parents, Lee and Wanda Holden.

Mom and Dad, thanks for coming, and would you please stand.

Next I want you to meet two young men who are keeping things pretty lively in the Governor's Mansion these days—our sons, Robert and John D.

Boys, will you please stand.

Finally, saving the best for last, the First Lady in my life—the only lady from the moment I first saw her—and now the First Lady of the State of Missouri—Lori Hauser Holden.

Growing up near the small, rural town of Birch Tree, Missouri, taught me a great deal.

First of all, I learned how to make a dollar go a long way because we didn't have a lot of them.

But there were so many other riches that can't be measured in monetary terms.

A rich community spirit that demonstrated how much could be accomplished by working together toward a common goal.

A rich acceptance of people based on their self worth—not on how much they owned or how they looked.

A rich belief that solid values like honesty, loyalty, and responsibility, combined with lots of hard work, could lead to success.

And a deep understanding of the positive effect that love, support, and encouragement can have on a single life.

Along with my home, one of the first places I found that love, support, and encouragement was a little one-room schoolhouse, which housed all eight grades.

I don't remember a lot of details about my first day of school except my mother shedding a few tears as I started that mile and a half walk from our farm to the school.

But that mile and a half walk began a journey that would bring me to the door of the Governor's office.

Of course, at the time, I didn't realize how important that first walk was.

I was only six.

But on the other side of that school door...as the only boy in a class of three...I discovered a whole world of opportunities existed outside of Birch Tree.

The first teacher who inspired me to explore that world was a woman by the name of Bertha Smotherman.

I wanted Mrs. Smotherman to be with me today, but she recently suffered the loss of her husband.

I wanted her to be here so I could tell her that I've never forgotten what she wrote on my first grade report card.

I saved that grade card all these years, and today I'd like to read you what it says.

Mrs. Smotherman wrote: "I'll never forget how good Bobby has been all school year."

That compliment meant a lot to me, and I want her to know even if she is at home that I'll never forget how good she was to me all school year—how she touched my life.

Mrs. Smotherman, I'm still trying to be good—a good person, a good husband, a good father, and now a good Governor.

And you had a lot to do with those goals being important.

I want to thank you and all the rest of my teachers for the knowledge you shared and for making me believe that I had the power to take that knowledge and make a difference.

I'll never forget you.

Nor will I forget this day.

For this is a defining moment in our state's history.

Much like my first day of school, we are beginning this session with a clean slate.

A new Governor...a new legislature...a new century of opportunities.

And I believe we as public servants can explore those opportunities to benefit all Missourians if we follow the basic lessons I learned in Birch Tree so many years ago.

As those responsible for the state budget, we must provide Missourians with the assurance that their tax dollars go a long way.

We must set the example of working together—never allowing partisanship to stand in the way of the best interests of those we serve.

Our actions must champion the acceptance of people based on their self worth—regardless of status, appearance, or belief.

And our achievements must be guided by the recognition that some of our citizens have never experienced the advantages you and I received.

They have not experienced success, even though they hold solid values and work hard.

They have not known the love, support, and encouragement of family and community.

Yet a successful Missouri for all will only spring from opportunity for all.

BUDGET

Sometimes, opportunities come in the form of challenges.

This year presents one of those challenges in keeping Missouri's financial house in order.

Fortunately, we begin that task from a position of strength.

The leadership of the past eight years has created an environment conducive to economic growth.

Missouri remains a low tax, efficiently run state, according to all prominent national rankings.

According to recently published data from the United States Census Bureau, Missouri ranks 40th in the nation in per capita tax burden and 47th in state government expenditures per capita.

We are a fiscally conservative state and will remain so during my administration.

We're only one of a few states that have maintained our Triple-A bond rating from the major rating agencies.

And the national publication, Governing Magazine, considers Missouri one of the best managed states in the nation.

More Missourians are working than ever before.

Personal income is up.

And Missourians are enjoying unprecedented tax relief.

Thanks to bipartisan tax cuts, our citizens are paying $753 million less in taxes than in 1992.

Since Fiscal Year 1999, our state's general revenue spending has grown slower than personal income, and since Fiscal Year 1995, we have refunded $973 million to Missouri taxpayers.

However, even though our economic foundation is strong, we're now experiencing the same sluggishness that is being seen at the national level.

Our state revenue collections have slowed down, due to a decrease in capital gains from the stock market and slowing sales tax growth.

Last year's revenues came in $116 million lower than projected.

At the same time, our costs to the state have risen higher than anyone anticipated.

The costs of federal mandates are more than estimated.

Health care costs for seniors and those with disabilities continue to rise.

And tax credits, which received widespread bipartisan support, are taking a much bigger bite out of our budget than anyone believed they would.

In Fiscal Year 1996, these tax credits cost the state almost $50 million.

By Fiscal Year 2002, their price tag will reach over $200 million.

In total, the combination of tax cuts, tax credits, and tax refunds have returned almost $2 billion to Missouri taxpayers during the past six years.

It is only proper that Missouri taxpayers should share in our recent economic prosperity.

However, the combination of a slowing economy, deep tax cuts, and unexpected mandatory expenses have put stress on our state budget.

Therefore, the first priority of this legislative session must be to tighten our belts and deliver a balanced budget.

However, I will not allow this difficult situation to weaken our investment in the top priority of my administration—education.

Granted, this is not the budget situation any of us wanted.

It's certainly not the financial circumstances I wanted as I begin my administration.

Nor is it the financial situation many of you on both sides of the aisle foresaw when you were voting for tax cuts and tax credits during those years when revenue was growing more than expected.

But it is the economic reality we've been given.

Factors beyond our control have changed the economic climate dramatically.

Now our challenge is making that climate work for us in building a better Missouri.

I look forward to working with Senator Russell and Representative Green and their budget committee members in meeting this challenge.

I am committed to protecting the key priorities of most Missourians—education and prescription drug services.

But we must take the fiscally responsible actions necessary to keep our state's economy strong during the tough times, so we can continue to prosper in the good times.

EDUCATION

The best way we can invest in Missouri's future is by opening new educational opportunities for our children.

Education must be our number one priority.

The cornerstones of my plan to improve education include: adequate resources, quality teachers, parental involvement, accountability, technology, and a safe environment where students are ready to learn.

That task begins by ensuring that Missouri teachers and students have the resources they need to improve performance.

That's why my top priority this year will be to fully fund the school foundation formula.

Effective classroom resources are not enough by themselves.

We must have teachers like my first grade teacher Mrs. Smotherman, who can provide the best quality of instruction because they are the chief determining factor in improving student performance.

We must encourage our teachers to strengthen their skills.

We can accomplish that goal through the National Board Certification program.

To receive this certification, teachers go through a rigorous one-year evaluation and examination period.

During this time, they must demonstrate a mastery of advanced national standards in their subject area.

Typically, this process involves more than 200 hours of after school work from teachers, detailing and reflecting upon their teaching approach and strategies.

We are honored to have one of those teachers here with us today from West Boulevard Elementary in Columbia—Sunita Bajpai.

And if you doubt how difficult it is to achieve this status, just talk to Sunita.

Less than one out of two teachers successfully complete the program the first time.

It's a great pleasure to introduce you to one of our excellent Missouri National Board Certified teachers.

We only have 44 teachers like her in the entire state.

Sunita, would you please stand.

I want to see one thousand teachers like Sunita in our state over the next four years of my administration.

Following the lead of the 15 states that have been at the forefront in training National Board Certified teachers, I am recommending a $5,000 annual salary supplement for any Missouri teacher who completes this program.

And those who agree to help mentor other Missouri teachers for certification would receive a ten percent salary supplement.

I want to thank Senator Bentley and Senator Stoll for agreeing to sponsor this legislation.

I was just with Senator Bentley and other legislators last week at Pleasant View Middle School in Springfield on this very issue.

Both Senator Bentley and Senator Stoll have a longtime commitment to education, and I am confident they will be excellent spokespeople for the merits of this program.

In addition to adequate resources and good teachers, another key component in effective learning is parental involvement.

Unfortunately, many parents don't have a full and accurate picture of how well their child is doing at school as compared to children at other public schools.

I want to give Missouri parents that picture by establishing school accountability report cards.

This action will go one step beyond our present requirement for school district report cards, so parents will know exactly what is happening at their child's individual school.

Parents will receive information on classroom conditions, the professional qualifications of their child's teachers, class size, graduation and dropout rates, school safety, and a report on how their tax dollars are being spent.

They will be able to find even more extensive information at the school and on the Internet.

By holding schools accountable in this way, parents, taxpayers, and school patrons can compare the evaluation of their school with other schools in the area.

School report cards will also be useful to other schools--pointing out successful school strategies and practices that other schools can adopt to improve their institution.

We also are finding that technology is the tool that has the capacity to reform the classroom.

It changes the way teachers teach and students learn.

Students are more motivated and their achievement scores are higher.

Over the past few years, we've seen a greatly strengthened commitment to technology in our schools.

Today the ratio of students per computer in our schools is less than five to one.

The rate of students per Internet-connected computer is less than ten to one.

Our administration wants to continue to integrate these new technological tools into our children's learning so they will have the job skills to succeed in this new century economy.

So we are recommending an increased investment in technology grants from the primary grades to the postsecondary level.

The last critical element to student achievement is setting a classroom environment where students are respectful and involved in their work.

Many other states across the nation have found that establishing some form of character education in the school curriculum helps in establishing that environment.

In many respects, character education initiatives formally recognize and support what good parents and good teachers have always tried to instill in students—responsibility, respect, trustworthiness, fairness, caring, and citizenship.

Our state is well positioned to expand character education across Missouri.

This year, I want to provide funding so more schools can establish character education programs.

And over the next four years, I'd like to see that every Missouri school that wishes to integrate character education into the school environment has access to the teacher training and resource materials they need.

HEALTHY FAMILIES

In spite of this being a tight budget year, we have a rare opportunity to take steps to ensure a healthy future for Missouri families in the 21st century.

I want to see that our state's portion of the national tobacco settlement is used for vital health care needs contained in the Healthy Families Initiative that I will outline today.

A major portion of this initiative is focused on helping our senior citizens cope with skyrocketing prescription costs.

As you know, Medicare doesn't cover prescription drugs, and many of our seniors certainly cannot afford to buy separate insurance.

Many of these elderly people have multiple prescriptions for expensive medicines—medicines that cost them thousands of dollars a month—costs that sometimes exceed their income.

So what do they do about the situation?

For far too many, the answer is they go without their medicines—an act that often leads to even more serious illness and heavy medical bills.

Like so many of you, I have heard heartbreaking stories from Missouri seniors living on limited incomes who are forced to choose between the medicines they need and their ability to buy food or pay their rent or utility bills.

What a terrible dilemma.

And all I can say is: shame on us...shame on us for allowing that to go on in this state and this country.

Prescription drug relief for seniors is one of my highest priorities this year.

And I want...in fact...I need for it to be one of yours, too.

Under my plan, no eligible senior will pay more than $1,500 a person or $3,000 a family for their prescription drugs in any one year.

In addition, those seniors and those disabled Missourians on Medicare or Supplemental Security Income who do not already have insurance coverage for prescriptions will be able to buy their medicines at reduced rates—up to 20 percent less than they are currently paying.

Because of these actions, we will be able to phase out our present prescription drug tax credit, which has failed to help those seniors who most need our assistance because of catastrophic health care costs.

The second piece of my Healthy Families Initiative tackles our problem of providing health care access to all Missourians.

Over 90 percent of our counties are designated as shortage areas for health care professionals.

At the same time, many of our medical facilities that treat uninsured Missourians are facing budget cuts that may force them to reduce medical services to the poor.

I want to see us maintain a health care system that provides continued health care access for low-income adults, guarantees hospital care for the uninsured, increases medical education payments to teaching hospitals so they can afford the cost of training doctors and nurses, and establishes grants for rural and hospital-based clinics so they can continue to help the uninsured.

I believe we need recruitment incentives so primary care doctors and dentists will take their practices into the underserved areas of our state.

We will also establish a telehealth center at the University of Missouri-Columbia School of Medicine so patients and providers can interact with health care professionals miles away and medical training is available to doctors in isolated areas of the state.

Another part of our tobacco settlement money must be spent on programs that prevent smoking.

While we already provide resources to prevent tobacco use, our state still ranks fifth in the nation in the percentage of adults who do smoke.

Almost a third of our high school students smoke.

With those statistics, it probably doesn't surprise you that our state ranks well above average in diseases related to smoking—heart disease, cancer, and other diseases.

Obviously, our efforts are not working.

While we are investing a great deal of money in anti-smoking activities, those activities are scattered.

We must bring coordination to this process and focus our existing resources as well as bolster what we are currently doing with a substantial new investment in preventing our citizens from taking up this addictive and harmful habit.

I want to invest in a comprehensive tobacco prevention plan that has proven effective in other states to help communities develop their own anti-smoking education programs and to fund a statewide media campaign against smoking.

One area that holds exciting promise for both the future health of Missouri citizens and our economy is the life sciences.

Missouri has the opportunity to be a leader in this field.

We must seize this opportunity by investing in research at our public institutions.

From what I have already seen across our state, I am convinced the life sciences will lead us to tremendous advancements in the prevention and treatment of diseases such as cancer, arthritis, diabetes, and AIDS.

A perfect example of what I am talking about is one of our guests today, Dr. Michael DeBaun, who serves as Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at Washington University and a clinical director at St. Louis Children's Hospital.

Dr. DeBaun has been conducting clinical research on sickle cell disease and the children who suffer strokes that go undetected as a result of this disease.

He's studying how to best identify children who have suffered one of these strokes and what kind of educational rehabilitation can be done to help them catch up at school.

The research Dr. DeBaun is doing will make a difference in the lives of countless children in the future.

Dr. DeBaun, would you please stand so we can recognize you for the fine work you are doing.

Another way we are improving the quality of life for our citizens through the life sciences is by targeting environmental pollution and improving the way we treat our drinking water and our industrial and hazardous waste.

I also want Missouri's life science corridor to extend throughout the fields and pastures of our state.

Agriculture has always been the foundation of our state's economy, and it can strengthen our future as well.

If we take the opportunity, our corn and beans can provide us with immunity from disease, and fuel our vehicles, and nourish our families.

Milk from our dairy industry can do more than just build strong bones.

It can become a new source for insulin and other new medical treatments.

I want to link the scientist with the farmer through our life science advancements and our Department of Agriculture.

Life science possibilities can provide new opportunities for our next generation of family farmers.

Our potential for new foods and new uses for food products are endless through life science research.

At the same time, the life sciences will strengthen our economy through the high wage jobs and industry growth they create.

Studies have demonstrated that the return on our investment in life science health research is more than 15 to 1.

I believe investing a part of the tobacco settlement in the life sciences is critical to ensuring Missouri's ability to compete in a new century and guarantee continued economic growth for all Missourians.

The last portion of our tobacco settlement money should be spent on giving more Missouri children a healthy start in life.

Lori and I know the value of our state's nationally recognized early childhood program, Parents As Teachers, because we've been participants with our two boys, Robert and John D.

Through Parents As Teachers and other community-based initiatives, families learn the value of good preventive health care choices for their children and can guide them toward healthy lifestyle choices and success in school.

Unfortunately, at the present time, much of our early childhood efforts are not reaching those who need it most—our at-risk children in low-income families.

They deserve a healthy start in life.

I want to commit part of our tobacco settlement money to reach out to these at-risk families so they can have the same opportunities for success as so many other Missouri families.

Next week I will issue an executive order establishing the Healthy Families Trust Fund.

All tobacco settlement money will be placed in this fund so we can keep track of how much is being used for each part of our initiative—prescription drug costs, health care access, anti-smoking programs, life sciences, and early childhood care.

In this way, we will have the accountability in place to assure the taxpayers that all the tobacco money is going to the areas I have identified.

HEALTHY WOMEN

Another segment of our population that deserves the opportunity for better health care is Missouri women.

While most of our state HMO health care plans allow complete access to family doctors and pediatricians, women have problems getting direct access to their OB/GYNs.

Our current law only requires health care plans to cover one annual visit without a referral.

I want to see us change the law so women can have access to their OB/GYNs whenever it is medically appropriate for important procedures.

I also believe it's critical that Missouri women are notified annually about covered services such as Pap tests and mammograms and that they have access to the best available cancer screenings such as the ThinPrep Pap test, which reduces the need for repeat testing.

According to the American Cancer Society, 3,700 Missouri women will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year, and 800 of them will die.

Three hundred women will test positive for cervical cancer.

Eighty percent of the women who die from cervical cancer had not had a pap test in at least five years.

Too many of us know too many women...wives, daughters, sisters, mothers, and grandmothers...who have suffered, or even worse, lost their lives because of these deadly diseases.

Early detection is the best way to ensure survival.

By requiring annual notification of cancer screenings that are covered by health care plans and calling for expanded access, we can greatly improve the quality of life and health of women in the state of Missouri.

One more reminder or one extra doctor's visit can make a difference. Let's make that difference.

TRANSPORTATION

When we talk about missed opportunities in Missouri, the prime example is transportation.

Transportation is an issue that touches every citizen in our state—young or old, urban or rural, Democrat or Republican.

And it holds such rich potential for Missouri.

We have a prime geographic location, the two largest inland waterways, two international airports, the second largest rail center in the nation, and we hold a key position in the I-35 corridor that links us to important trade partners.

We have the potential to be a significant international hub in the 21st century.

Yet sadly, transportation has been neglected for too long—to the detriment of the personal safety of our citizens and our economy.

One-third of our bridges need improvement or replacement.

Five thousand miles of our roads and 5,700 intersections need safety improvements.

Our transit system is in jeopardy.

And we are unable to furnish the assistance we need for rail, air, or ports.

All of these deficiencies are impeding our ability to compete in this 21st century economy.

In the case of our highway system, what is even more staggering is the human cost.

One person is injured every 6.7 minutes on our roadways and bridges.

Three Missourians are killed every day.

And each of them is much more than a number.

They are a neighbor...a family member...a friend.

We will miss them and always wonder why they were taken from us so senselessly.

One of those Missourians was a 17-year-old girl—Kristin Nicole Hendrickson.

Just three months before graduation, through no fault of her own, she never got to walk up the aisle to get her diploma.

Her prom dress hung in the closet unworn.

She never read her college acceptance letter.

Because Kristin died on a two-lane stretch of Highway 61 between Canton and LaGrange when a pickup truck tried to pass another car and hit her head-on.

So many people have lost their lives on that stretch of road that it has become known as “Death Alley.”

But because of Kristin’s classmates at Canton High School, something tragic also became something inspiring.

These young people started a grassroots movement called SMART—Students of Missouri Assisting Rural Transportation.

They wrote letters, gathered petition signatures, lobbied legislators, and even testified at a Missouri Highway and Transportation Commission meeting to make a safer four-lane highway on this stretch of road a priority.

Because of their efforts, a project to widen this section of Highway 61 is now a high priority of our Transportation Department.

But the young people of SMART have not stopped there.

They are trying to organize SMART chapters all over Missouri, working to improve our state transportation system for all Missourians.

I just visited with these wonderful young people last week in my office, and they told me about their friend Kristin.

Please join me in welcoming these unbelievably committed young people and Kristin's parents, Bill and Julie Hendrickson, who are showing all of us how to get things done.

So the real question is: if this group of young people can get done what needs to get done, why can't we?

We have put off fixing our transportation system for too long because the cure was expensive...because we couldn't agree on what to do...and because no one was willing to take the lead on a solution.

I am prepared to take that lead.

It is time for us to stop looking backward and placing blame for prior mistakes and inaction.

The longer we wait, the worse our situation becomes.

It's time we come together as one Missouri.

Let us come together this session to develop a transportation system that will keep our citizens safe and spur economic growth in the 21st century.

And we must insist on accountability.

We have to give the public the confidence that every dollar they're spending on transportation is spent wisely and efficiently, and we're getting the full benefit of those dollars.

Don't let anyone tell us we can't get this done.

This is our time.

This is our responsibility.

We must act.

.08 BLOOD ALCOHOL CONTENT

Poor road conditions are not the only reason we lose lives on our highways in Missouri.

Drunk drivers are another major cause.

Almost two out of every five Americans will be involved in an alcohol-related crash at some point in their lives.

Right now, in Missouri, the blood alcohol content for being arrested as a drunk driver is .10, even though all the evidence shows that a driver is substantially impaired at the .08 level.

An analysis of the first five states that lowered the blood alcohol limit to .08 revealed significant decreases in fatal crashes related to alcohol in four out of the five.

The tremendous toll in human life and suffering our higher blood alcohol content law is causing should be more than sufficient reason to lower the legal limit.

And federal authorities are also sending us a signal of how important they feel this issue is.

We are losing federal incentive money for our highways by not adopting .08.

We would be receiving an additional three million dollars every year now.

If we don't pass a .08 law by October 1, 2003, we will be paying a sanction in the neighborhood of $8 million—a penalty that increases to $32 million in 2007 if we still haven't passed the bill.

Let's make it happen this year.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Another safety issue that demands our attention this legislative session is the silent sickness of our society known as domestic violence.

For too long, much of this abuse has been kept hushed up behind locked doors because women are afraid to report it.

Some feel some misguided sense of shame as if they have asked to be battered.

Or they simply don't know where to turn.

Only one in seven battered women call the police for help.

And the effect of this abuse is even more devastating on the children in these families.

They often suffer extreme mental stress and grow up to become abusers themselves.

Even though the late Mel Carnahan was the first governor to propose significant funding to fight domestic violence, we still have much left to do.

Only 46 of our state's 114 counties have domestic violence centers and support for battered women and their children.

What is truly shocking about the situation is the number of women and children turned away.

In 1999, nearly 5,000 Missouri women and children who sought shelter from abuse were told there was just no room.

That is why, even in this difficult budget period, I strongly recommend an additional $3 million for local domestic violence shelters next fiscal year.

In many places where shelter assistance is available, the support is excellent.

One good example is Rose Brooks Center in Kansas City.

The current shelter only houses 50 people.

But when the new Center opens in August, 75 women and children will have a safe haven from abuse.

Rose Brooks clearly illustrates what can be accomplished when we work together.

Public funding at the state and federal level combined with private funding sources made this new facility possible.

Please help me recognize the Executive Director of Rose Brooks, Susan Miller.

I will be appointing a special task force on domestic violence in the next few weeks to conduct the first ever inventory of our state's funding and resources to deal with domestic violence.

This task force will also develop a strategic action plan for how we can coordinate and integrate our approach to domestic violence, based on needs and priorities.

Because of her extensive experience in this field, I have asked Susan if she would agree to serve as the first member of this task force when it is appointed, and she has accepted.

MORE EFFICIENT GOVERNMENT

If we are to fully realize the opportunities that this new century will bring, we must continue to make our state government more efficient and effective.

Business continually finds new and better ways to serve their customers, and I want Missouri government to do the same.

We must improve the services we provide to our citizens.

To do this, we need to set the priorities we want to achieve, measure our success in meeting those priorities, and use this information to drive decisions that will bring us greater success.

We've already seen some great examples of how this can work.

In our Department of Revenue, state employees worked on evaluating the cost of red tape in their agency and then made it a priority to cut costs.

Because of those efforts, they created simpler tax forms, promoted the electronic filing of tax returns, and now thanks to legislative approval, offer two-year automobile registration, saving our taxpayers millions of hours of time and a great deal of money.

I want to use this model to look at the total cost of state government.

With our tight budget, I want to make certain every tax dollar is working for the taxpayers.

I want to find ways we can take the hassle out of dealing with state agencies.

I want to see us combine overlapping programs, employ cutting edge technology, and do more with less.

CONCLUSION

Before I joined you this morning, I was with some young students from around the state, including my hometown of Birch Tree.

We weren't physically in the same place, but the wonders of modern technology brought us together for an electronic dialogue.

Because of such amazing advancements, our students in rural areas no longer have to hope the world's knowledge and experiences will come to them.

They can go out and find that knowledge and experience on-line.

So much has changed for the better since I took that first mile and a half walk to a one-room schoolhouse.

But all that progress has been possible because of one constant that will never change—the imagination and hard work of Missouri's people.

Their dreams and labors have brought us far in the last century.

And they can take us even farther in this new century if we work together, as a Governor and a legislature, to do what is right for them with our actions...if we give them the opportunity to fulfill their potential.

Over the last few years, the wise decisions made by many of you here today have provided those opportunities.

Now, in this time of challenge, we must make tough choices to ensure Missouri continues to head in the right direction.

Those choices carry no partisan label.

They must only pass one simple test.

Are these actions right for Missouri?

What is right for Missouri this year means improving our schools...helping our seniors deal with the soaring cost of prescription drugs...making certain our fiscal house is in order.

We must work together to meet those commitments.

I realize that's not as easy as it sounds.

After all, I've sat where you're sitting—right there in seat 76 for six years.

But I will tell you one thing that helped me during those hours of spirited debate.

Whenever the discussion would become heated...the issue would be extremely complicated...or I would feel discouraged, there would always be a moment when I would look straight ahead at this dais.

And there, emblazoned in gold letters, I would see what you see today...what countless people that have been given this sacred trust have seen from their first day in this hallowed chamber—"Let the welfare of the people be the supreme law."

Those ten words are our guide.

They are our responsibility.

They are our vision.

They are why we are here.

In the spirit of bipartisanship and our mutual love for Missouri, let us honor them with our actions in the weeks...the months...the years to come.

Thank you.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINETEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2001

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Gracious God, we begin a new month today. It may be the shortest month of the year, but it is one which will make many demands on these representatives. Give them the gift of deep leadership this day and this month. Offer them the power of that profound sense of responsibility, which leads by justice, indeed, but also by compassion.

May they have the stick-to-it-iveness that will handle not only the ideas, but also the details. And, perhaps most importantly, give them joy and delight in their work, the deep happiness which erupts from the inner knowledge that we do Your work and build Your world. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTIETH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Lord, I ask these representatives to think for a moment of their constituents back in their home districts. Those men and women, in their villages, towns, cities and counties, chose these good people as their best hope here in the legislature.

Lord, give these chosen men and women knowledge of how to preserve those traditions worth saving, and how to change those things that threaten life or liberty or the pursuit of happiness.

And please, Lord, give these representatives a great portion of inner peace, wisdom, mental and emotional strength to do, in the best way they can, what they have been elected to do. So may it be. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2001

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

This winter day, God, is sunny and warmer than usual. May this House be similar. Let Your light guide the course of this place, filling up the shadows, pointing the way to community, progress, peace. May Your heat fire our passions for the right and the good.

In committees, listening and speaking, through agreement and disagreement in the halls and offices, in strategy to turn thought and ideal into reality, consecrate us. You are our foundation and the goal of all worth building. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Nathaniel Markman, Janet Rader and Victoria Kelley.

Gracious, God, we know that the hidden things in our hearts are not hidden from You. If our intentions are good, help us to make them live in good deeds. Bless the men and women of this House this day; to You be glory and honor. Amen

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lauren Beard and Rachel Starks.

RESOLUTION

House Resolution No. 226

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives are always pleased to welcome distinguished citizens as they visit the Show-Me State for official business at this magnificent capitol; and

WHEREAS, on Wednesday, February 7, 2001, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt will speak on the first floor of the Capitol Rotunda as part of the activities being held in conjunction with Maternal and Child Health Advocacy Day; and

WHEREAS, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt is coming to Jefferson City in her important capacity as a National Board of Trustees member for the March of Dimes, the volunteer health agency which was founded in 1938 by her grandfather, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, to search for a cure for polio; and

WHEREAS, originally called the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the organization assumed the name March of Dimes when famed radio announcer and vaudeville comedian Eddie Cantor urged his listeners to send their spare dimes to the White House and to President Roosevelt, who was a polio victim himself; and

WHEREAS, following the death of FDR in 1945, the nation honored its fallen leader by placing his portrait on the dime as a special tribute of gratitude for his steadfast commitment to the March of Dimes Foundation; and

WHEREAS, during the past sixty-three years, the March of Dimes has grown to become this nation's third largest volunteer health agency with more than three million volunteers who dedicate themselves to the organization's historic mission and who continually set exciting goals for consistent innovations in maternal and infant health; and

WHEREAS, the March of Dimes has the distinction of being the only national volunteer health agency that has succeeded in defeating the disease which it had been established to conquer:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-first General Assembly, join unanimously in extending a most cordial welcome to Anna Eleanor Roosevelt during her visit to the statehouse in Jefferson City and to applaud her for all the achievements she has realized over the years as a supporter of the March of Dimes and other important organizations and as a manuscript librarian, artist, teacher, administrator, and lobbyist; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, as a mark of our esteem for her.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Agriculture, to which was referred HCR 13, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 13

WHEREAS, the current federal milk marketing order pricing system does not fully account for regional differences in the costs of producing milk and only establishes a minimum price for milk; and

WHEREAS, entering into dairy compacts is thus the means for states to obtain from Congress the regulatory authority over their region's interstate markets for milk; and

WHEREAS, the Southern Dairy Compact shall become effective when entered into by three of the designated states in the Compact and when the consent of Congress has been obtained; and

WHEREAS, at least three states of the required states having entered into the Southern Dairy Compact, leaving on the necessary consent of Congress to be obtained before the Compact shall become effective:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress to consent to the Southern Dairy Compact to allow the states that enter into the Compact to have regulatory authority over their region's interstate markets for milk; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and every member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

On this day we think of the heart and of how our lives flourish when we experience love. Gracious God, we thank You for our parents, brothers and sisters, husbands and wives, children, grandchildren and close friends who give us their love. The men and women of this House have been blessed with this gift. Help us all to be worthy of the love that is given.

We know that candy and flowers can never atone for our neglect of them. So we pray that in the days ahead our love may speak to the hearts who love us, through kindness, gentle attention, thoughtfulness and respect.

Bless those whose names we now whisper in Your presence and keep them in Your perfect peace. To you be glory and honor forever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2001

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God: we are thankful that we are alive this day, that food is delicious to our taste, that the ground is firm beneath our feet, that rest can compensate for hard work, that goodness is stronger than evil.

We thank You for friends who care, for ways that open when every door seems shut, for the reality of forgiveness - human and divine, for major worries and problems that make life's minor irritations bearable.

Keep this House in Your care this day, and bless these men and women as they seek to serve the people of Missouri. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

All the heavens declare Your glory, and all the earth Your handiwork, Creator of the universe. The heavens we leave to You, God. We solicit support and grace, however, to try to continue to improve the lot of our earthly society within our state of Missouri.

As we begin this legislative week, we pray for our citizens. We count on Your succor in building up those laws and statutes which might bring our culture closer to Your heavenly commonwealth. Guide and direct these legislators this week and all this session, and protect their families back home. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kayleigh Harris, Caleb Harris, Joshua Harris and Kate Harris.

The Journal of the twenty-seventh day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God, help us entrust the committee meetings, the discussions, the time with constituents, all the affairs of this day to Your attention. Your care will infuse these dealings and interactions with a deeper sense of meaning and purpose.

May our representatives not work as if they are alone or helpless, but rather awake with the knowledge that Your spirit breathes in and through their efforts and toiling. Grant them this presence as they humbly stand praying to You at the start of this day. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sarah Leleah McDonald, Maddy Noss, Steven Le, Daniel Kuehn and Ashley Burris.

(a) Promises of cure, relief from pain or other physical or mental condition, or improved physical or mental health;

(b) Any misleading or deceptive statement offering or promising a free service. Nothing herein shall be construed to make it unlawful to offer a service for no charge if the offer is announced as part of a full disclosure of routine fees including consultation fees;

(c) Any misleading or deceptive claims of patient cure, relief or improved condition; superiority in service, treatment or materials; new or improved service, treatment or material; or reduced costs or greater savings. Nothing herein shall be construed to make it unlawful to use any such claim if it is readily verifiable by existing documentation, data or other substantial evidence. Any claim [which] that exceeds or exaggerates the scope of its supporting documentation, data or evidence is misleading or deceptive;

(d) Any announced fee for a specified service where that fee does not include the charges for necessary related or incidental services, or where the actual fee charged for that specified service may exceed the announced fee, but it shall not be unlawful to announce only the maximum fee [which] that can be charged for the specified service, including all related or incidental services, modified by the term "up to" if desired;

(e) Any announcement in any form including the term "specialist" or the phrase "limited to the specialty of" unless each person named in conjunction with the term or phrase, or responsible for the announcement, holds a valid Missouri certificate and license evidencing that the person is a specialist in that area;

(f) Any announcement containing any of the terms denoting recognized specialties, or other descriptive terms carrying the same meaning, unless the announcement clearly designates by list each dentist not licensed as a specialist in Missouri who is sponsoring or named in the announcement, or employed by the entity sponsoring the announcement, after the following clearly legible or audible statement: "Notice: the following dentist(s) in this practice is (are) not licensed in Missouri as specialists in the advertised dental specialty(s) of";

(16) Failure or refusal to properly guard against contagious, infectious or communicable diseases or the spread thereof;

(17) Failing to maintain his or her office or offices, laboratory, equipment and instruments in a safe and sanitary condition;

(18) Accepting [or], tendering or paying "rebates" to or "splitting fees" with any other person; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to make it unlawful for a dentist practicing in a partnership or as a corporation organized pursuant to the provisions of chapter 356, RSMo, [from distributing] to distribute profits in accordance with his or her stated agreement;

(19) Administering, or causing or permitting to be administered, nitrous oxide gas in any amount to himself or herself[;], or to another unless [this administration is done] as an adjunctive measure to patient management;

(20) Being unable to practice as a dentist, specialist or hygienist with reasonable skill and safety to patients by reasons of professional incompetency, or because of illness, drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, narcotics, chemicals, or as a result of any mental or physical condition. In enforcing this subdivision the board shall, after a hearing before the board, upon a finding of probable cause, require the dentist or specialist or hygienist to submit to a reexamination for the purpose of establishing his or her competency to practice as a dentist, specialist or hygienist, which reexamination shall be conducted in accordance with rules adopted for this purpose by the board, including rules to allow the examination of the dentist's, specialist's or hygienist's professional competence by at least three dentists or fellow specialists, or to submit to a mental or physical examination or combination thereof by at least three physicians. One examiner shall be selected by the dentist, specialist or hygienist compelled to take examination, one selected by the board, and one shall be selected by the two examiners so selected. Notice of the physical or mental examination shall be given by personal service or registered mail. Failure of the dentist, specialist or hygienist to submit to the examination when directed shall constitute an admission of the allegations against him or her, unless the failure was due to circumstances beyond his or her control. A dentist, specialist or hygienist whose right to practice has been affected pursuant to this subdivision shall, at reasonable intervals, be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate that he or she can resume competent practice with reasonable skill and safety to patients.

(a) In any proceeding pursuant to this subdivision, neither the record of proceedings nor the orders entered by the board shall be used against a dentist, specialist or hygienist in any other proceeding. Proceedings pursuant to this subdivision shall be conducted by the board without the filing of a complaint with the administrative hearing commission;

(b) When the board finds any person unqualified because of any of the grounds set forth in this subdivision, it may enter an order imposing one or more of the following: denying his or her application for a license; permanently withholding issuance of a license; administering a public or private reprimand; placing on probation, suspending or limiting or restricting his or her license to practice as a dentist, specialist or hygienist for a period of not more than five years; revoking his or her license to practice as a dentist, specialist or hygienist; requiring him or her to submit to the care, counseling or treatment of physicians designated by the dentist, specialist or hygienist compelled to be treated; or requiring such person to submit to identification, intervention, treatment or rehabilitation by the well-being committee as provided in section 332.327. For the purpose of this subdivision, "license" includes the certificate of registration, or license, or both, issued by the board.

3. After the filing of such complaint, the proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of chapter 621, RSMo. Upon a finding by the administrative hearing commission that the grounds, provided in subsection 2, for disciplinary action are met, the board may, singly or in combination:

(1) Censure or place the person or firm named in the complaint on probation on such terms and conditions as the board deems appropriate for a period not to exceed five years; or

(2) [May] Suspend the license, certificate or permit for a period not to exceed three years; or

(3) Revoke the license, certificate, or permit. In any order of revocation, the board may provide that the person may not apply for licensure for a period of time ranging from two to seven years following the date of the order of revocation; or

(4) Cause the person or firm named in the complaint to make restitution to any patient, or any insurer or third-party payer who shall have paid in whole or in part a claim or payment which they should be reimbursed [for], where restitution would be an appropriate remedy, including the reasonable cost of follow-up care to correct or complete a procedure performed or one [which] that was to be performed by the person or firm named in the complaint; or

(5) Request the attorney general to bring an action in the circuit court of competent jurisdiction to recover a civil penalty on behalf of the state in an amount to be assessed by the court.

4. If the board concludes that a dentist or dental hygienist has committed an act or is engaging in a course of conduct that would be grounds for disciplinary action and that constitutes a clear and present danger to public health and safety, the board may file a complaint before the administrative hearing commission which requests an expedited hearing, which specifies the activities that endanger the public health and safety and which specifies the nature of the proposed restriction or suspension of the dentist's or dental hygienist's license. Within fifteen days after service of the complaint on the dentist or dental hygienist, the administrative hearing commission shall conduct a preliminary hearing to determine whether the alleged activities of the dentist or dental hygienist appear to constitute a clear and present danger to the public health and safety which justify the immediate restriction or suspension of the dentist's or dental hygienist's license. The burden of proving that a dentist or dental hygienist is a clear and present danger to the public health and safety is on the Missouri dental board. The administrative hearing commission shall issue its decision immediately after the hearing and shall either grant the board the authority to suspend or restrict the license or dismiss the action.

5. If the administrative hearing commission grants temporary authority to the board to restrict or suspend the dentist's or dental hygienist's license, such temporary authority shall become final authority if the dentist or dental hygienist fails to request a full hearing within thirty days of the preliminary hearing. The administrative hearing commission shall, if requested by the dentist or dental hygienist named in the complaint, set a date to hold a full hearing pursuant to chapter 621, RSMo, regarding the activities alleged in the initial complaint filed by the board.

6. If the administrative hearing commission dismisses the action filed by the board pursuant to subsection 4 of this section, such dismissal shall not bar the board from initiating a subsequent action on the same grounds.

7. Notwithstanding any other provisions of section 332.071 or of this section, a [duly registered and] currently licensed dentist in Missouri may enter into an agreement with individuals and organizations to provide dental health care, provided such agreement does not permit or compel practices [in violation of this section or violate any other] that violate any provision of this chapter.

[5.] 8. At all proceedings for the enforcement of these or any other provisions of this chapter the board shall, as it deems necessary, select, in its discretion, either the attorney general or one of the attorney general's assistants designated by the attorney general or other legal counsel to appear and represent the board at each stage of such proceeding or trial until its conclusion.

[6.] 9. If at any time when any [disciplinary sanctions have] discipline has been imposed pursuant to this section or pursuant to any provision of this chapter, the licensee removes himself or herself from the state of Missouri, ceases to be currently licensed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, or fails to keep the Missouri dental board advised of his or her current place of business and residence, the time of his or her absence, or unlicensed status, or unknown whereabouts shall not be deemed or taken as any part of the time of discipline so imposed."; and

Further amend said title, enacting clause and intersectional references accordingly.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Committee on Environment and Energy, Chairman Lawson reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Environment and Energy, to which was referred HCR 16, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 16

WHEREAS, on January 29, 2001, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in the case of Sierra Club v. Browner ordered the United States Environmental Protection Agency to decide by March 12, 2001, whether the St. Louis area is in serious violation of standards for ozone air pollution; and

WHEREAS, since the court was barred from ordering the Environmental Protection Agency to find the St. Louis area in "serious" violation, the question of what the EPA will ultimately decide to do is still open; and

WHEREAS, a "serious" designation by the Environmental Protection Agency for the St. Louis area would be significant for the region because it could deter the development of new industries in the region by requiring more costly and restrictive air pollution controls on industry aimed at improving air quality as well as imposing penalties, such as the withholding of federal highway dollars; and

WHEREAS, the state of Missouri and its citizens have worked hard to improve the St. Louis area's air quality through such steps as the use of reformulated gasoline, the implementation of stricter industry controls on emissions, improvements in mass transit, a vehicle inspection program that started in April 2000 and the placement of nozzles on gas pumps to collect gas fumes; and

WHEREAS, last year, the Environmental Protection Agency agreed to give the St. Louis area until November of 2003 to meet the ozone standards and any reduction in that time frame would be unfair to the citizens of St. Louis and the state who have worked so diligently to improve the air quality:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Environmental Protection Agency to provide the St. Louis area with the time promised last year to meet the ozone standards before making its determination as to whether the area is in serious violation of standards for ozone air pollution; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for President George Bush, EPA Administrator Christine Todd Whitman, Governor Bob Holden and each member of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Committee on Fiscal Review and Government Reform, Chairman Hollingsworth reporting:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Heavenly Father, to follow all the goings on in this Chamber and in these committee and hearing rooms is to follow a staggering number of ideas, proposals, opinions, viewpoints, beliefs, judgements and motivations. Only You, it seems could really bring orderliness to what seems such a collection of diversity.

Please, this day and the rest of this session, help to bring just that. These women and men want the best for this state and for their constituents, and for that they work and they pray. We trust You will help us, out of Your goodness, if we expend our best efforts, to make it so. May it be so. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-first day was approved as corrected.

AMEND House Bill No. 80, Page 1, In the Title, Lines 1 to 2, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"To amend chapter 70, RSMo, by adding thereto twenty-two new sections relating to cooperative law enforcement efforts between political subdivisions."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 1, Section A, Lines 1 to 20, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section A. Chapter 70, RSMo, is amended by adding thereto twenty-two new sections, to be known as sections 70.827, 70.829, 70.831, 70.833, 70.900, 70.903, 70.906, 70.909, 70.912, 70.915, 70.918, 70.921, 70.924, 70.927, 70.930, 70.933, 70.936, 70.939, 70.942, 70.945, 70.948 and 70.951, to read as follows:"; and

Further amend said bill, Page 1, Section 70.829, Line 1, by inserting before all of said line the following:

"70.900. Sections 70.900 to 70.951 shall be known as the "Missouri Law Enforcement District Act".

70.903. As used in sections 70.900 to 70.951, the following terms mean:

- (1) "Approval of the required majority" or "direct voter approval", a simple majority;
- (2) "Board", the board of directors of a district;
- (3) "District", a law enforcement district organized pursuant to sections 70.900 to 70.951.

70.906. 1. A district may be created to fund, promote, plan, design, construct, improve, maintain and operate one or more projects relating to law enforcement or to assist in such activity.

2. A district is a political subdivision of the state.

3. A district may be created in any county of the first classification without a charter form of government and a population of fifty thousand inhabitants or less.

70.909. 1. Whenever the creation of a district is desired, ten percent of the registered voters within the proposed district may file a petition requesting the creation of a district. The petition shall be filed in the circuit court of the county in which the proposed district is located.

2. The proposed district area shall be contiguous and may contain any portion of one or more municipalities.

3. The petition shall set forth:

(1) The name and address of each owner of real property located within the proposed district or who is a registered voter resident within the proposed district;

(2) A specific description of the proposed district boundaries including a map illustrating such boundaries;

(3) A general description of the purpose or purposes for which the district is being formed; and

(4) The name of the proposed district.

4. In the event any owner of real property within the proposed district who is named in the petition or any legal voter resident within the district shall not join in the petition or file an entry of appearance and waiver of service of process in the case, a copy of the petition shall be served upon said owner or legal voter in the manner provided by supreme court rule for the service of petitions generally. Any objections to the petition shall be raised by answer within the time provided by supreme court rule for the filing of an answer to a petition.

70.912. 1. Any owner of real property within the proposed district and any legal voter who is a resident within the proposed district may join in or file a petition supporting or answer opposing the creation of the district and seeking a judgment respecting these same issues.

2. The court shall hear the case without a jury. If the court determines the petition is defective or the proposed district or its plan of operation is unconstitutional, it shall enter its judgment to that effect and shall refuse to incorporate the district as requested in the pleadings. If the court determines the petition is not legally defective and the proposed district and plan of operation are not unconstitutional, the court shall determine and declare the district organized and incorporated and shall approve the plan of operation stated in the petition.

3. Any party having filed a petition or answer to a petition may appeal the circuit court's order or judgment in the same manner as provided for other appeals. Any order either refusing to incorporate the district or incorporating the district shall be a final judgment for purposes of appeal.

70.915. The costs of filing and defending the petition and all publication and incidental costs incurred in obtaining circuit court certification of the petition for voter approval shall be paid by the petitioners. If a district is organized pursuant to sections 70.900 to 70.951, the petitioners may be reimbursed for such costs out of the revenues received by the district.

70.918. A district created pursuant to sections 70.900 to 70.951 shall be governed by a board of directors consisting of five members to be elected as provided in section 70.921.

70.921. 1. Within thirty days after the order declaring the district organized has become final, the circuit clerk of the county in which the petition was filed shall give notice by causing publication to be made once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, the last publication of which shall be at least ten days before the day of the meeting required by this section, to call a meeting of the owners of real property and registered voters resident within the district at a day and hour specified in a public place in the county in which the petition was filed for the purpose of electing a board of five directors, two to serve one year, two to serve two years, and one to serve three years, to be composed of residents of the district.

2. The attendees, when assembled, shall organize by the election of a chairman and secretary of the meeting who shall conduct the election.

3. Each director shall serve for a term of three years and until such director's successor is duly elected and qualified. Successor directors shall be elected in the same manner as the initial directors at a meeting of the residents called by the board. Each successor director shall serve a three-year term. The remaining directors shall have the authority to elect an interim director to complete any unexpired term of a director caused by resignation or disqualification.

4. Directors shall be at least twenty-one years of age.

70.924. 1. The board shall possess and exercise all of the district's legislative and executive powers.

2. Within thirty days after the election of the initial directors, the board shall meet. At its first meeting and after each election of new board members the board shall elect a chairman, a secretary, a treasurer and such other officers as it deems necessary from its members. A director may fill more than one office, except that a director may not fill both the office of chairman and secretary.

3. The board may employ such employees as it deems necessary; provided, however, that the board shall not employ any employee who is related within the third degree by blood or marriage to a member of the board.

4. At the first meeting, the board, by resolution, shall define the first and subsequent fiscal years of the district, and shall adopt a corporate seal.

5. A simple majority of the board shall constitute a quorum. If a quorum exists, a majority of those voting shall have the authority to act in the name of the board, and approve any board resolution.

6. Each director shall devote such time to the duties of the office as their faithful discharge may require and may be reimbursed for such director's actual expenditures in the performance of such director's duties on behalf of the district.

70.927. A district may receive and use funds for the purposes of planning, designing, constructing, reconstructing, maintaining and operating one or more projects relating to law enforcement. Such funds may be derived from any funding method which is authorized by sections 70.900 to 70.951 and from any other source, including but not limited to funds from federal sources, the state of Missouri or an agency of the state, a political subdivision of the state or private sources.

70.930. 1. If approved by at least four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting on the question in the district, the district may impose a property tax in an amount not to exceed the annual rate of thirty cents per one hundred dollars assessed valuation. The district board may levy a property tax rate lower than its approved tax rate ceiling and may increase that lowered tax rate to a level not exceeding the tax rate ceiling without voter approval. The property tax shall be uniform throughout the district.

2. The ballot of submission shall be substantially in the following form:

Shall the Law Enforcement District impose a property tax upon all real and tangible personal property within the district at a rate of not more than (insert amount) cents per one hundred dollars assessed valuation for the purpose of providing revenue for the development of a project (or projects) in the district (insert general description of the project or projects, if necessary)?

☐ YES

☐ NO

If you are in favor of the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "YES". If you are opposed to the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "NO".

3. The county collector of each county in which the district is partially or entirely located shall collect the property taxes and special benefit assessments made upon all real property and tangible personal property within that county and the district, in the same manner as other property taxes are collected.

4. Every county collector having collected or received district property taxes shall, on or before the fifteenth day of each month and after deducting his or her commissions, remit to the treasurer of that district the amount collected or received by him or her prior to the first day of the month. Upon receipt of such money, the district treasurer shall execute a receipt therefor, which he or she shall forward or deliver to the collector.

The district treasurer shall deposit such sums into the district treasury, credited to the appropriate project or purpose. The collector and district treasurer shall make final settlement of the district account and commissions owing, not less than once each year, if necessary.

70.933. 1. A district may contract and incur obligations appropriate to accomplish its purposes.

2. A district may enter into any lease or lease-purchase agreement for or with respect to any real or personal property necessary or convenient for its purposes.

3. A district may borrow money for its purposes at such rates of interest as the district may determine.

4. A district may enter into labor agreements, establish all bid conditions, decide all contract awards, pay all contractors and generally supervise the operation of the district.

70.936. The district may contract with a federal agency, a state or its agencies and political subdivisions, a corporation, partnership or individual regarding funding, promotion, planning, designing, constructing, improving, maintaining or operating a project or to assist in such activity; provided, however, that any contract providing for the overall management and operation of the district shall only be with a governmental entity or a not for profit corporation.

70.939. In addition to all other powers granted by sections 70.900 to 70.951 the district shall have the following general powers:

(1) To contract with the local sheriff's department for the provision of services;

(2) To sue and be sued in its own name, and to receive service of process, which shall be served upon the district secretary;

(3) To fix compensation of its employees and contractors;

(4) To purchase any personal property necessary or convenient for its activities;

(5) To collect and disburse funds for its activities; and

(6) To exercise such other implied powers necessary or convenient for the district to accomplish its purposes which are not inconsistent with its express powers.

70.942. 1. The district may obtain such insurance as it deems appropriate, considering its legal limits of liability, to protect itself, its officers and its employees from any potential liability and may also obtain such other types of insurance as it deems necessary to protect against loss of its real or personal property of any kind. The cost of this insurance shall be charged against the project.

2. The district may also require contractors performing construction or maintenance work on the project and companies providing operational and management services to obtain liability insurance having the district, its directors and employees as additional named insureds.

3. The district shall not attempt to self-insure for its potential liabilities unless it finds that it has sufficient funds available to cover any anticipated judgments or settlements and still complete its project without interruption. The district may self-insure if it is unable to obtain liability insurance coverage at a rate which is economically feasible to the district, considering its resources.

70.945. 1. The boundaries of any district organized pursuant to sections 70.900 to 70.951 may be changed in the manner prescribed in this section, but any change of boundaries of the district shall not impair or affect its organization or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges whatsoever; nor shall it affect or impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge for or upon which it might be liable or chargeable had any change of boundaries not been made.

2. The boundaries may be changed as follows:

(1) Twenty-five percent of the number of voters who voted in the most recent gubernatorial election in the area to be annexed may file with the board a petition in writing praying that such real property be included within the district. The petition shall describe the property to be included in the district and shall describe the property owned by the petitioners and shall be deemed to give assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in the district of the property described in the petition. Such petition shall be in substantially the form set forth for petitions in chapter 116, RSMo; provided that, in the event that there are more than twenty-five property owners or taxpaying electors signing the petition, it shall be deemed sufficient description of their property in the petition as required in this section to list the addresses of such property; or

(2) All of the owners of any territory or tract of land near or adjacent to a district who own all of the real estate in such territory or tract of land may file a petition with the board praying that such real property be included in the district. The petition shall describe the property owned by the petitioners and shall be deemed to give assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in the district of the property described in the petition.

3. The secretary of the board shall cause notice of the filing of any petition filed pursuant to this section to be given and published in the county in which the property is located, which notice shall recite the filing of such petition, the number of petitioners, a general description of the boundaries of the area proposed to be included and the prayer of the petitioners; giving notice to all persons interested to appear at the office of the board at the time named in the notice and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the petition should not be granted. The board shall at the time and place mentioned, or at such time or times to which the hearing may be adjourned, proceed to hear the petition and all objections thereto presented in writing by any person showing cause why the petition should not be granted. The failure of any person interested to show cause in writing why such petition shall not be granted shall be deemed as an assent on his part to the inclusion of such lands in the district as prayed for in the petition.

4. If the board deems it for the best interest of the district, it shall grant the petition, but if the board determines that some portion of the property mentioned in the petition cannot as a practical matter be served by the district, or if it deems it for the best interest of the district that some portion of the property in the petition not be included in the district, then the board shall grant the petition in part only. If the petition is granted, the board shall make an order to that effect and file the petition with the circuit clerk. Upon the order of the court having jurisdiction over the district, the property shall be included in the district. If the petition contains the signatures of all the owners of the property pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of this section, the property shall be included in the district upon the order of the court. If the petition contains the signatures of twenty-five percent of the number of voters who voted in the most recent gubernatorial election in the area to be annexed pursuant to subdivision (1) of subsection 2 of this section, the property shall be included in the district subject to the election provided in section 70.948. The circuit court having jurisdiction over the district shall proceed to make any such order including such additional property within the district as is provided in the order of the board, unless the court shall find that such order of the board was not authorized by law or that such order of the board was not supported by competent and substantial evidence.

5. Any person aggrieved by any decision of the board made pursuant to the provisions of this section may appeal that decision to the circuit court of the county in which the property is located within thirty days of the decision by the board.

70.948. 1. If the petition to add any territory or tract of land to the district contained fewer than all of the signatures required pursuant to subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of section 70.945, the decree of extension of boundaries shall not become final and conclusive until it has been submitted to an election of the voters residing within the boundaries described in such decree and until it has been assented to by a majority vote of the voters in the newly included area voting on the question. The decree shall also provide for the holding of the election to vote on the proposition of extending the boundaries of the district, and shall fix the date for holding the election.

2. The question shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

Shall the boundaries of the Law Enforcement District be extended to include the following described property? (Describe property)

☐ NO

3. If a majority of the voters voting on the proposition vote in favor of the extension of the boundaries of the district, then the court shall enter its further order declaring the decree of extension of the boundaries to be final and conclusive. In the event, however, that the court finds that a majority of the voters voting thereon voted against the proposition to extend the boundaries of the district, then the court shall enter its further order declaring the decree of extension of boundaries to be void and of no effect.

70.951. 1. Whenever a petition signed by not less than one hundred voters in any district organized pursuant to sections 70.900 to 70.951 is filed with the circuit court having jurisdiction over the district, setting forth all the relevant facts pertaining to the district, and alleging that the further operation of the district is not in the best interests of the inhabitants of the district, and that the district should, in the interest of the public welfare and safety, be dissolved, the circuit court shall have authority, after hearing evidence submitted on such question, to order a submission of the question, after having caused publication of notice of a hearing on such petition in the same manner as the notice required in section 70.921, in substantially the following form:

Shall (Insert the name of the law enforcement district) Law Enforcement District be dissolved?

☐ NO

2. If the court shall find that it is to the best interest of the inhabitants of the district that such district be dissolved, it shall make an order reciting such finding and providing for the submission of the proposition to dissolve such district to a vote of the voters of the district, setting forth such further details in its order as may be necessary to an orderly conduct of such election. Such election shall be held on the general municipal election day. Returns of the election shall be certified to the court. If the court finds that a majority of the voters voting thereon shall have voted in favor of the proposition to dissolve the district, the court shall make a final order dissolving the district, and the decree shall contain a proviso that the district shall continue in full force for the purpose of paying all outstanding and lawful obligations and disposing of property of the district; but no additional costs or obligations shall be created except such as are necessary to pay such costs, obligations and liabilities previously incurred, or necessary to the winding up of the district. If the court shall find that a majority of the voters of the district voting thereon shall not have voted favorably on the proposition to dissolve such district, then the court shall make a final order declaring such result dismissing the petition praying for the dissolution of said district; and the district shall continue to operate in the same manner as though the petition asking for such dissolution has not been filed.

3. The dissolution of a district shall not invalidate or affect any right accruing to such district, or to any person, or invalidate or affect any contract or indebtedness entered into or imposed upon such district or person; and whenever the circuit court shall, pursuant to this section, dissolve a law enforcement district, the court shall appoint some competent person to act as trustee for the district so dissolved and such trustee before entering upon the discharge of his or her duties shall take and subscribe an oath that he or she will faithfully discharge the duties of the office, and shall give bond with sufficient security, to be approved by the court to the use of such dissolved district, for the faithful discharge of his or her duties, and shall proceed to liquidate the district under orders of the court, including the levying of any taxes provided for in sections 70.900 to 70.951."; and

Further amend said title, enacting clause and intersectional references accordingly.

Representative Luetkemeyer moved that House Amendment No. 1 be adopted.

Which motion was defeated.

On motion of Representative Ross, HB 80 was ordered perfected and printed.

Speaker Pro Tem Abel resumed the Chair.

HCS HB 50, relating to promotion of students, was taken up by Representative Relford.

Representative Holand offered House Amendment No. 1.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2001

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Almighty God, on this “Fat-Tuesday” much of our nation will try to celebrate in order to move on to new discipline tomorrow. May we too, in this grand room, remember all for which we can celebrate. For the ability to serve people here in our state, our representatives rejoice.

For Your challenge to bring their best abilities to play in office, committee and in this Chamber, we praise You. For all who care for them and all for whom they care, we are truly grateful. May our thankfulness move us to diligent, thorough, conscientious, and yes, even joyful, service today and always. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 2001

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Eternal God: we pause now to praise You for Your great goodness to us, and for mercies that fall like rain on the just and the unjust; for words that find us when we need the heart uplifted; for songs that Your love has taught the soul to sing; for coincidental happenings, which seen in retrospect, speak of Your gentle leading and care; for loving families and sturdy friends from whom we receive support and encouragement.

Keep this House in this special season, bless its members and staff and their families; to You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-third day was approved as corrected.

House Amendment No. 2

AMEND House Substitute for House Bill No. 287, Page 1, In the Title, Lines 1 and 2, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"To amend chapter 221, RSMo, by adding thereto five new sections relating to jails and jailers."; and Further amend said bill, Page 1, Section A, Lines 1 and 2, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section A. Chapter 221, RSMo, is amended by adding thereto five new sections, to be known as sections 221.360, 221.363, 221.366, 221.369 and 221.407, to read as follows:"; and Further amend said bill, Page 5, Section 221.369, Line 19, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"221.407. 1. The commission of any regional jail district, the jails of which are operated by member counties and not private authorities, may impose, by order, a sales tax in the amount of one-eighth of one percent, one-fourth of one percent, three-eighths of one percent or one-half of one percent on all retail sales made in such region which are subject to taxation pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, for the purpose of providing jail services and court facilities and equipment for such region. The tax authorized by this section shall be in addition to any and all other sales taxes allowed by law, except that no order imposing a sales tax pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be effective unless the commission submits to the voters of the district, on any election date authorized in chapter 115, RSMo, a proposal to authorize the commission to impose a tax.

2. The ballot of submission shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following language:

Shall the regional jail district of (counties' names) impose a region-wide sales tax of (insert amount) for the purpose of providing jail services and court facilities and equipment for the region?

☐ Yes

☐ No

If you are in favor of the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "Yes". If you are opposed to the question, place an "X" in the box opposite "No".

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters of the district voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, then the order and any amendment to such order shall be in effect on the first day of the second quarter immediately following the election approving the proposal. If the proposal receives less than the required majority, the commission shall have no power to impose the sales tax authorized pursuant to this section unless and until the commission shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the commission to impose the sales tax authorized by this section and such proposal is approved by the required majority of the qualified voters of the district voting on such proposal; however, in no event shall a proposal pursuant to this section be submitted to the voters sooner than twelve months from the date of the last submission of a proposal pursuant to this section.

3. All revenue received by a district from the tax authorized pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited in a special trust fund and shall be used solely for providing jail services and court facilities and equipment for such district for so long as the tax shall remain in effect.

4. Once the tax authorized by this section is abolished or terminated by any means, all funds remaining in the special trust fund shall be used solely for providing jail services and court facilities and equipment for the district. Any funds in such special trust fund which are not needed for current expenditures may be invested by the commission in accordance with applicable laws relating to the investment of other county funds.

5. All sales taxes collected by the director of revenue pursuant to this section on behalf of any district, less one percent for cost of collection which shall be deposited in the state's general revenue fund after payment of premiums for surety bonds as provided in section 32.087, RSMo, shall be deposited in a special trust fund, which is hereby created, to be known as the "Regional Jail District Sales Tax Trust Fund". The moneys in the regional jail district sales tax trust fund shall not be deemed to be state funds and shall not be commingled with any funds of the state. The director of revenue shall keep accurate records of the amount of money in the trust fund which was collected in each district imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section, and the records shall be open to the inspection of officers of each member county and the public. Not later than the tenth day of each month the director of revenue shall distribute all moneys deposited in the trust fund during the preceding month to the district which levied the tax. Such funds shall be deposited with the treasurer of each such district, and all expenditures of funds arising from the regional jail district sales tax trust fund shall be paid pursuant to an appropriation adopted by the commission and shall be approved by the commission. Expenditures may be made from the fund for any function authorized in the order adopted by the commission submitting the regional jail district tax to the voters.

6. The director of revenue may authorize the state treasurer to make refunds from the amounts in the trust fund and credited to any district for erroneous payments and overpayments made, and may redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such districts. If any district abolishes the tax, the commission shall notify the director of revenue of the action at least ninety days prior to the effective date of the repeal and the director of revenue may order retention in the trust fund, for a period of one year, of two percent of the amount collected after receipt of such notice to cover possible refunds or overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of abolition of the tax in such district, the director of revenue shall remit the balance in the account to the district and close the account of that district. The director of revenue shall notify each district in each instance of any amount refunded or any check redeemed from receipts due the district.

7. Except as provided in this section, all provisions of sections 32.085 and 32.087, RSMo, shall apply to the tax imposed pursuant to this section.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Eternal God: You give us minds to reason and hearts to feel. Keep the past from being so precious to us that we set limits on the future. Give to us the courage to change our minds when that is needed. Make us tolerant of the thoughts and words of others.

Protect the men and women of this House from closed minds and hearts. Keep these servants of our state open to Your voice and help them be deaf to the whispers of all who would persuade them from their duty. We know that only in our hearts will we find Your abiding peace and prosperity. Keep us in the joy of Your care this day. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Richard Kenneth Johnson, Jr., Hannah Laeoi, Ashley Walling, Carlas Lowe, Nakeisha Walker, Trevor Peroutka, Michael Smith, Jodi Rinke, Kayla Hylton and Bryndon Hill.

Heavenly God, help all of the citizens of Missouri build a better society. May we all reflect even more Your compassion, hope, justice. May violence against neighbor be no more, may tolerance of differences be our cry, may the rule of law over both tyranny and anarchy guide us forward.

This legislative assembly is almost half over; which means that our representatives still have half of this session to complete their dreams for our state. We pray a special blessing on them that they continue with strength, endurance, and wisdom. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 2001

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Creative renewing God, we gather at the start of another day. As always, we count on Your presence, and rely on Your inspiration. Grant us a greater portion of Your spirit. Let Your advice and counsel speak in the thoughts and deliberations of these men and women, filling up any inadequacies.

In the many duties of this Chamber today, God, hold these representatives in the palm of Your hand, and let them feel Your assurance, that they may continue with You, to build that security into our society. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7, 2001

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

O Lord, God of our parents and our God, give us the faith to believe in the ultimate triumph of righteousness, no matter how dark the skies may appear. We pray for the bifocals of faith – that we see the hurts and needs of the hour, but also that we are able to see beyond to the patience of God working out His plan in our world.

Help the men and women of this House interpret for our day the motto inscribed on our coins. Make our faith honest by helping us this day to do one thing because You have said, “Do this”, or to abstain from some act because You have said, “Thou shalt not”.

Bless all who are dealing with illness this day, including Betsy Maher. May our faith be seen in our words and in our works. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jennie May, Sean Koller, Erin Koller, Rebekkah Rayfield, Daniel Rayfield, Cathy Burgard, Melisa Disney, Caleb Lewis, Amber Richards, Blake Long, Joanna Clark, Andy Doran, Jesse Swafford, Lindsey Hoerath, Michelle Lucy, Trevor Estes, Adam Watson and Darin S. Johnson.

The Journal of the thirty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God: the sky is blue, the air crisp, the earth is warming. Help us use well this day You give. Today let us put right before interest; let us put others before self; let us put things of the spirit before things of the body; let us put principle before reputation; let us put You before all else. Bless this House today. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Alex Quirk, Jessica McRaven, Tiffany Jennings, Neal Varma, Eddie Hogan, Meghan Kline, Peter Wallach, Susan Rohan, Jessica Wooldridge, Aisha White, William Powell, Alison Stroop, Julie Birsinger, Rachel Kraus, Megan Geeck, Nick Barthelmass, Robert Yancy and Irene Rafael.

The Journal of the thirty-eighth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 10

WHEREAS, the Railroad Retirement and Survivors Improvement Act of 2000 was approved in a bipartisan effort by 391 members of the United States House of Representatives in the 106th Congress, including the entire Missouri delegation to Congress; and

WHEREAS, more than 83 United States Senators, including both Missouri Senator Kit Bond and then Missouri Senator John Ashcroft, signed letters of support for this legislation in 2000; and

WHEREAS, the bill now before the 107th Congress modernizes the Railroad Retirement System for its 690,000 beneficiaries nationwide, including over 23,100 in Missouri; and

WHEREAS, railroad management, labor and retiree organizations have agreed to support this legislation; and

WHEREAS, this legislation provides tax relief to freight railroads, Amtrak and commuter lines; and

WHEREAS, this legislation provides benefit improvements for surviving spouses of rail workers, who currently suffer deep cuts in income when the rail retiree dies; and

WHEREAS, no outside contributions from taxpayers are needed to implement the changes called for in this legislation; and

WHEREAS, all changes will be paid for from within the railroad industry, including a full share by active employees:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Missouri Senate, Ninety-first General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the United States Congress are urged to support the Railroad Retirement and Survivors Improvement Act in the 107th Congress; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and all Missouri members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

SENATE SUBSTITUTE
FOR
SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 13

WHEREAS, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service has recommended that the United States Army Corps of Engineers implement the so-called "spring rise-split season" plan for operation of the Missouri River mainstem reservoir system; a plan which would result in an increase in the flow of the Missouri River in the spring, and a reduction of the flow in the summer of each year, purportedly to improve habitat for the threatened and endangered pallid sturgeon, least tern and piping plover; and

WHEREAS, additional changes under consideration by the United States Army Corps of Engineers to the Missouri River Master Manual would result in the storage of more water in the upstream reservoirs while decreasing the amount of water available downstream for designated uses, and these changes would shorten the navigation season on the Missouri River by twenty-seven days in November and put at risk Mississippi River navigation as well; and

WHEREAS, analysis of the proposed changes by the state of Missouri and the United States Army Corps of Engineers has indicated these changes will fail to improve and will potentially diminish habitat for the species in question, will increase the risk of flooding along the Missouri River, will result in a decrease in river levels in early summer and fall which will impact navigation and other designated uses on the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers; and

WHEREAS, habitat restoration along the lower Mississippi River has demonstrated great success in aiding the recovery of these species and a similar approach should be given the opportunity to succeed on the Missouri River; and

WHEREAS, these plans have the potential for severe impact on any industry which uses the Missouri River or Mississippi River to transport products and the potential increase risk of flooding in river communities and on farm land in the Missouri and lower Mississippi River basins; and

WHEREAS, these proposals do not adequately address the concerns and needs of states in the lower Missouri and Mississippi River basin, and will not realize the purported benefit of increasing habitat for endangered species; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri departments of natural resources, conservation and transportation have opposed these plans and have informed the Fish and Wildlife Service and the United States Army Corps of Engineers of their concerns regarding the potential impact on the state's river communities, lands, businesses and wildlife habitat:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Missouri Senate, Ninety-first General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the Governor to protest against any proposals that would so negatively impact beneficial uses of the lower Missouri Mississippi Rivers and would not significantly improve conditions for the species of concern; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the General Assembly urge the Department of Natural Resources, the Department of Conservation and the Department of Transportation to continue to insist that any plan involving the operations of the Missouri River improve the Missouri River for all beneficial uses and be sure any river management changes consider all based on sound science; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the Governor of Missouri, the Director of the Department of Natural Resources, the Director of the Department of Conservation and the Director of Transportation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 16.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 16

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri Senate recognize the problems our nation's military personnel experience to exercise their right to vote; and

WHEREAS, for those military personnel living overseas, timely notice of elections back home can be problematic for both those on active duty and their families; and

WHEREAS, as reports from Florida indicate, many military personnel are unable to return their ballots to local election authorities in a timely manner; and

WHEREAS, it is unconscionable that we would disenfranchise the very individuals who put their lives on the line to protect our democratic right to vote:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Missouri Senate, Ninety-first General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, unanimously recommend to the United States Congress that it review challenges faced by our military personnel and enact a comprehensive Military Voting Rights Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the members of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

WHEREAS, ensuring adequate and affordable telecommunications services and energy services and sources necessitate a fair and equitable tax structure across different telecommunications and energy services and across different regions of the state; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee continue and expand the in-depth studies conducted by prior Joint Interim Committees on Telecommunications and Energy and make appropriate recommendations concerning financial, legal, social, taxation, environmental, technological and economic issues of telecommunications, cable television, all Internet services, including asymmetrical digital subscriber lines (ADSL) and service via cable lines, and energy services taxation, competition between governmental entities and private telecommunication entities, and any other issues the committee deems relevant; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee prepare an interim report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action it deems necessary for submission to the General Assembly prior to the commencement of the Second Regular Session of the Ninety-first General Assembly and a final report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action it deems necessary for submission to the General Assembly prior to the commencement of the First Regular Session of the Ninety-second General Assembly; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee may solicit any input and information necessary to fulfill its obligations from the Missouri Public Service Commission, the Department of Economic Development, the Division of Energy within the Department of Natural Resources, the Office of Public Counsel, political subdivisions of this state, telecommunications and energy service providers, energy utilities and representatives of all telecommunications and energy customer groups; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that House Research, the Committee on Legislative Research, and Senate Research shall provide such legal, research, clerical, technical and bill drafting services as the committee may require in the performance of its duties; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the actual and necessary expenses of the committee, its members and any staff personnel assigned to the committee incurred in attending meetings of the committee or any subcommittee thereof shall be paid from the Joint Contingent Fund.

Dear Lord,

As we gather in the last week before the spring break, we have before us an important task. The task is to pass the budget of this great State and send it to the Senate before we rest. The people have toiled in their work to provide the resources. It is this body that will decide how to allocate those resources. The people have entrusted this body with this great task. We ask for Your direction and guidance this week as we carry out the work of the people. Amen

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Margo O'Mealey, Abby O'Mealey, Joseph Cleveland, Heather Reed and Leslea Ewing.

Gracious God: Our state is made rich by the love in our families, the hard work of our neighbors and the kindness of nature in our field and streams. Keep the men and women of this blessed state and this House in Your care this day. Keep them strong in their commitments to good government. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

Sites which exceed the excluded areas by more than one acre for underground mining operations shall obtain a permit for the total extent of affected lands with no exclusions as required under sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790;

(2) "Commission", the land reclamation commission in the department of natural resources;

(3) "Director", the staff director of the land reclamation commission;

(4) "Mineral", a constituent of the earth in a solid state which, when extracted from the earth, is usable in its natural form or is capable of conversion into a usable form as a chemical, an energy source, or raw material for manufacturing or construction material. For the purposes of this section, this definition includes barite, tar sands, and oil shales, but does not include iron, lead, zinc, gold, silver, coal, surface or subsurface water, fill dirt, natural oil or gas together with other chemicals recovered therewith;

- (5) "Operator", any person, firm or corporation engaged in and controlling a surface mining operation;
- (6) "Overburden", all of the earth and other materials which lie above natural deposits of minerals; and also means such earth and other materials disturbed from their natural state in the process of surface mining other than what is defined in subdivision (4) of this section;
- (7) "Peak", a projecting point of overburden created in the surface mining process;
- (8) "Pit", the place where minerals are being or have been mined by surface mining;
- (9) "Refuse", all waste material directly connected with the cleaning and preparation of substance mined by surface mining;
- (10) "Ridge", a lengthened elevation of overburden created in the surface mining process;
- (11) "Site" or "mining site", any location or group of associated locations where minerals are being surface mined by the same operator;
- (12) "Surface mining", the mining of minerals for commercial purposes by removing the overburden lying above natural deposits thereof, and mining directly from the natural deposits thereby exposed, and shall include mining of exposed natural deposits of such minerals over which no overburden lies and, after August 28, 1990, the surface effects of underground mining operations for such minerals.

444.767. The commission may:

- (1) Adopt and promulgate rules and regulations pursuant to section 444.530 and chapter 536, RSMo, respecting the administration of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 and in conformity therewith;
- (2) Encourage and conduct investigation, research, experiments and demonstrations, and collect and disseminate information relating to strip mining and reclamation and conservation of lands and waters affected by strip mining;
- (3) Examine and pass on all applications and plans and specifications submitted by the operator for the method of operation and for the reclamation and conservation of the area of land affected by the operation;
- (4) Make investigations and inspections which are necessary to ensure compliance with the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790;
- (5) Conduct hearings [under] pursuant to sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 and may administer oaths or affirmations and subpoena witnesses to the inquiry;
- (6) Order, after hearing, the revocation of any permit and to cease and desist operations for failure to comply with any of the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 or any corrective order of the commission;
- (7) Order forfeiture of any bond for failure to comply with any provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 or any corrective order of the commission or other order of the commission;
- (8) Cause to be instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction legal proceedings for injunction or other appropriate relief to enforce the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 and any order of the commission promulgated thereunder;
- (9) Retain, employ, provide for, and compensate, within the limits of appropriations made for that purpose, such consultants, assistants, deputies, clerks, and other employees on a full- or part-time basis as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 and prescribe the times at which they shall be appointed and their powers and duties;
- (10) Study and develop plans for the reclamation of lands that have been strip mined prior to September 28, 1971;
- (11) Accept, receive and administer grants or other funds or gifts from public and private agencies and individuals, including the federal government, for the purpose of carrying out any of the functions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, including the reclamation of lands strip mined prior to August 28, 1990. The commission may promulgate such rules and regulations or enter into such contracts as it may deem necessary for carrying out the provisions of this subdivision;
- (12) Budget and receive duly appropriated moneys for expenditures to carry out the provisions and purposes of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790;
- (13) Prepare and file a biennial report with the governor and members of the general assembly;
- (14) Order, after hearing, an operator to adopt such corrective measures as are necessary to comply with the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790.

444.770. 1. It shall be unlawful for any operator to engage in surface mining without first obtaining from the commission a permit to do so, in such form as is hereinafter provided, including any operator involved in any gravel mining operation where the annual tonnage of gravel mined by such operator is less than five thousand tons.

2. Sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 shall apply only to those areas which are opened on or after January 1, 1972, or to the extended portion of affected areas extended after that date. The effective date of this section for minerals not previously covered under the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 shall be August 28, 1990.

3. All surface mining operations where land is affected after September 28, 1971, which are under the control of any government agency whose regulations are equal to or greater than those imposed by section 444.774, are not subject to the further provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, except that such operations shall be registered with the land reclamation commission.

4. Any portion of a surface mining operation which is subject to the provisions of sections 260.200 to 260.245, RSMo, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, shall not be subject to the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, and any bonds or portions thereof applicable to such operations shall be promptly released by the commission, and the associated permits canceled by the commission upon presentation to it of satisfactory evidence that the operator has received a permit [under] pursuant to section 260.205, RSMo, and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Any land reclamation bond associated with such released permits shall be retained by the commission until presentation to the commission of satisfactory evidence that:

(1) The operator has complied with sections 260.226 and 260.227, RSMo, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, pertaining to closure and post-closure plans and financial assurance instruments; and

(2) The operator has commenced operation of the solid waste disposal area or sanitary landfill as those terms are defined in chapter 260, RSMo.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1 of this section, any political subdivision which uses its own personnel and equipment or any private individual for personal use may conduct in-stream gravel operations without obtaining from the commission a permit to conduct such an activity.

444.772. 1. Any operator desiring to engage in surface mining shall make written application to the director for a permit.

2. Application for permit shall be made on a form prescribed by the commission and shall include:

(1) The name of all persons with any interest in the land to be mined;

(2) The source of the applicant's legal right to mine the land affected by the permit;

(3) The permanent and temporary post-office address of the applicant;

(4) Whether the applicant or any person associated with the applicant holds or has held any other permits [under] pursuant to sections 444.500 to [444.789] 444.790, and an identification of such permits;

(5) The written consent of the applicant and any other persons necessary to grant access to the commission or the director to the area of land affected under application from the date of application until the expiration of any permit granted under the application and thereafter for such time as is necessary to assure compliance with all provisions of sections 444.500 to [444.789] 444.790 or any rule or regulation promulgated [under] pursuant to them. Permit applications submitted by operators who mine an annual tonnage of less than ten thousand tons shall be required to include written consent from the operator to grant access to the commission or the director to the area of land affected;

(6) A description of the tract or tracts of land and the estimated number of acres thereof to be affected by the surface mining of the applicant for the next succeeding twelve months; and

(7) Such other information that the commission may require as such information applies to land reclamation.

3. The application for a permit shall be accompanied by a map in a scale and form specified by the commission by regulation.

4. The application shall be accompanied by a bond, security or certificate meeting the requirements of section 444.778 and a [basic permit fee of three hundred fifty dollars, plus acreage fee of thirty-five dollars for each acre or fraction thereof of the area of land to be affected by the operation, plus an annual fee of forty dollars for each site listed on the operator's permit application that will be mined during the permit year, which fees shall be paid before the permit required in this section shall be issued. A basic fee of one hundred dollars, plus an acreage fee of thirty-five dollars for each acre or fraction thereof of the area of land to be affected by the gravel mining operation shall be paid to the commission before the permit shall be issued for any operator involved in any gravel mining operation where the annual tonnage of gravel mined by such operator is less than five thousand tons. The commission shall by rule or regulation, pursuant to section 444.530, initially establish the fees as listed in this section. The commission may also raise the permit fee to no more than five hundred dollars. The issued permit shall be valid for a period of one year from the date of its issuance unless sooner revoked or suspended as provided in sections 444.760 to 444.789] permit fee approved by the commission not to exceed six hundred dollars. The commission may also require a fee for each site listed on a permit not to exceed three hundred dollars for each site. If mining operations are not conducted at a site for six months or more during any year, the fee for such site for that year shall be reduced by fifty percent. The commission may also require a fee for each acre bonded by the operator pursuant to section 444.778 not to exceed ten dollars per acre. If such fee is assessed, the per-acre fee on all acres bonded by a single operator that exceed a total of one hundred acres shall be reduced by fifty percent. In no case shall the total fee for any permit be more than two thousand five hundred dollars. Permit and renewal fees shall be established by rule and shall be set at levels that recover the cost of administering and enforcing sections 444.760 to 444.790, making allowances for grants and other sources of funds. The director shall submit a report to the commission and the public each year that describes the number of employees and the activities performed the previous calendar year to administer sections 444.760 to 444.790. For any operator of a gravel mining operation where the annual tonnage of gravel mined by such operator is less than five thousand tons, the total cost of submitting an application shall be three hundred dollars. The issued permit shall be valid from the date of its issuance until the date specified in the mine plan unless sooner revoked or suspended as provided in sections 444.760 to 444.790.

5. An operator desiring to have his or her permit amended to cover additional land may file an amended application with the commission. Upon receipt of the amended application, and such additional fee and bond as may be required [under] pursuant to the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, the director shall, if the applicant complies with all applicable regulatory requirements, issue an amendment to the original permit covering the additional land described in the amended application.

6. An operation may withdraw any land covered by a permit, excepting affected land, by notifying the commission thereof, in which case the penalty of the bond or security filed by the operator pursuant to the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 shall be reduced proportionately.

7. Where mining or reclamation operations on acreage for which a permit has been issued have not been completed [thereon during the permit year, the permit as to such acreage shall be renewed by applying on a permit renewal form furnished by the commission for an additional permit year and payment of a fee of three hundred fifty dollars plus forty dollars for each site listed on the permit renewal application that will be actively surface mined or reclaimed during the permit year], the permit shall be renewed. The operator shall submit a permit renewal form furnished by the director for an additional permit year and pay a fee equal to an application fee calculated pursuant to subsection 4 of this section, but in no case shall the renewal fee for any operator be more than two thousand five hundred dollars. For any operator involved in any gravel mining operation where the annual tonnage of gravel mined by such operator is less than five thousand tons, the permit as to such acreage shall be renewed by applying on a permit renewal form furnished by the [commission] director for an additional permit year and payment of a fee of [one] three hundred dollars. [Such basic permit fee may be increased by the commission by rule or regulation not to exceed five hundred dollars, pursuant to section 444.767 to support the actual cost thereof of administering and enforcing the provisions of sections 444.760 to 444.789, making allowances for grants and other sources of funds and contingencies.] Upon receipt of the completed permit renewal [application] form and fee[,], from the operator, the director shall [issue a renewal certificate] approve the renewal. With approval of the director and operator, the permit renewal may be extended for a portion of an additional year with a corresponding prorating of the renewal fee.

8. Where one operator succeeds another at any uncompleted operation, either by sale, assignment, lease or otherwise, the commission may release the first operator from all liability [under] pursuant to sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 as to that particular operation if both operators have been issued a permit and have otherwise complied with the requirements of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 and the successor operator assumes as part of his or her obligation [under] pursuant to sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 all liability for the reclamation of the area of land affected by the former operator.

9. The application for a permit shall be accompanied by a plan of reclamation that meets the requirements of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 and the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, and shall contain a verified statement by the operator setting forth the proposed method of operation, reclamation, and a conservation plan for the affected area including approximate dates and time of completion, and stating that the operation will meet the requirements of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, and any rule or regulation promulgated [under] pursuant to them.

10. At the time that a permit [is applied for] application is deemed complete by the director, the operator shall publish a notice of intent to operate a surface mine in any newspaper [with a general circulation in the counties] qualified pursuant to section 493.050, RSMo, to publish legal notices in any county where the land is located. If the director does not respond to a permit application within forty-five calendar days, the application shall be deemed to be complete. Notice in the newspaper shall be posted once a week for four consecutive weeks beginning no more than ten days after the application is deemed complete. The operator shall also send notice of intent to operate a surface mine by certified mail to the governing body of the counties or cities in which the proposed area is located, and to the last known addresses of all record landowners of contiguous real property or real property located adjacent to the proposed mine plan area. The [notice] notices shall include the name and address of the operator, a legal description consisting of county, section, township and range, the number of acres involved, a statement that the operator plans to mine a specified mineral during a specified time, and the address of the commission. The notices shall also contain a statement that any person with a direct, personal interest in one or more of the factors the commission [is required to] may consider in issuing a permit may [make] request a public meeting, a public hearing or file written comments to the director [during the fifteen-day public notice period] no later than fifteen days following the final public notice publication date.

11. The commission may approve a permit application or permit amendment whose operation[, or reclamation [or conservation] plan deviates from the requirements of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 if it can be demonstrated by the operator that the conditions present at the surface mining location warrant an exception. The criteria accepted for consideration when evaluating the merits of an exception or variance to the requirements of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 shall be established by regulations.

12. Fees imposed pursuant to this section shall become effective August 28, 2001, and shall expire on December 31, 2007. No other provisions of this section shall expire.

444.773. 1. All applications for a permit shall be filed with the director, who shall promptly investigate the application and make a recommendation to the commission within [fifteen days after the application is received] four weeks after the public notice period provided in section 444.772 expires as to whether the permit should be issued or denied. If the director determines that the application has not fully complied with the provisions of section 444.772 or any rule or regulation promulgated [under] pursuant to that section, [he] the director shall recommend denial of the permit. The director shall consider any written comments when making his or her recommendation to the commission on the issuance or denial of the permit.

2. If the recommendation of the director is to deny the permit, a hearing as provided in sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, if requested by the applicant within fifteen days of the date of notice of recommendation of the director, shall be held by the commission.

3. If the recommendation of the director is for issuance of the permit, the director shall issue the permit without a public meeting or a hearing except that upon petition, received prior to the date of the notice of recommendation, from any person whose health, safety or livelihood [is affected by noncompliance with any applicable laws or regulations,] will be unduly impaired by the issuance of this permit, a public meeting or a hearing may be held. If a public meeting is requested pursuant to this chapter and the applicant agrees, the director shall, within thirty days after the time for such request has passed, order that a public meeting be held. The meeting shall be held in a reasonably convenient location for all interested parties. The applicant shall cooperate with the director in making all necessary arrangements for the public meeting. Within thirty days after the close of the public meeting, the director shall recommend to the commission approval or denial of the permit. If the public meeting does not resolve the concerns expressed by the public, any person whose health, safety or livelihood will be unduly impaired by the issuance of such permit may make a written request to the land reclamation commission for a formal public hearing. The land reclamation commission may grant a public hearing to formally resolve concerns of the public. Any public hearing before the commission shall address one or more of the factors set forth in this section.

4. In any hearing held pursuant to this section the burden of proof shall be on the applicant for a permit. If the commission finds, based on competent and substantial evidence on the record, that an interested party's health, safety or livelihood will be unduly impaired by the issuance of the permit, the commission may deny such permit. If the commission finds, based on competent and substantial evidence on the record, that the operator has had a history of noncompliance at other locations that suggests a reasonable likelihood of future acts of noncompliance, the commission may deny such permit. In determining whether a reasonable likelihood of noncompliance will exist in the future, the commission may look to past acts of noncompliance, but only to the extent they suggest a reasonable likelihood of future acts of noncompliance. Past acts of noncompliance, in and of themselves, are an insufficient basis to suggest a reasonable likelihood of future acts of noncompliance. If a hearing petitioner demonstrates either present acts of noncompliance or a reasonable likelihood that the permit seeker or associated persons or corporations will be in noncompliance in the future, such a showing will satisfy the noncompliance requirement in this subsection. In addition, such basis must be developed by multiple noncompliances at any single facility that resulted in lasting harm to the environment or unduly impaired the health, safety or livelihood of persons outside the facility. Any decision of the commission made pursuant to a hearing held [under] pursuant to this section is subject to judicial review as provided in chapter 536, RSMo. No judicial review shall be available, however, until and unless all administrative remedies are exhausted.

444.774. 1. Every operator to whom a permit is issued pursuant to the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 may engage in surface mining upon the lands described in the permit upon the performance of and subject to the following requirements with respect to such lands:

(1) All ridges and peaks of overburden created by surface mining, except areas [where lakes may be formed under subdivision (7) of subsection 1 of this section] meeting the qualifications of subdivision (4) of this subsection, or where washing, cleaning or retaining ponds and reservoirs may be formed under subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of this section, shall be graded to a rolling topography traversable by farm machinery, but such slopes need not be reduced to less than the original grade of that area prior to mining, and the slope of the ridge of overburden resulting from a box cut need not be reduced to less than twenty-five degrees from horizontal whenever the same cannot be practically incorporated into the land reclaimed for wildlife purposes [under] pursuant to subdivision (4) of this subsection [1 of this section]. In surface mining the operator shall remove all debris and materials not allowed by the reclamation plan before the bond or any portion thereof may be released;

(2) As a means of controlling damaging [runoff] erosion, the [commission] director may require the operator to construct terraces or use such other measures and techniques as are necessary to control soil erosion and siltation on reclaimed land. Such erosion control measures and techniques may also be required on overburden stockpiles if the erosion is causing environmental damage outside the permit area. In determining the grading requirements to restore barite pit areas, the sidewalls of the excavation shall be graded to a point where it blends with the surrounding countryside, but in no case should the contour be such that erosion and siltation be increased;

(3) In the surface mining of tar sands, the operator shall recover and collect all spent sands and other refuse yielded from the processing of tar sands, whether such spent sands and refuse are produced at the surface mine or elsewhere, in the manner prescribed by the commission as conditions of the permit, and shall finally dispose of such spent sands and refuse in the manner prescribed by the commission as conditions of the permit and in accordance with the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790;

(4) Up to and including twenty-five percent of the total acreage to be reclaimed each year need not be graded to a rolling topography if the land is reclaimed for wildlife purposes as required by the commission, except that all peaks and ridges shall be leveled off to a minimum width of thirty feet or one-half the diameter of the base of the pile at the original ground surface whichever is less;

(5) Surface mining operations that remove and do not replace the lateral support shall not, unless mutually agreed upon by the operator and the adjacent property owner, remove the lateral support in the vicinity of any established right-of-way line of any public road, street or highway closer than a distance equal to twenty-five feet plus one and one-half times the depth of the unconsolidated material from such right-of-way line to the beginning of the excavation; except that, unless granted a variance by the commission, the minimum distance is fifty feet. The provisions of this subdivision shall apply to all existing surface mining operations beginning August 28, 1990, except as provided in subsection 2 of section 444.770;

(6) If surface mining is or has been conducted up to the minimum distance as defined in subdivision (5) of this subsection [1 of this section] along an established right-of-way line of any public road, street or highway, a barrier or berm of adequate height shall be placed or constructed along the perimeter of the excavation. Adequate height shall mean a height of no less than three feet. Such barriers or berms shall not be required if barriers, berms or guardrails already exist on the adjoining right-of-way. Barriers or berms of adequate height may also be required by the commission when surface mining is or has been conducted up to the minimum distance as defined in subdivision (5) of this subsection [1 of this section] along other property lines, but only as necessary to mitigate serious and obvious threats to public safety;

(7) The operator may construct earth dams to form lakes in pits resulting from the final cut in a mining area; except that, the formation of the lakes shall not interfere with underground or other mining operations or damage adjoining property and shall comply with the requirements of subdivision (8) of this subsection [1 of this section];

(8) The operator shall cover the exposed face of a mineral seam where acid forming materials are present, to a depth of not less than two feet with earth that will support plant life or with a permanent water impoundment, terraced or otherwise so constructed as to prevent a constant inflow of water from any stream and to prevent surface water from flowing into such impoundment in such amounts as will cause runoff or spillage from said impoundment in a volume which will cause kills of fish or animals downstream. The operator shall cover an exposed deposit of tar sands, including an exposed face thereof, to a depth of not less than two feet with earth that will support plant life, and in addition may cover such deposit or face with a permanent water impoundment as provided above; however, no water impoundment shall be so constructed as to allow a permanent layer of oil or other hydrocarbon to collect on the surface of such impoundment in an amount which will adversely affect fish, wildfowl and other wildlife in or upon such impoundment;

(9) The operator shall reclaim all affected lands except as otherwise provided in sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790. The operator shall determine on company-owned land, and with the landowners on leased land for leases that are entered into after August 28, 1990, which parts of the affected land shall be reclaimed for forest, pasture, crop, horticultural, homesite, recreational, industrial or other use including food, shelter, and ground cover for wildlife;

(10) The operator, with the approval of the commission, shall sow, set out or plant upon the affected land, seeds, plants, cuttings of trees, shrubs, grasses or legumes. The plantings or seedings shall be appropriate to the type of reclamation designated by the operator on company-owned land and with the owner on leased land for leases entered into after August 28, 1990, and shall be based upon sound agronomic and forestry principles;

(11) Surface mining operations conducted in the flood plains of streams and rivers, and subject to periodic flooding, may be exempt from the grading requirements contained in this section if it can be demonstrated to the commission that such operations will be unsafe to pursue or ineffective in achieving reclamation required in this section because of the periodic flooding;

(12) Such other requirements as the commission may prescribe by rule or regulation to conform with the purposes and requirements of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790.

2. An operator shall commence the reclamation of the area of land affected by its operation as soon as possible after the [beginning] completion of surface mining of [that] viable mineral reserves in any portion of the permit area in accordance with the plan of reclamation required by [sections 444.760 to 444.789] subsection 9 of section 444.772, the rules and regulations of the commission, and the conditions of the permit[; and shall complete]. Grading shall be completed within twelve months after [the expiration date of the permit] mining of viable mineral reserves is complete in that portion of the permit area based on the operator's prior mining practices at that site. Mining shall not be deemed complete if the operator can provide credible evidence to the director that viable mineral reserves are present. The seeding and planting of supporting vegetation, as provided in the reclamation plan, shall be completed within twenty-four months after [the expiration date of the permit] with mining has been completed survival of such supporting vegetation by the second growing season.

3. With the approval of the [commission] director, the operator may substitute for all or any part of the affected land to be reclaimed, an equal number of acres of land previously mined and not reclaimed. If any area is so substituted the operator shall submit a map and reclamation plan of the substituted area, and this map and reclamation plan shall conform to all requirements with respect to other maps and reclamation plan required by section 444.772. The operator shall be relieved of all obligations [under] pursuant to sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 with respect to the land for which substitution has been permitted. On leased land, the landowner shall grant written approval to the operator for substitutions made pursuant to this subsection.

4. The operator shall file a report with the commission within sixty days after the date of expiration of a permit stating the exact number of acres of land affected by the operation, the extent of the reclamation already accomplished, and such other information as may be required by the commission.

5. The operator shall ensure that all affected land where vegetation is to be reestablished is covered with enough topsoil or other approved material in order to provide a proper rooting medium. No topsoil or other approved material is required to be placed on areas described in subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of this section or on any areas to be reclaimed for industrial uses as specified in the reclamation plan.

6. The commission may grant such additional time for meeting with the completion dates required by sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 as are necessary due to an act of God, war, strike, riot, catastrophe, or other good cause shown.

444.775. 1. Prior to release of the bond or any portion thereof, application shall be made by the operator to the commission, either with the completion of the report referred to in section 444.774 or subsequent to such report, for release of the bond.

2. The commission shall cause to have investigated the status of reclamation on land for which a release application has been filed.

3. If the director or the commission determines that the bond, or any portion thereof, should be released, an order may be so issued without hearing. If an owner of the land that has been affected by surface mining files a petition in opposition to the release of the bond within thirty days of the receipt date of the application for release, a hearing may be held, if the bond release criteria does not meet permit standards. A hearing may also be held if the [staff of the commission] director, within thirty days of the receipt date of the application for release, recommends denial of the application following its investigation. In such cases, the commission may hold a hearing as provided in section 444.789 and enter such order as shall be appropriate.

4. If the commission determines that the bond or any portion thereof should not be released, the commission shall issue an order to that effect with the reasons for the order and shall give notice to the operator. A hearing shall be held by the commission as provided in section 444.789 if requested by the operator within thirty days of the date of notice of the order. At such hearing burden of proof shall be on the operator. After hearing, the commission shall enter such order as shall be appropriate and shall give notice to the operator.

5. All final decisions or orders of the commission shall be subject to judicial review as provided for in chapter 536, RSMo. No judicial review shall be available, however, until and unless all administrative remedies are exhausted.

444.777. Commission members and authorized representatives of the commission may at all reasonable times enter upon any lands that have been or are being surface mined for the purpose of inspection to determine whether the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 have been complied with. No person shall refuse entry or access requested for purposes of inspection, to any member of the commission or authorized representative who presents appropriate credentials, nor obstruct or hamper any such person in carrying out the inspection. A suitably restricted search warrant, describing the place to be searched and showing probable cause in writing and upon written oath or affirmation by any member of the commission or authorized representative, shall be issued by any circuit judge or associate circuit judge in the county where the search is to be made.

444.778. 1. Any bond herein provided to be filed with the commission by the operator shall be in such form as the director prescribes, payable to the state of Missouri, conditioned that the operator shall faithfully perform all requirements of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 and comply with all rules of the commission made in accordance with the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790. The bond shall be signed by the operator as principal, and by a good and sufficient corporate surety, licensed to do business in this state, as surety. The operator shall file with the commission a bond payable to the state of Missouri with surety in the penal sum of eight thousand dollars for each permit up to eight acres and five hundred dollars for each acre thereafter that is to be mined. In addition, for each acre or portion thereof where topsoil has been removed from the site, an additional bond of four thousand five hundred dollars per acre shall be posted with the commission for each acre or portion thereof which will be revegetated, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements set forth in sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 and of the rules and regulations of the commission. In lieu of a surety bond, the operator may furnish a bond secured by a personal certificate of deposit or irrevocable letter of credit in an amount equal to that of the required surety bond on conditions as prescribed by the commission. For any operator involved in any gravel mining operation where the annual tonnage of gravel mined by such operator is less than five thousand tons, such operator shall deposit a bond with the commission in the penal sum of five hundred dollars for each acre or portion thereof of land proposed thereafter by the operator to be subjected to surface mining for the mining permit year.

2. The bond shall remain in effect until the mined acreages have been reclaimed, approved and released by the commission. Forfeiture of such bond may be cause for denial of future permit applications.

3. A bond filed as above prescribed shall not be canceled by the surety except after not less than ninety days' notice to the commission and, in any case, not as to the acreage affected prior to the expiration of the notice period.

4. If the license to do business in this state of any surety upon a bond filed with the commission pursuant to sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 shall be suspended, revoked, or canceled, or if the surety should act to cancel the bond, the operator, within sixty days after receiving notice thereof from the commission, shall substitute for such surety a good and sufficient corporate surety licensed to do business in this state or a bond secured by a certificate of deposit. Upon failure of the operator to make substitution of surety as herein provided, the commission shall have the right to suspend the permit of the operator until such substitution has been made.

5. The commission shall give written notice to the operator of any violation of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 or noncompliance with any of the rules and regulations promulgated by the commission hereunder and if corrective measures, approved by the commission, are not commenced within ninety days, the commission may proceed as provided in section 444.782 to request forfeiture of the bond.

6. The commission shall have the power to reclaim, in keeping with the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, any affected land with respect to which a bond has been forfeited. The commission and any other agency and any contractor under a contract with the commission shall have reasonable right of access to the land affected to carry out such reclamation. The operator shall also have the right of access to the land affected to carry out such reclamation and shall notify the landowner on lease holdings that such right exists.

7. Whenever an operator shall have completed all requirements [under] pursuant to the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 as to any affected land, he or she shall notify the commission thereof. If the commission determines that the operator has completed the requirements, the commission shall release the operator from further obligations regarding the affected land and the penalty of the bond shall be reduced proportionately.

444.782. The attorney general, upon request of the commission, shall institute proceedings to have the bond of the operator forfeited for violation by the operator of any of the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790. Before making such request of the attorney general, the commission shall notify the operator in writing of the alleged violation or noncompliance and shall afford the operator the right to appear before the commission at a hearing to be held not less than thirty days after the receipt of such notice by the operator. At the hearing the operator may present for the consideration of the commission, statements, documents and other information with respect to the alleged violation. After the conclusion of the hearing, the commission shall either withdraw the notice of violation or shall request the attorney general to institute proceedings to have the bond of the operator forfeited as to the land involved.

444.784. The commission may adopt and promulgate reasonable rules and regulations respecting the administration of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790. Any act authorized to be done by the director may be performed by any employee of the commission when designated by the director. All forfeitures collected after January 1, 1972, as provided in sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, shall be expended to reclaim and rehabilitate land affected in accordance with the provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790. Insofar as is reasonably practicable, the funds shall be expended upon the lands for which the permit was issued and for which the bond was given.

444.786. Any person required by sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 to have a permit who engages in the mining of minerals without previously securing a permit to do so as prescribed by sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars. Each day of operation without the permit required by sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 will be deemed a separate violation.

444.787. 1. The commission shall investigate surface mining operations in the state of Missouri. If the investigations show that surface mining is being or is going to be conducted without a permit in violation of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 or in violation of any revocation order, and the commission has not issued a variance, the commission shall request the attorney general to file suit in the name of the state of Missouri for an injunction and civil penalties not to exceed one thousand dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, the violation has occurred. Suit may be filed either in the county where the violation occurs or in Cole County.

2. If the investigation shows that a surface mining operation for which a permit has been issued is being conducted contrary to or in violation of any provision of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 or any rule or regulation promulgated by the commission or any condition imposed on the permit or any condition of the bond, the director may by conference, conciliation and persuasion endeavor to eliminate the violation. If the violation is not eliminated, the director shall provide to the operator by registered mail a notice describing the nature of the violation, corrective measures to be taken to abate the violation, and the time period for abatement. Within fifteen days of receipt of this notice the operator may request an informal conference with the director to contest the notice. The director may modify, vacate or enforce the notice and shall provide notice to the operator of his action within thirty days of the informal conference. If the operator fails to comply with the notice, as amended by the director, in the time prescribed within the notice, the director shall file a formal complaint with the commission for suspension or revocation of the permit, and for forfeiture of bond, or for appropriate corrective measures. When the director files a formal complaint, the commission shall cause to have issued and served upon the person complained against a written notice together with a copy of the formal complaint, which shall specify the provision of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790 or the rule or regulation or the condition of the permit or of the bond of which the person is alleged to be in violation, a statement of the manner in, and the extent to which, the person is alleged to be in violation. The person complained against may, within fifteen days of receipt of the complaint, request a hearing before the commission. Such hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of section 444.789.

3. After due consideration of the hearing record, or upon failure of the operator to request a hearing by the date specified in the complaint, the commission shall issue and enter such final order and make such final determination as it shall deem appropriate under the circumstances. Included in such order and determination may be the revocation of any permit and to cease and desist operations. The commission shall immediately notify the respondent of its decision in writing by certified mail.

4. Any final order or determination or other final action by the commission shall be approved in writing by at least four members of the commission. The commission shall not issue any permit to any person who has had a permit revoked until the violation that caused the revocation is corrected to the satisfaction of the commission. Any final order of the commission can be appealed in accordance with chapter 536, RSMo.

444.788. In the event the commission determines that any provisions of sections 444.760 to [444.789] 444.790, rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, permits issued, conditions of the bond, or any final order or determination made by the commission or the director is being violated, the commission may, either after judicial review or simultaneously with judicial review, cause to have instituted a civil action, either in the county where the violation occurs or in Cole County, for injunctive relief, for collection of the civil penalty and for forfeiture of bond. The attorney general shall bring such action, at the request of the commission, in the name of the state of Missouri.

444.789. 1. Any hearing [under] pursuant to this section shall be of record and shall be a contested case.

2. Parties to such a hearing may make oral argument, introduce testimony and evidence, and cross-examine witnesses.

3. The hearing shall be before the commission or the chairman of the commission may designate one commission member as hearing officer, or may appoint a member in good standing of the Missouri Bar as hearing officer to hold the hearing and make recommendations to the commission, but the commission shall make the final decision thereon and any member participating in the decision shall review the record before making the decision.

4. In any such hearing any member of the commission may issue in the name of the commission notice of hearing and subpoenas as provided for in section 536.077, RSMo.

5. The rules of discovery that apply to any civil case shall apply to hearings held by the commission.

6. The administrative procedures in this section shall not apply to the public meetings pursuant to section 444.773.”; and

SENATE BILL FOR THIRD READING

SB 256, HCA 1, (Fiscal Review 3-14-01) - O'Toole

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-THIRD DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God, as our heads are bowed, may our hearts and minds be open to Your Spirit. Forgive us for worrying so often and praying so seldom. Forgive us, so helpless without You, yet so unwilling to seek Your help. Bless the men and women of this House, grant to them renewal and rest in the coming week and safe travel home. Keep their families in Your love, and bless the Irish in us all. To You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jennifer Edgington, Jocelyn Nebel, Ryan Koch, Leslie Hughes, Michelle Woledge, Sam Brotherton, Melton Williams, Susie Becher, Paige Pryor, Brooke Pryor, Erica Pryor, and Kelsey Aldrich Freebing.

The Journal of the forty-second day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-FIFTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 26, 2001

Speaker Pro Tem Abel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Lord our God, You have blessed our nation and made it a home of freedom and democracy. You have given us our state of Missouri, a land truly flowing with milk and honey in many ways. You entrust us with resources of the earth, and give us means to develop our human talents. May we prove worthy of such trust.

Guide those who represent our people to preserve and protect all the temporal and spiritual goods You have given us. Stamp the laws passed here with Your divine imprint, that they may both reflect Your goodness and also defend all the citizens who You care for, the powerful and the weak, the small and the great, the poor and the rich. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Heather Munzert.

The Journal of the forty-third day was approved as corrected.

The Journal of the forty-fourth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-SIXTH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

Like scenery on the stage of life, God, You are the background to all we do. May we sense frequently Your invisible but powerful presence. Today will hold in its wake discussion, perhaps disagreement, interactions, strong feelings, thought, research, judgment, decision.

Help these representatives set aside personal reputation or gain, and focus on the greater good of us all. Channel their healthy ambition towards their constituents, and towards our whole state and our society. In You, through You, and with You, may our efforts begin, and find their way back to the lap of Your caring concern for us all. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

House Amendment No. 2

AMEND House Bill No. 120, Page 1, Section A, Line 2, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"302.173. 1. Any applicant for a license, who does not possess a valid license issued pursuant to the laws of this state or any other state shall be examined as herein provided. Any person who has failed to renew such person's license on or before the date of its expiration or within six months thereafter must take the complete examination. Any active member of the armed forces, their adult dependents or any active member of the peace corps may apply for a renewal license without examination of any kind, unless otherwise required by sections 302.700 to 302.780, provided the renewal application shows that the previous license had not been suspended or revoked. Any person honorably discharged from the armed forces of the United States who held a valid license prior to being inducted may apply for a renewal license within sixty days after such person's honorable discharge without submitting to any examination of such person's ability to safely operate a motor vehicle over the highways of this state unless otherwise required by sections 302.700 to 302.780, other than the vision test provided in section 302.175, unless the facts set out in the renewal application or record of convictions on the expiring license, or the records of the director show that there is good cause to authorize the director to require the applicant to submit to the complete examination. No applicant for a renewal license shall be required to submit to any examination of his or her ability to safely operate a motor vehicle over the highways of this state unless otherwise required by sections 302.700 to 302.780 or regulations promulgated thereunder, other than a test of the applicant's ability to understand highway signs regulating, warning or directing traffic and the vision test provided in section 302.175, unless the facts set out in the renewal application or record of convictions on the expiring license, or the records of the director show that there is good cause to authorize the director to require the applicant to submit to the complete examination. The examination shall be made available in each county. Reasonable notice of the time and place of the examination shall be given the applicant by the person or officer designated to conduct it. The complete examination shall include a test of the applicant's natural or corrected vision as prescribed in section 302.175, the applicant's ability to understand highway signs regulating, warning or directing traffic, the applicant's practical knowledge of the traffic laws of this state, and an actual demonstration of ability to exercise due care in the operation of a motor vehicle of the classification for which the license is sought. When an applicant for a license has a valid license from a state which has requirements for issuance of a license comparable to the Missouri requirements, the director may waive the requirement of actual demonstration of ability to exercise due care in the operation of a motor vehicle. If the director has reasonable grounds to believe that an applicant is suffering from some known physical or mental ailment which ordinarily would interfere with the applicant's fitness to operate a motor vehicle safely upon the highways, the director may require that the examination include a physical or mental examination by a licensed physician of the applicant's choice, at the applicant's expense, to determine the fact. The director shall prescribe regulations to ensure uniformity in the examinations and in the grading thereof and shall prescribe and furnish all forms to the members of the highway patrol and to other persons authorized to conduct examinations as may be necessary to enable the officer or person to properly conduct the examination. The records of the examination shall be forwarded to the director who shall not issue any license hereunder if in the director's opinion the applicant is not qualified to operate a motor vehicle safely upon the highways of this state.

2. The director of revenue shall delegate the power to conduct the examinations required for a license or permit to any member of the highway patrol or any person employed by the highway patrol. The powers delegated to any examiner may be revoked at any time by the director of revenue upon notice.

3. Notwithstanding the requirements of subsections 1 and 2 of this section, the successful completion of a motorcycle rider training course approved pursuant to sections 302.133 to 302.138 shall constitute an actual demonstration of the person's ability to exercise due care in the operation of a motorcycle or motortricycle, and no further driving test shall be required to obtain a motorcycle or motortricycle license or endorsement."; and

Further amend said title, enacting clause and intersectional references accordingly.

On motion of Representative Kelly (27), House Amendment No. 2 was adopted.

On motion of Representative O'Connor, HB 120, as amended, was ordered perfected and printed.

House Amendment No. 2

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 457, Page 11, Section 166.324, Line 4, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"313.805. The commission shall have full jurisdiction over and shall supervise all gambling operations governed by sections 313.800 to 313.850. The commission shall have the following powers and shall promulgate rules and regulations to implement sections 313.800 to 313.850:

- (1) To investigate applicants and determine the priority and eligibility of applicants for a license and to select among competing applicants for a license the applicant which best serves the interests of the citizens of Missouri;
- (2) To license the operators of excursion gambling boats and operators of gambling games within such boats, to identify occupations within the excursion gambling boat operations which require licensing, and adopt standards for licensing the occupations including establishing fees for the occupational licenses and to license suppliers;

(3) To adopt standards under which all excursion gambling boat operations shall be held and standards for the facilities within which the gambling operations are to be held. Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 311, RSMo, to the contrary, the commission may authorize the operation of gambling games on an excursion gambling boat which is also licensed to sell or serve alcoholic beverages, wine, or beer. The commission shall regulate the wagering structure for gambling excursions [including providing a maximum loss of five hundred dollars per individual player per gambling excursion];

(4) To enter the premises of excursion gambling boats, facilities, or other places of business of a licensee within this state to determine compliance with sections 313.800 to 313.850;

(5) To investigate alleged violations of sections 313.800 to 313.850 or the commission rules, orders, or final decisions;

(6) To assess any appropriate administrative penalty against a licensee, including, but not limited to, suspension, revocation, and penalties of an amount as determined by the commission up to three times the highest daily amount of gross receipts derived from wagering on the gambling games, whether unauthorized or authorized, conducted during the previous twelve months as well as confiscation and forfeiture of all gambling game equipment used in the conduct of unauthorized gambling games. Forfeitures pursuant to this section shall be enforced as provided in sections 513.600 to 513.645, RSMo;

(7) To require a licensee, an employee of a licensee or holder of an occupational license to remove a person violating a provision of sections 313.800 to 313.850 or the commission rules, orders, or final orders, or other person deemed to be undesirable from the excursion gambling boat or adjacent facilities;

(8) To require the removal from the premises of a licensee, an employee of a licensee, or a holder of an occupational license for a violation of sections 313.800 to 313.850 or a commission rule or engaging in a fraudulent practice;

(9) To require all licensees to file all financial reports required by rules and regulations of the commission;

(10) To issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and subpoenas duces tecum for the production of books, records, and other pertinent documents, and to administer oaths and affirmations to the witnesses, when, in the judgment of the commission, it is necessary to enforce sections 313.800 to 313.850 or the commission rules;

(11) To keep accurate and complete records of its proceedings and to certify the records as may be appropriate;

(12) To ensure that the gambling games are conducted fairly. No gambling device shall be set to pay out less than eighty percent of all wagers;

(13) To require all licensees of gambling game operations to use a cashless wagering system whereby all players' money is converted to physical or electronic tokens, electronic cards, or chips which only can be used for wagering on the excursion gambling boat;

(14) To require excursion gambling boat licensees to develop a system, approved by the commission, that allows patrons the option to prohibit the excursion gambling boat licensee from using identifying information for marketing purposes. The provisions of this subdivision shall apply only to patrons giving identifying information for the first time. Such system shall be submitted to the commission by October 1, 2000, and approved by the commission by January 1, 2001. The excursion gambling boat licensee shall use identifying information obtained from patrons who have elected to have marketing blocked under the provisions of this section only for the purposes of enforcing the requirements contained in sections 313.800 to 313.850. This section shall not prohibit the commission from accessing identifying information for the purposes of enforcing section 313.004 and sections 313.800 to 313.850;

(15) To determine which of the authorized gambling games will be permitted on any licensed excursion gambling boat;

(16) Excursion gambling boats shall cruise, unless the commission finds that the best interest of Missouri and the safety of the public indicate the need for continuous docking of the excursion gambling boat in any city or county authorized pursuant to subsection 10 of section 313.812. The commission shall base its decision to allow continuously docked excursion gambling boats on any of the following criteria: the docking location or the excursion cruise could cause danger to the boat's passengers, violate federal law or the law of another state, or cause disruption of interstate commerce or possible interference with railway or barge transportation. In addition, the commission shall consider economic feasibility or impact that would benefit land-based development and permanent job creation. The commission shall not discriminate among applicants for continuous-docking excursion gambling that are similarly situated with respect to the criteria set forth in this section;

(17) The commission shall render a finding concerning the possibility of continuous docking, as described in subdivision (15) of this section, within thirty days after a hearing on any request from an applicant or licensee. Such hearing may be held prior to any final action on licensing to assist an applicant and any city or county in the finalizing of their economic development plan;

(18) To require any applicant for a license or renewal of a license to operate an excursion gambling boat to provide an affirmative action plan which has as its goal the use of best efforts to achieve maximum employment of African-Americans and other minorities and maximum participation in the procurement of contractual purchases of goods and services. This provision shall be administered in accordance with all federal and state employment laws, including Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended by the Civil Rights Act of 1991. At license renewal, the licensee will report on the effectiveness of the plan. The commission shall include the licensee's reported information in its annual report to the joint committee on gaming and wagering;

(19) To take any other action as may be reasonable or appropriate to enforce sections 313.800 to 313.850 and the commission rules."; and

AMEND House Amendment No. 2 to House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 457, Page 2 of said amendment, Section 313.805, Line 10 of said page, by deleting the opening bracket; and

Further amend Page 2 of said amendment, Section 313.805, Line 11, by deleting the closing bracket and adding immediately after the word “excursion” the following:

"for all excursions prior to January 1, 2002, provided that no limitation on loss shall be in effect on or after January 1, 2001, and provided that any increased state excursion gambling boat proceeds deposited in the gaming proceeds for education fund shall be transferred pursuant to section 160.534, RSMo"; and

"313.820. 1. An excursion boat licensee shall pay to the commission an admission fee of [two] three dollars for each person embarking on an excursion gambling boat with a ticket of admission. One dollar and fifty cents of such fee shall be deposited to the credit of the gaming commission fund as authorized pursuant to section 313.835, and one dollar and fifty cents of such fee shall not be considered state funds and shall be paid to the home dock city or county. Subject to appropriation, one cent of such fee deposited to the credit of the gaming commission fund may be deposited to the credit of the compulsive gamblers fund created pursuant to the provisions of section 313.842. Nothing in this section shall preclude any licensee from charging any amount deemed necessary for a ticket of admission to any person embarking on an excursion gambling boat. If tickets are issued which are good for more than one excursion, the admission fee shall be paid to the commission for each person using the ticket on each excursion that the ticket is used. If free passes or complimentary admission tickets are issued, the excursion boat licensee shall pay to the commission the same fee upon these passes or complimentary tickets as if they were sold at the regular and usual admission rate; however, the excursion boat licensee may issue fee-free passes to actual and necessary officials and employees of the licensee or other persons actually working on the excursion gambling boat. The issuance of fee-free passes is subject to the rules of the commission, and a list of all persons to whom the fee-free passes are issued shall be filed with the commission.

2. All licensees are subject to all income taxes, sales taxes, earnings taxes, use taxes, property taxes or any other tax or fee now or hereafter lawfully levied by any political subdivision; however, no other license tax, permit tax, occupation tax, excursion fee, or taxes or fees shall be imposed, levied or assessed exclusively upon licensees by a political subdivision. All state taxes not connected directly to gambling games shall be collected by the department of revenue. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 32.057, RSMo, to the contrary, the department of revenue may furnish and the commission may receive tax information to determine if applicants or licensees are complying with the tax laws of this state; however, any tax information acquired by the commission shall not become public record and shall be used exclusively for commission business.

313.835. 1. All revenue received by the commission from license fees, penalties, administrative fees, reimbursement by any excursion gambling boat operators for services provided by the commission and admission fees authorized pursuant to the provisions of sections 313.800 to 313.850, except that portion of the admission fee, not to exceed one cent, that may be appropriated to the compulsive gamblers fund as provided in section 313.820, shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the "Gaming Commission Fund" which is hereby created for the sole purpose of funding the administrative costs of the commission, subject to appropriation. Moneys deposited into this fund shall not be considered proceeds of gambling operations. Moneys deposited into the gaming commission fund shall be considered state funds pursuant to article IV, section 15 of the Missouri Constitution. All interest received on the gaming commission fund shall be credited to the gaming commission fund. In each fiscal year, total revenues to the gaming commission fund for the preceding fiscal year shall be compared to total expenditures and transfers from the gaming commission fund for the preceding fiscal year. The remaining net proceeds in the gaming commission fund shall be distributed in the following manner:

(1) The first five hundred thousand dollars shall be appropriated on a per capita basis to cities and counties that match the state portion and have demonstrated a need for funding community neighborhood organization programs for the homeless and to deter gang-related violence and crimes;

Appropriations from the veterans' commission capital improvement trust fund to such memorial fund shall be provided only as a one-time match for other funds devoted to the project and shall not exceed five million dollars. Additional appropriations not to exceed ten million dollars total may be made from the veterans' commission capital improvement trust fund as a match to other funds for the new construction or renovation of other facilities dedicated as veterans' memorials in the state. All appropriations for renovation, new construction, reconstruction, and maintenance of veterans' memorials shall be made only for applications received by the Missouri veterans' commission prior to July 1, 2004.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, to the contrary, moneys in the veterans' commission capital improvement trust fund at the end of any biennium shall not be transferred to the credit of the general revenue fund;

Any moneys deposited in such fund shall be used to support programs that prepare children prior to the age in which they are eligible to enroll in kindergarten, pursuant to section 160.053, RSMo, to enter school ready to learn. All moneys deposited in the early childhood development, education and care fund shall be annually appropriated for voluntary, early childhood development, education and care programs serving children in every region of the state not yet enrolled in kindergarten;

Further amend Page 2 of said amendment, Section 313.805, Line 11, by deleting the closing bracket; and

"313.820. 1. An excursion boat licensee shall pay to the commission an admission fee of [two] three dollars for each person embarking on an excursion gambling boat with a ticket of admission. One dollar and fifty cents of such fee shall be deposited to the credit of the gaming commission fund as authorized pursuant to section 313.835, and one dollar and fifty cents of such fee shall not be considered state funds and shall be paid to the home dock city or county. Subject to appropriation, one cent of such fee deposited to the credit of the gaming commission fund may be deposited to the credit of the compulsive gamblers fund created pursuant to the provisions of section 313.842. Nothing in this section shall preclude any licensee from charging any amount deemed necessary for a ticket of admission to any person embarking on an excursion gambling boat. If tickets are issued which are good for more than one excursion, the admission fee shall be paid to the commission for each person using the ticket on each excursion that the ticket is used. If free passes or complimentary admission tickets are issued, the excursion boat licensee shall pay to the commission the same fee upon these passes or complimentary tickets as if they were sold at the regular and usual admission rate; however, the excursion boat licensee may issue fee-free passes to actual and necessary officials and employees of the licensee or other persons actually working on the excursion gambling boat. The issuance of fee-free passes is subject to the rules of the commission, and a list of all persons to whom the fee-free passes are issued shall be filed with the commission.

2. All licensees are subject to all income taxes, sales taxes, earnings taxes, use taxes, property taxes or any other tax or fee now or hereafter lawfully levied by any political subdivision; however, no other license tax, permit tax, occupation tax, excursion fee, or taxes or fees shall be imposed, levied or assessed exclusively upon licensees by a political subdivision. All state taxes not connected directly to gambling games shall be collected by the department of revenue. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 32.057, RSMo, to the contrary, the department of revenue may furnish and the commission may receive tax information to determine if applicants or licensees are complying with the tax laws of this state; however, any tax information acquired by the commission shall not become public record and shall be used exclusively for commission business.

313.835. 1. All revenue received by the commission from license fees, penalties, administrative fees, reimbursement by any excursion gambling boat operators for services provided by the commission and admission fees authorized pursuant to the provisions of sections 313.800 to 313.850, except that portion of the admission fee, not to exceed one cent, that may be appropriated to the compulsive gamblers fund as provided in section 313.820, shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the "Gaming Commission Fund" which is hereby created for the sole purpose of funding the administrative costs of the commission, subject to appropriation. Moneys deposited into this fund shall not be considered proceeds of gambling operations. Moneys deposited into the gaming commission fund shall be considered state funds pursuant to article IV, section 15 of the Missouri Constitution. All interest received on the gaming commission fund shall be credited to the gaming commission fund. In each fiscal year, total revenues to the gaming commission fund for the preceding fiscal year shall be compared to total expenditures and transfers from the gaming commission fund for the preceding fiscal year. The remaining net proceeds in the gaming commission fund shall be distributed in the following manner:

(1) The first five hundred thousand dollars shall be appropriated on a per capita basis to cities and counties that match the state portion and have demonstrated a need for funding community neighborhood organization programs for the homeless and to deter gang-related violence and crimes;

(2) The remaining net proceeds in the gaming commission fund for fiscal year 1998 and prior years shall be transferred to the "Veterans' Commission Capital Improvement Trust Fund", as hereby created in the state treasury. (b) The construction, maintenance, renovation, equipment needs and operation of veterans' cemeteries in this state;

(c) Fund transfers to Missouri veterans' homes fund established pursuant to the provisions of section 42.121, RSMo, as necessary to maintain solvency of the fund; and

(d) Fund transfers to any municipality with a population greater than four hundred thousand and located in part of a county with a population greater than six hundred thousand in this state which has established a fund for the sole purpose of the restoration, renovation and maintenance of a memorial or museum or both dedicated to World War I. Appropriations from the veterans' commission capital improvement trust fund to such memorial fund shall be provided only as a one-time match for other funds devoted to the project and shall not exceed five million dollars. Additional appropriations not to exceed ten million dollars total may be made from the veterans' commission capital improvement trust fund as a match to other funds for the new construction or renovation of other facilities dedicated as veterans' memorials in the state. All appropriations for renovation, new construction, reconstruction, and maintenance of veterans' memorials shall be made only for applications received by the Missouri veterans' commission prior to July 1, 2004.

Any interest which accrues to the fund shall remain in the fund and shall be used in the same manner as moneys which are transferred to the fund pursuant to this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, to the contrary, moneys in the veterans' commission capital improvement trust fund at the end of any biennium shall not be transferred to the credit of the general revenue fund;

(3) The remaining net proceeds in the gaming commission fund for fiscal year 1999 and each fiscal year thereafter shall be distributed as follows:

(d) Subject to appropriations, one hundred percent of remaining net proceeds in the gaming commission fund except as provided in paragraph (1) of this subdivision, shall be transferred to the "Early Childhood Development, Education and Care Fund" which is hereby created to give parents meaningful choices and assistance in choosing the child-care and education arrangements that are appropriate for their family. All interest received on the fund shall be credited to the fund. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, moneys in the fund at the end of any biennium shall not be transferred to the credit of the general revenue fund. Any moneys deposited in such fund shall be used to support programs that prepare children prior to the age in which they are eligible to enroll in kindergarten, pursuant to section 160.053, RSMo, to enter school ready to learn. All moneys deposited in the early childhood development, education and care fund shall be annually appropriated for voluntary, early childhood development, education and care programs serving children in every region of the state not yet enrolled in kindergarten;

(e) No less than sixty percent of moneys deposited in the early childhood development, education and care fund shall be appropriated as provided in this paragraph to the department of elementary and secondary education and to the department of social services to provide early childhood development, education and care programs through competitive grants to, or contracts with, governmental or private agencies. COMMITTEE REPORT

Committee on Education-Elementary and Secondary, Chairman Franklin reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Education-Elementary and Secondary, to which was referred HCR 10, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 10

WHEREAS, the original passage of the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) in 1975 established a program of free appropriate public education to better enable students with disabilities to achieve their greatest potential; and

WHEREAS, IDEA also represented an advance in civil rights for disabled children through equal protection; and

WHEREAS, Missouri has demonstrated a strong commitment to serving our children with disabilities through provision of special education and related services to over 127,000 students (14.18 percent of public school enrollment); and

WHEREAS, the original intent of the 94th Congress was to fund IDEA at 40% of its cost, but funding has never exceeded 13%; and

WHEREAS, federal law requires school districts to meet federal standards, but Congress has not provided the promised funding necessary to achieve those standards; and

WHEREAS, Missouri and several other states have legal prohibitions on passing unfunded mandates to the local level and therefore must either make up the shortfall or ask local districts to do so and thereby risk litigation; and

WHEREAS, local districts must then cover the mandated expenses of special education and reduce funding for teachers, textbooks and supplies, building maintenance and repair, as well as meet the counterproductive reporting burden which severely reduces teacher availability;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge that before the 107th Congress considers any other education initiatives, that IDEA receive prompt and full funding, and the reporting requirements of IDEA be significantly reduced; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and every member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Almighty God: You power is displayed in all of Your creation. Help us, in this corner of Your world, in Missouri, to count our blessings. Grant to these men and women of the House, the patience needed to contend with the clamor of competing voices, and the ability to break with private goals often enough to ease some burden or right some wrong.

Keep their values strong and help them to use their power to care for those dependent upon the justice and mercy of our state; to You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lauren Beasley, Lindsey Beasley, Tim Clark, Tim Dulin, Chris Werkmeister, Nikki Bisel, John Schwartz, Hannah Schwartz, Jeffrey Schwartz, Kent Branson, Kyle Branson, Kristy Branson, Kole Branson, Kristin Henke, Amanda Harris and Frank Weimer.

The Journal of the forty-sixth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

What Price Freedom?

She sits alone at her kitchen table, flipping through the weekly newspaper, just as she has for the past ten years. She scans the ads to see what is on sale this week at her grocery store. She notices that sugar is only 55 cents a pound, and green beans three cans for a dollar, so she adds these to her grocery list. She flips back to the front page and the headline catches her eye: "Seventeen killed in the explosion of USS Cole." The newsprint blurs as she feels the hot sting of tears.

The tea kettle whistles, but she is unaware, lost in the details of the article. Grandma feels familiar emotions from the past leap upon her. She remembers the agony of waiting after the 1967 explosion on the USS Forrestal. She relives the days spent sitting by the telephone and the nights spent watching the television reports after her son was listed as missing in action, praying that he would be found alive. The grief that she went through once his death was confirmed lingers still.

Her generation has first hand experience of the cost of war. Hitler, World War II, and the Korean War, are not just facts from a history book to her. She is truly one of Tom Brokaw's "Greatest Generation." She traveled to Norfolk, Virginia to marry my grandpa, who was training troupes for WW II. She has clear memories of Pearl Harbor and D-Day, and the horrors they learned after the war ended about Hitler's treatment of the Jews. Years later she watched her son go off to fight in Vietnam. She searched the news daily for information about the war, only to have her worst fears realized when he became a casualty.

With these life experiences, it is hard not to feel the effects of freedom's price. A life is lost in an instant, but the loss is felt for years. It took away not only her son, but also her future daughter-in-law and grandchildren. To others, a brother, friend, neighbor, and a good man was lost without warning. This scene has been replayed in many families across our country. Even though many other men did not lose their life in the war, they did lose their innocence, for their daily lives are still interrupted by the sights, sounds, smells, and feelings of war permanently etched upon their minds. These are the ones who financed the freedom I enjoy.

I am part of a generation that does not remember America ever being at war. The wars in Bosnia or the civil wars in Africa, are just events I see on television or discuss in current events class. I am grateful that no recent war has been fought on U.S. soil, but it means that I and others in my generation may not fully understand the price of freedom. We've read the facts and seen the Hollywood movies, but that is a far stretch from the reality of loss. To many teenagers, the price of freedom is nothing. It is taken for granted.

In his book Brave New World, Aldous Huxley shows us that the problem of living in a perfect world is that you can't appreciate something without feeling the reverse. He communicates the idea that you have to experience sadness to appreciate joy and pain to enjoy your health. I feel that same concept applies to freedom. In other words, if freedom is all that you've ever known, it won't have the same value to you as it would to someone who has had to struggle or fight to become free. My grandmother endured the heartache along with the victory, and because of this she values her freedom.

For many, freedom is taken for granted, because they have never experienced a threat to it. There has been no personal sacrifice required to protect their liberty. I also must look to my grandmother to learn from her life. She can tell me what price freedom is. Because she lives it every day. The dear price of freedom paid in the lives of honorable men and women who have faced atrocities and lost their lives or been permanently changed because of it. To these heroes, we owe a debt of understanding, compassion, kindness and respect. There is no way to reconcile the losses, but we can honor them in our hearts, minds, and actions. No memorial to any life lost can compensate for that loss, but it can serve as a reminder of what freedom's price is. So that some can learn about the price that others, like my grandma, will never forget.

(14) Children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age. For children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age, the division of family services shall use an income assessment methodology which provides for eligibility when family income is equal to or less than equal to one hundred percent of the federal poverty level established by the Department of Health and Human Services, or its successor agency. As necessary to provide Medicaid coverage [under] pursuant to this subdivision, the department of social services may revise the state Medicaid plan to extend coverage under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(A)(i)(III) to children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age as permitted by paragraph (2) of subsection (n) of 42 U.S.C. 1396d using a more liberal income assessment methodology as authorized by paragraph (2) of subsection (r) of 42 U.S.C. 1396a;

(c) Children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age with family income greater than one hundred percent of the federal poverty guideline for the applicable family size. Coverage [under] pursuant to this subdivision shall be subject to the receipt of notification by the director of the department of social services and the revisor of statutes of approval from the secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services of applications for waivers of federal requirements necessary to promulgate regulations to implement this subdivision. The director of the department of social services shall apply for such waivers. The regulations may provide for a basic primary and preventive health care services package, not to include all medical services covered by section 208.152, and may also establish co-payment, coinsurance, deductible, or premium requirements for medical assistance [under] pursuant to this subdivision. Eligibility for medical assistance [under] pursuant to this subdivision shall be available only to those infants and children who do not have or have not been eligible for employer-subsidized health care insurance coverage for the six months prior to application for medical assistance. Children are eligible for employer-subsidized coverage through either parent, including the noncustodial parent. The division of family services may establish a resource eligibility standard in assessing eligibility for persons [under] pursuant to this subdivision. The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals [under] pursuant to this subdivision in accordance with the requirement of federal law and regulations. Coverage [under] pursuant to this subdivision shall be subject to appropriation to provide services approved [under] pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision;

(16) The division of family services shall not establish a resource eligibility standard in assessing eligibility for persons [under] pursuant to subdivision (12), (13) or (14) of this subsection. The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals eligible [under] pursuant to each of the subdivisions (12), (13), and (14) of this subsection, in accordance with the requirements of federal law and regulations promulgated thereunder except that the scope of benefits shall include case management services;

(17) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, ambulatory prenatal care shall be made available to pregnant women during a period of presumptive eligibility pursuant to 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-1, as amended;

(18) A child born to a woman eligible for and receiving medical assistance [under] pursuant to this section on the date of the child's birth shall be deemed to have applied for medical assistance and to have been found eligible for such assistance under such plan on the date of such birth and to remain eligible for such assistance for a period of time determined in accordance with applicable federal and state law and regulations so long as the child is a member of the woman's household and either the woman remains eligible for such assistance or for children born on or after January 1, 1991, the woman would remain eligible for such assistance if she were still pregnant. Upon notification of such child's birth, the division of family services shall assign a medical assistance eligibility identification number to the child so that claims may be submitted and paid under such child's identification number;

(19) Pregnant women and children eligible for medical assistance pursuant to subdivision (12), (13) or (14) of this subsection shall not as a condition of eligibility for medical assistance benefits be required to apply for aid to families with dependent children. The division of family services shall utilize an application for eligibility for such persons which eliminates information requirements other than those necessary to apply for medical assistance. The division shall provide such application forms to applicants whose preliminary income information indicates that they are ineligible for aid to families with dependent children. Applicants for medical assistance benefits [under] pursuant to subdivision (12), (13) or (14) shall be informed of the aid to families with dependent children program and that they are entitled to apply for such benefits. Any forms utilized by the division of family services for assessing eligibility [under] pursuant to this chapter shall be as simple as practicable;

(20) Subject to appropriations necessary to recruit and train such staff, the division of family services shall provide one or more full-time, permanent case workers to process applications for medical assistance at the site of a health care provider, if the health care provider requests the placement of such case workers and reimburses the division for the expenses including but not limited to salaries, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such case workers. The division may provide a health care provider with a part-time or temporary case worker at the site of a health care provider if the health care provider requests the placement of such a case worker and reimburses the division for the expenses, including but not limited to the salary, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such a case worker. The division may seek to employ such case workers who are otherwise qualified for such positions and who are current or former welfare recipients. The division may consider training such current or former welfare recipients as case workers for this program;

(21) Pregnant women who are eligible for, have applied for and have received medical assistance [under] pursuant to subdivision (2), (10), (11) or (12) of this subsection shall continue to be considered eligible for all pregnancy-related and postpartum medical assistance provided [under] pursuant to section 208.152 until the end of the sixty-day period beginning on the last day of their pregnancy;

(22) Case management services for pregnant women and young children at risk shall be a covered service. To the greatest extent possible, and in compliance with federal law and regulations, the department of health shall provide case management services to pregnant women by contract or agreement with the department of social services through local health departments organized [under] pursuant to the provisions of chapter 192, RSMo, or chapter 205, RSMo, or a city health department operated under a city charter or a combined city-county health department or other department of health designees. To the greatest extent possible the department of social services and the department of health shall mutually coordinate all services for pregnant women and children with the crippled children's program, the prevention of mental retardation program and the prenatal care program administered by the department of health. The department of social services shall by regulation establish the methodology for reimbursement for case management services provided by the department of health. For purposes of this section, the term "case management" shall mean those activities of local public health personnel to identify prospective Medicaid-eligible high-risk mothers and enroll them in the state's Medicaid program, refer them to local physicians or local health departments who provide prenatal care under physician protocol and who participate in the Medicaid program for prenatal care and to ensure that said high-risk mothers receive support from all private and public programs for which they are eligible and shall not include involvement in any Medicaid prepaid, case-managed programs;

(23) By January 1, 1988, the department of social services and the department of health shall study all significant aspects of presumptive eligibility for pregnant women and submit a joint report on the subject, including projected costs and the time needed for implementation, to the general assembly. The department of social services, at the direction of the general assembly, may implement presumptive eligibility by regulation promulgated pursuant to chapter 207, RSMo;

(24) All recipients who would be eligible for aid to families with dependent children benefits except for the requirements of paragraph (d) of subdivision (1) of section 208.150;

(25) All persons who would be determined to be eligible for old age assistance benefits, permanent and total disability benefits, or aid to the blind benefits, under the eligibility standards in effect December 31, 1973, [or those supplemental security income recipients who would be determined eligible for general relief benefits under the eligibility standards in effect December 31, 1973, except income; or less restrictive standards as established by rule of the division of family services.] except that less restrictive income methodologies, as authorized under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (r) (2), shall be used to raise the income limit to one hundred percent of the federal poverty level. If federal law or regulation authorizes the division of family services to, by rule, exclude the income or resources of a parent or parents of a person under the age of eighteen and such exclusion of income or resources can be limited to such parent or parents,

then notwithstanding the provisions of section 208.010:

(a) The division may by rule exclude such income or resources in determining such person's eligibility for permanent and total disability benefits; and

(b) Eligibility standards for permanent and total disability benefits shall not be limited by age;

(26) Within thirty days of the effective date of an initial appropriation authorizing medical assistance on behalf of "medically needy" individuals for whom federal reimbursement is available under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(c), the department of social services shall submit an amendment to the Medicaid state plan to provide medical assistance on behalf of, at a minimum, an individual described in subclause (I) or (II) of clause 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(C)(ii).

2. Rules and regulations to implement this section shall be promulgated in accordance with section 431.064, RSMo, and chapter 536, RSMo. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated [under] pursuant to the authority of this chapter shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of [section 536.024] chapter 536, RSMo.

3. After December 31, 1973, and before April 1, 1990, any family eligible for assistance pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended, in at least three of the last six months immediately preceding the month in which such family became ineligible for such assistance because of increased income from employment shall, while a member of such family is employed, remain eligible for medical assistance for four calendar months following the month in which such family would otherwise be determined to be ineligible for such assistance because of income and resource limitation. After April 1, 1990, any family receiving aid pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended, in at least three of the six months immediately preceding the month in which such family becomes ineligible for such aid, because of hours of employment or income from employment of the caretaker relative, shall remain eligible for medical assistance for six calendar months following the month of such ineligibility as long as such family includes a child as provided in 42 U.S.C. 1396r-6. Each family which has received such medical assistance during the entire six-month period described in this section and which meets reporting requirements and income tests established by the division and continues to include a child as provided in 42 U.S.C. 1396r-6 shall receive medical assistance without fee for an additional six months. The division of medical services may provide by rule the scope of medical assistance coverage to be granted to such families.

4. For purposes of section 1902(1), (10) of Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act, as amended, any individual who, for the month of August, 1972, was eligible for or was receiving aid or assistance pursuant to the provisions of Titles I, X, XIV, or Part A of Title IV of such act and who, for such month, was entitled to monthly insurance benefits under Title II of such act, shall be deemed to be eligible for such aid or assistance for such month thereafter prior to October, 1974, if such individual would have been eligible for such aid or assistance for such month had the increase in monthly insurance benefits under Title II of such act resulting from enactment of Public Law 92-336 amendments to the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), as amended, not been applicable to such individual.

5. When any individual has been determined to be eligible for medical assistance, such medical assistance will be made available to him or her for care and services furnished in or after the third month before the month in which he or she made application for such assistance if such individual was, or upon application would have been, eligible for such assistance at the time such care and services were furnished; provided, further, that such medical expenses remain unpaid.”; and to Part II

House Substitute

House Committee Substitute
for House Bill No. 824*

AMEND Part II of House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 824, Page 1, In the Title, Line 6 of said page, by inserting after the word "section" the following: "and an emergency clause for a certain section"; and Further amend said Bill, Page 9, Section 208.550, Line 11 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"208.800. 1. The department of social services shall apply to the federal Department of Health and Human Services for a Medicaid waiver amendment to the section 1115 demonstration waiver or any additional Medicaid waivers necessary and desirable to establish a pharmacy discount program that provides discounted prescription drugs to eligible persons.

2. Upon receipt of the necessary waivers pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, the department of social services shall establish a pharmacy assistance program. Any Medicare eligible person whose household income is three hundred percent of the federal poverty level or less and who has no Medicare supplemental insurance policy that covers prescription drugs shall be eligible to participate in the program. Eligible persons shall enroll in the program through the department or a community pharmacy Medicaid provider. Community pharmacy Medicaid providers may charge a two-dollar sign-up fee for each application to cover administrative costs. Participants in the program shall renew their enrollment annually. The department shall prescribe by rule the application form, which shall be no more than one two-sided page.

3. The department shall take the necessary steps to ensure that the state of Missouri participates to the fullest extent possible in the national rebate program available to states that establish a pharmacy discount program. Any national rebate projected by the state shall be distributed as follows:

(1) Thirty percent of the rebate shall be credited at the point of sale as a discount to the enrollees. Participating community pharmacies shall be reimbursed monthly for the total amount of discounts given to enrollees;

(2) Forty-seven percent of the rebate shall be given to participating community pharmacies as a service fee on a monthly basis; and

(3) Twenty-three percent of the rebate shall be retained by the department to cover the administrative costs associated with the program.

4. At the time of purchase, enrollees in the pharmacy discount program shall receive prescription drugs at a price that is equivalent to the price that Medicaid pays minus the enrollee's thirty percent share of the national rebate. In no case shall the charge to the enrollee exceed the usual and customary charge of the pharmacy for the prescription. Participants in the pharmacy discount program shall not receive any other Medicaid benefits.

5. Participants in the pharmacy discount program shall be issued an identification card for use at a participating community pharmacy which shall be consistent with the department of insurance and subsequent third-party requirements. The participating community pharmacy shall use the state's online adjudication system to determine the amount to collect from the enrollee which shall simultaneously submit a claim to the state Medicaid agency to collect the difference between the amount the enrollee paid and the fee on file. The state shall pay the pharmacy and submit a claim to collect the national rebate available under the Medicaid program.

6. The state shall, at least once every two years, conduct a statistically valid study to determine the average cost of filling a prescription exclusive of any profit by a Missouri pharmacy. A certified accounting firm or the faculty of the department of pharmacy administration of a Missouri school of pharmacy shall conduct the study. The findings shall be used to set the reimbursement formula for all Medicaid prescriptions and other prescriptions paid for by this state using the Medicaid price as a basis for reimbursement. The state shall pay each pharmacy no less than the determined cost of filling a prescription exclusive of any profit as determined by the study or the study adjusted for the inflation factor in the year not conducted."; and

Further amend said Bill, Page 9, Section B, Line 13 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"Section C. Because immediate action is necessary to ensure the state's participation in a federal pharmacy discount program the enactment of section 208.800 of section A of this act is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, welfare, peace and safety, and is hereby declared to be an emergency act within the meaning of the constitution, and the enactment of section 208.800 of section A of this act shall be in full force and effect upon its passage and approval."; and

Further amend said title, enacting clause and intersectional references accordingly.

WHEREAS, the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and the United States Army Corps of Engineers plan to continue the practice of increasing the flow of the Missouri River in the spring and reducing the flow of the Missouri River in the summer and fall of each year; and

WHEREAS, such practice results in an increase in river levels in the spring which creates a greater risk of flooding along the Missouri River and causes a decrease in river levels in late summer and fall resulting in a reduction in barge traffic on the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers; and

WHEREAS, these regulatory practices of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and the United States Army Corps of Engineers have a severe impact on any industry which uses the Missouri River to transport products and cause flooding in river communities and on farm land in the Missouri and lower Mississippi River basins; and

WHEREAS, the governors of the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming and Montana have supported the practices of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and the United States Army Corps of Engineers because these regulatory practices benefit those states by allowing them to hold water in their federal reservoirs on the Missouri River during the summer; and

WHEREAS, the regulatory practices of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and the United States Army Corps of Engineers does adequately address the concerns and needs of states in the lower Missouri and Mississippi River basins; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri departments of natural resources and transportation have opposed the regulations of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and the United States Army Corps of Engineers and have taken actions to reduce the negative impacts of these regulatory practices on the state's river communities, lands and businesses:

House Concurrent Resolution No. 24

WHEREAS, recent high fuel prices have alerted us to the need to improve our nation's policies on fuel production; and

WHEREAS, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) has recently suggested that they will reduce crude oil production again in an attempt to manipulate prices; and

WHEREAS, reductions in crude oil production have resulted in sharp increases in prices for natural gas, gasoline and home heating oil; and

WHEREAS, the United States has become dangerously dependent on foreign petroleum; and

WHEREAS, Missouri consumers are experiencing higher prices at the pump and in home heating costs, and the economic stability of many areas of the state which rely on tourism may be jeopardized if the number of persons traveling to Missouri's vacation destinations is significantly reduced due to increased gasoline prices; and

WHEREAS, the trucking industry, heavily dependent on the availability and price of gasoline and diesel fuel, has been especially hard hit by the increase in fuel costs that have resulted in a significant increase in the transportation costs associated with the delivery of consumer goods throughout the state. Such an increase in cost to the trucking industry will inevitably be passed along to consumers as an increase in the price of consumer goods; and

WHEREAS, the increased petroleum fuel costs is particularly detrimental to Missouri family farmers because it comes at a time when overall market prices are low; and

WHEREAS, fuel prices could be reduced by increasing domestic production and encouraging the development of markets for products that can be used as the source material for renewable alternative fuels:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-first General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress to actively address the issue of fuel prices and take immediate actions necessary to reduce our nation's dependency on foreign petroleum sources and boost our own economy by:

(1) Enacting reasonable price supports for domestically produced crude oil and in other ways encouraging exploration for domestic petroleum sources in a manner that does not adversely impact the environment;

(2) Encouraging and creating incentives for fuel conservation measures that do not harm the economy; and

(3) Encouraging and creating incentives for research, development and use of alternative fuel sources, including ethanol and other fuels made from renewable materials that would not only reduce our dependency on foreign petroleum, but also have the potential to improve environmental protection and boost local economies; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President of the United States Senate and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

WHEREAS, these populations include uninsured citizens of Missouri, low-income underinsured individuals, Medicaid beneficiaries, and patients with special health care needs who rely on safety providers for their care; and

WHEREAS, institutions and physicians in the state of Missouri that have a high level of demonstrated commitment to caring for the uninsured and underserved patients of Missouri are experiencing serious financial problems due to that commitment; and

WHEREAS, providing public education is the primary duty of the state after paying state debts, as provided pursuant to Article III, Section 36 of the Missouri Constitution; and

WHEREAS, public school buildings in Missouri have historically been funded mainly by local funds; and

WHEREAS, the ability of school districts to pay for buildings, as measured by a district's assessed value per pupil, varies by a factor of roughly seventeen between the wealthiest and least wealthy district in this state; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education recently conducted a comprehensive review of school district building needs and found the existing statewide need for new construction and renovation to be in excess of four billion dollars; and

WHEREAS, public education is a labor intensive operation with roughly three-fourths of operating cost supporting salaries and benefits of staff, and most of those salaries being paid to certificated teachers; and

WHEREAS, state school operating aid has increased significantly since the passage of SB 380 in 1993; and

WHEREAS, state minimum salary requirements for teachers have not been increased to keep up with increases in the cost of living; and

WHEREAS, state cost to fully fund state school aid continues to increase significantly each year and requires funds which create hardships for other sectors of society needing access to state funds; and

WHEREAS, the adequacy and equity of funding available to public schools has again become a serious concern across the state, highlighted by the wide range of available operating funding for Missouri school districts, which ranges from $3500 per pupil to over $11,000 per pupil:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-first General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that a joint interim committee on education be created to be composed of seven members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate, and seven members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee conduct an in-depth study concerning all issues relating to funding for school buildings and building renovation, teachers' salaries, equity and adequacy of distribution of state school aid and overall funding levels for schools and any other education-related issues the committee deems relevant; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the committee conduct an in depth review of funding sources for public education that could serve as a replacement for the property tax; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee prepare a report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action it deems necessary for submission to the General Assembly prior to the commencement of the Second Regular Session of the Ninety-first General Assembly; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee may solicit any input and information necessary to fulfill its obligations from the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, the State Board of Education, the Department of Higher Education, the Coordinating Board for Higher Education, the State Tax Commission, all school districts and other political subdivisions of this state, teachers and teacher groups, business and other commercial interests and any other interested persons; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that House Research, the Committee on Legislative Research, and Senate Research shall provide such legal, research, clerical, technical and bill drafting services as the committee may require in the performance of its duties; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the actual and necessary expenses of the committee, its members and any staff personnel assigned to the committee incurred in attending meetings of the committee or any subcommittee thereof shall be paid from the Joint Contingent Fund and the committee shall prepare a report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action it deems necessary for submission to the Governor and the General Assembly by January 15, 2002. The committee shall be authorized to function until January 15, 2002.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-NINTH DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 2, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

God of progress, help these women and men continue in their activities to advance their goals for this session of our legislature. A lot has been accomplished. Many projects, programs, ideas and dreams remain unfulfilled. Invigorate us all anew in character and fortitude to press on with the work here in this chamber, in our representatives' offices, and in the hearing rooms. A new week presents itself with fresh challenges. With You at our helm, the week will find its end more in tune with Your loving will for our communities, for this state, and for this nation. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Samantha Jolly, Erin Baldwin, Leslie Russell, Jamie Russell, Tara Williams, David Spencer, Hunter Hendricks and Joseph Baldwin.

The Journal of the forty-eighth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTIETH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father David Buescher.

The Hebrew Scriptures say, "Holiness befits Your House, O Lord, for length of days."

Please, God, may those words echo true in this House. We don't need the pious kind of holiness which looks clean and sanitary, but the deep holiness of men and women pursuing life, health, happiness, and wholeness for the citizens of this state.

On these walls are personified the virtues which make for that wholeness. May those virtues form and inform this day's decisions and the souls of these representatives. So may it be, God. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jackie Nott, Taressa Cade, Owen Reid, Melle Robinson, Tabitha Burge, Alyssa Kincaid, Carl Knox, Clayton Williams, Daniel Vargas, Kim Kerr, Amanda Balabon, Larry Culbertson, Erin Underwood, Patrick Woods, Megan Mueller, Chris Hilliard, Heather Kitrel, Anthony Lyons, Nichole Fluegge, Sarah Hulse, Mayann Che, Michael Thacker, Doug Wood, Julia Stepp, Natalie Bailey, Amy Ezell, Scott Pummill and Katie Weaver.

The Journal of the forty-ninth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 91st GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTY-FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Rudy Beard.

Gracious God: When we are perplexed, but must do something, help us not only to ask “Will it work?”, but also to ask “Is it right?”. Bless these men and women of the House, and those who support them. Protect them from asking the wrong questions as they govern our state. Keep them supportive of life and sensitive to the most needy among us.

May they know that You are near and if they will listen they will find Your gracious guidance. Help us to wait upon You; and to You be glory and honor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and passed SS SJR 9, entitled:

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing sections 31, 32(a) and 32(b) of article VI of the Constitution of Missouri relating to the city of St. Louis, and adopting four new sections in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 23, entitled:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 23

WHEREAS, the current crisis in the domestic steel industry which began in 1997 has led fourteen steel companies to file for bankruptcy, and now led to the bankruptcy of GS Industries and the announced closure of GST Steel in Kansas City which will cause job losses at GST and for vendors around the state resulting in hardship in those communities across the state of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, this crisis has been generated by surges in United States imports of steel, both from countries whose currencies have depreciated and from steel producing countries that are no longer able to export steel to the countries in economic crisis; and

WHEREAS, foreign government trade restrictions and private restraints of trade distort international trade and investment patterns and result in burdens on United States commerce, including absorption of a disproportionate share of diverted steel trade, which ultimately have a detrimental effect on this state's economy; and

WHEREAS, there is a well-recognized need for improvements in the enforcement of United States trade laws to provide an effective response to these situations:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-First General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby requests the President of the United States to commence immediate action to determine the entry into the customs territory of the United States of all steel products that are the product of or manufactured in Australia, China, South Africa, Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Indonesia, India, Japan, Russia, South Korea, Mexico or Brazil to determine whether the governments of those countries are abiding by the spirit and letter of international trade agreements with respect to imports of steel products into the United States, and take all actions necessary to enforce applicable trade agreements and laws of the United States pertaining to steel imports; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly requests the President of the United States to immediately impose a one-year ban on imports of all steel products of or are manufactured in Australia, China, South Africa, Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Indonesia, India, Japan, Russia, South Korea, Mexico or Brazil if the President finds that the governments of those countries are not abiding by the spirit and letter of international trade agreements with respect to imports of steel products into the United States; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States and the members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 27, entitled:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 27

WHEREAS, it is in the best interest of the State of Missouri, as an employer, to recruit and retain a high performance workforce; and

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri has established a benefits policy that encourages employees to continue in state employment with a career goal of 30 years of state service; and

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri has adopted specific benefit incentives associated with achieving this objective, which include:

- a) Creating a comprehensive benefits package that is externally competitive with the marketplace, and that is internally equitable;

- b) Implementing a benefits package that provides employees with options for meeting their individual and family needs, and yet assures that basic levels of health care coverage will be maintained;
- c) Ensuring equitable employer contributions for health care coverage for all state employees, retirees and dependents that assures high quality care in a cost-effective manner; and
- d) Allowing career state employees to maintain a reasonable standard of living at retirement; and

WHEREAS, achieving benefit equity and adequacy in the retiree health care area necessitates a subsidy which is dependent upon the length of state service rendered by former employees; and

WHEREAS, such state subsidy for retiree medical coverage would ensure that quality health care services are available to both the highest and lowest paid former employees:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Missouri Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the State of Missouri hereby wishes to reward employees who make a career of state service through equitable retiree health care subsidies; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that, within the constraints of the available appropriations, the state contribution for medical coverage for retirees should be based upon a formula that has a direct relationship between the amount of the state subsidy and each retiree's length of service with the state, provided that any subsidy for retiree dependent coverage should be based upon a similar formula, but should not exceed the average state subsidy provided for dependents of active employees; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that former state employees who retired prior to the effective date of this policy may receive a state subsidy, depending on Medicare eligibility and available appropriations, of no less than the dollar amount subsidy resulting from the amount appropriated to the plan for calendar year 2001; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is recommended that the health care coverage for state retirees be based upon a service-based subsidy rate formula subject to available appropriations and is consistent with the goals that are established in the state's retirement plans.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and passed SS SCS SB 48, entitled:

17. The commission shall give public notice of a request for qualifications in at least two public newspapers that are distributed wholly or in part in this state and at least one construction industry trade publication that is distributed nationally.

18. The commission shall publish its cost estimates of the design-build highway project award and the project completion date along with its public notice of a request for qualifications of the design-build project.

"304.010. 1. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

(1) "Expressway", a divided highway of at least ten miles in length with four or more lanes which is not part of the federal interstate system of highways which has crossovers or accesses from streets, roads or other highways at the same grade level as such divided highway;

(2) "Freeway", a limited access divided highway of at least ten miles in length with four or more lanes which is not part of the federal interstate system of highways which does not have any crossovers or accesses from streets, roads or other highways at the same grade level as such divided highway within such ten miles of divided highway;

4. The commission may declare any ordinance void if it finds that such ordinance is:

- (2) Primarily designed to produce revenue for the city, town or village which enacted such ordinance. If an ordinance is declared void, the city, town or village shall have any future proposed ordinance approved by the highways and transportation commission before such ordinance may take effect.

5. The county commission of any county of the second, third or fourth classification may set the speed limit or the weight limit or both the speed limit and the weight limit on roads or bridges on any county, township or road district road in the county and, with the approval of the state highways and transportation commission, on any state road or highway not within the limits of any incorporated city, town or village, lower than the uniform maximum speed limit as provided in subsection 2 of this section where the condition of the road or the nature of the area requires a lower speed. The commission shall send copies of any order establishing a speed limit or weight limit on roads and bridges on a county, township or road district road in the county to the chief engineer of the state department of transportation, the superintendent of the state highway patrol and to any township or road district maintaining roads in the county. FIFTY-THIRD DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 9, 2001

Speaker Kreider in the Chair.

Bless our deliberations with growth and fruition. Watered with Your concern for us and fertilized by our concern for each other, this day will be another step toward the harvest of justice and peace You know is our goal. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.
